Letter from the EDITOR

Welcome to our first bi-annual Australian issue! Putting together this issue was one of the great experiences we have had so far here at Kandy. Let's be honest, it is pretty ignorant for an American magazine to publish a collection of top 10 lists of Australian sports, entertainment, women, nightlife, and travel. What we know about Australia is limited to the exports the amazing people of Australia share with us. But, boy do we love your exports! Keep them coming like this issue's cover model Emily Sears. She is making big things happen stateside.

We did our very best at offering up our view of the top movie stars, movies, musicians, beaches, party towns. We realize our lists are wide open to criticism and we say, Fire Away! Tell us where we went astray. Give us the insight only Aussie's can provide and we promise we'll make the dedication to Australia that much better the next time around. Although, we feel pretty safe in declaring AC / DC the greatest band ever to come out of Australia. We're not so comfortable with Gotye at number 10 on that same list. But, he's hot in America right now; number 1 on the charts with over 4 million downloads, so we gave him a spot.

Back home in America, DJ E-Rock is a rising nightlife star and we take a firsthand look at his career as well as spotlight some upcoming movies and video games.

But this issue is about Australia, so our special edition is completed by uncovering YOUR women who have graced the pages of men's magazines Zoo Weekly, RALPH and FHM, and others. Your American cousins are extremely thankful for your generosity by sharing these stunning women with us.

With one final swig of VB, we say to all our new fans out there –
“Cheers, Big Ears”!

E-Rock

“It’s not often that you encounter a DJ (E-ROCK) that can alter the game.”

*Chris Kasteler
Director of Operations - Roxbury*

SLIDE OR PULL TAB UP TO READ

For half his young life Eric Nagrampa better known by his stage name DJ E-Rock has been performing for the masses. He made his debut on San Francisco radio at the age of 15 and today, at the age of 30, he continues to rock the Bay area airwaves with the "12 mix" every weekday at Noon on 99.7 NOW!

"We try to be a breath of fresh air for Bay area radio, from the music we play to the DJs we book," DJ E-Rock says.

He has rocked the turntables for athletes and celebrities alike including C.C. Sabathia, Barry Bonds, Jamie Foxx, Lil Jon, Travis Barker and Tommy Lee.

When DJ E-Rock hits for the cycle it is considerably different than that of his beloved Giant ballplayers. Instead of patrolling the splendor green outfield of AT&T Park, DJ E-Rock covers the nightlife scenes of San Francisco, Los Angeles, Las Vegas and San Diego with his crowd pleasing sets.

If you find yourself in Las Vegas on a Saturday night and happen to wind up at Haze Nightclub on the strip, the Saturday Night Resident DJ E-Rock will be there to rock your night. Passing through Hollywood? E-Rock's monthly residency at the Roxbury might be the call if you drop in on the right night.

He has been spinning there since February with no end in sight. Find yourself a little further down the California coast, say San Diego? You might just bump into DJERock in the Gaslamp at 207 @ Hard Rock San Diego, Fluxx, or Stingaree. But, then again, there is nothing like home field advantage and, when he is spinning in his hometown of San Francisco, you'll most likely find him at Infusion Lounge, San Francisco's hottest nightclub.

If the Giants happen to be in town when you visit and it's a Friday night, you might get lucky and catch DJ E-Rock spinning at the game.

Follow the career of DJ E-Rock online at:

www.djerockonline.com

CLOSE QUARTERS

In Battlefield 3: Close Quarters, players are dropped into a frantic, infantry-only theatre of war. Frostbite 2 high definition destruction makes the environment come alive as everything from furniture to plaster gets shot to pieces. Players feel the intensity of the world exploding around them as rubble and broken pieces pile up on the floor. Battlefield 3: Close Quarters also introduces new weapons, assignments and unique dog tags to bring back to the base game.

Patrick Bach, Executive Producer, Battlefield 3 said, "Instead of delivering piecemeal map packs, we're giving players a completely new experience with every themed expansion pack to keep the action fresh. Our expansions are designed to excite our large and active fan base while attracting new recruits with gameplay that is dynamic and unpredictable every time."

 Rating: Mature 17+
 Available On: Xbox 360®,
 PlayStation®3, and PC

P R O M E T H E U S

Release Date: June 8th

Rated: R

Starring: Charlize Theron, Guy Pearce, Michael Fassbender, Noomi Rapace, Logan Marshall-Green

Director: Ridley Scott

Written By: Jon Spaihts and Damon Lindelof

Studio: 20th Century Fox

Genre: Action, Drama, Horror, Sci-fi

Kandy Recommendation: Cable

Wow, talk about a cloak of secrecy around a film. Normally, studios release in advance production notes and a synopsis to the media so as to provide insight into the film. None of that has been provided with Prometheus. Here is what we know; the script was originally a prequel to Alien, many variations ago. Other than that, we know very little about this film except the crew of the vessel Prometheus is sent on a scientific expedition to explore the origins of mankind based on a star map. The map leads them to a distant world where they discover a threat that could threaten humanity's existence. Sounds like Alien to us, straight down to the android, just updated for the 21st Century.

MEATBALLS

Rated: PG

Genre: Comedy

Cast: Bill Murray, Harvey Atkin, Kate Lynch, Russ Banham, and Chris Makepeace

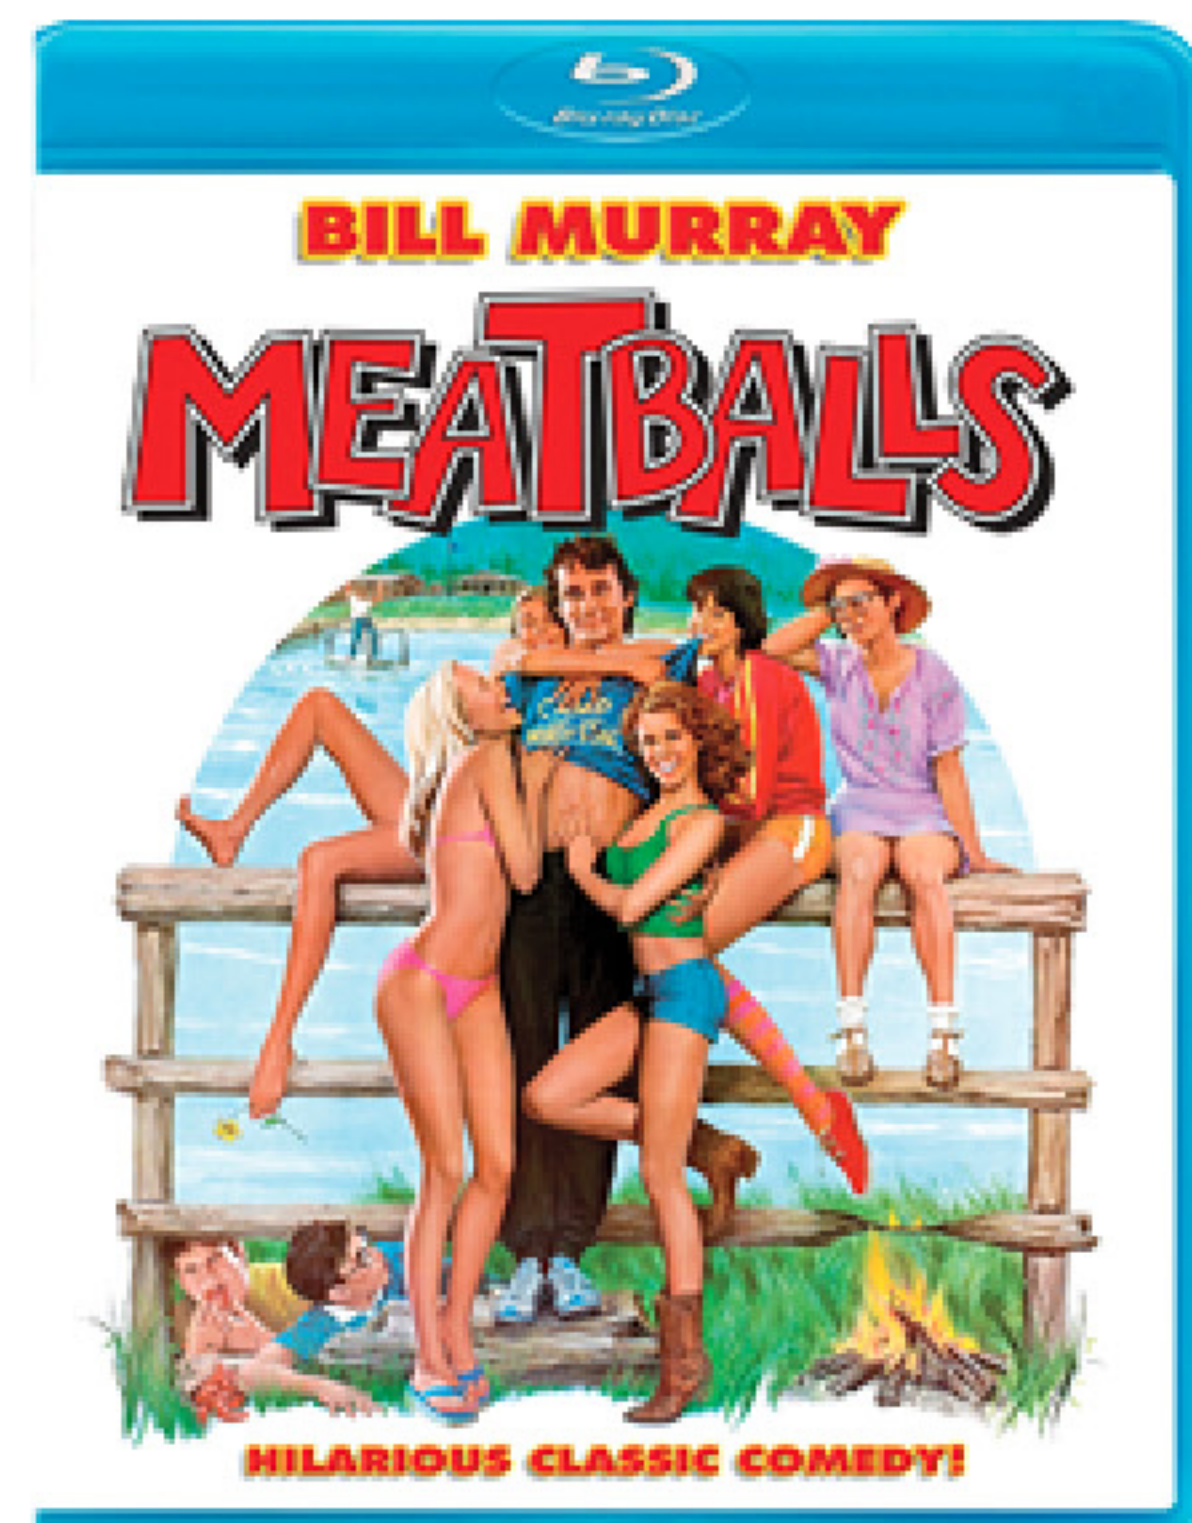

Director: Ivan Reitman

Distributor: Lionsgate

Type: Blu-ray Disc, Digital Download and On Demand

Release Date: June 12th

Original Year of Production: 1979

Pack up and head to Camp North Star this summer, Tripper (Murray) is about to have a summer he will never forget. As head counselor at Camp North Star, an off-the-wall summer getaway, Tripper guides his loveable campers and spirited staff members on a quest for fun in the sun. But when the season begins with a runaway camper, an accidental blackout and Tripper's amorous attack on a female counselor, everyone knows that the tales by the fireside will only get more outrageous as the summer goes on. A great memory of what summers were like before Facebook, XBOX, and helmet laws.

TOP 10 AUSSIE MOVIES

The Road Warrior (Mad Max 2)

Rated: R

Released: 1981

Starring: Mel Gibson, Bruce Spence and Michael Preston

Box Office: US - $23.7 Million, AU - $10.8 Mil

Hollywood has tried to duplicate this epic film countless times but none have come close. This is truly a masterpiece that stands alone as one of a kind.

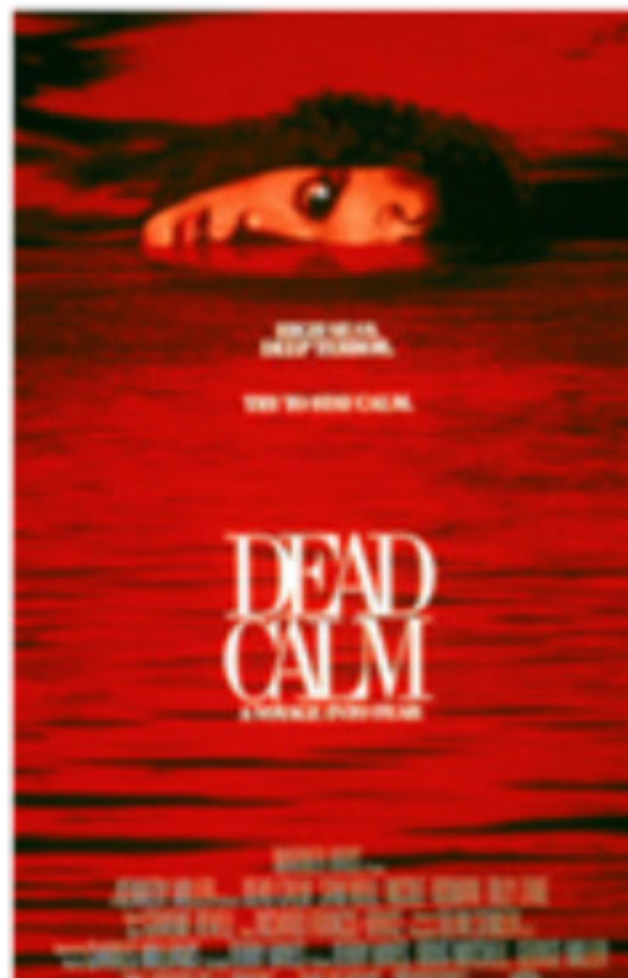

Dead Calm

Rated: R

Released: 1989

Starring: Nicole Kidman, Sam Neill & Billy Zane

Box Office: US - $7.8 Mil, AU - $2.4 Mil

One of our all-time favorite psycho thriller films, Billy Zane is masterful as the villain and Nicole Kidman delivers a performance that can only be described as "excellent".

Gallipoli

Rated: PG

Released: 1981

Starring: Mel Gibson, Mark Lee & Bill Kerr

Box Office: AU - $11.7 Mil

Often referred to as the number one Australian film of all-time, Gallipoli, in conjunction with The Road Warrior, launched the superstar career of Mel Gibson.

Mad Max

Rated: R

Released: 1979

Australia

Rated: PG-13

Released: 2008

Starring: Nicole Kidman, Hugh Jackman

Box Office: Worldwide - $211 Mil

Did you know that Nicole Kidman saved Hugh Jackman's life on the set of this movie? In one of the scenes, a poisonous scorpion was crawling up Hugh's leg, unbeknownst to him. Nicole noticed the scorpion, told Hugh not to move, scooped the spider off Hugh's leg, and carefully disposed of it.

The Castle

Rated: R

Released: 1997

Starring: Michael Caton, Anne Tenney, Stephen Curry, Sophie Lee, Eric Bana and Charles 'Bud' Tingwell

Box Office: AU - $10.3 Mil

The lone comedy on our list of top Australian films, The Castle was Eric Bana's first film and produced with a budget of A$19,100.

Romper Stomper

Rated: R

Released: 1992

Starring: Russell Crowe, Daniel Pollock and Jacqueline McKenzie

Box Office: AU - $3.1 Million

One of the most controversial Australian films for its content and subject matter, the film was not well-received by an American audience but won several industry awards back home in Australia.

TOP 10 AUSTRALIAN PARTY TOWNS

Party on! We've done all the work for you to plan your party tour of Australia. Follow each of the Kandy recommendations and you might just wind up in New Zealand, surrounded by sheep, half-dressed and wondering why you have an eye patch.

THE TOP 10 : SLIDE & PULL TAB UP TO READ

- 1 St. Kilda
Filled with bars, pubs and clubs St. Kilda has something for everyone's taste and is our number 1 party town. Check out Cushion Lounge, 29th Apartment, Esplanade Hotel, and Big Mouth Lounge Bar.
- 2 Sydney
Bondi, Kings Cross, Newtown and Surry Hills are the communities in Sydney known for their party scene. Bondi tops our list of Sydney locales for partying. Local favorites include The Crossing, Rum Diaries, Flying Squirrels, and Mocean.
- 3 Fortitude Valley
Within the confines of Brisbane, Fortitude Valley has a pumping party scene with ultra-chic clubs. There are numerous places to give you a break from the backpacking hangouts and local watering holes. For starters, check out The Met, a lavish nightclub with three levels and five bars. Other popular clubs include Alhambra, Bank/Vault Bar, and Fringe Bar.
- 4 Darwin
How's this for a title, "Australia's Beer Drinking Capital"? They say you can't go wrong with Mitchell Street which is home to the most pubs and clubs. Kandy says check out Melaleuca, The Vic Hotel, Monsoon's, Lizard Bar and Ducks Nuts (we just like the name). Mitchell Street sounds a lot like Duvall Street in Key West, Florida.
- 5 Broadbeach
Looking for a diverse nightlife scene? This could be your place, hopping with piano lounges, nightclubs, bars, and even a casino. Make sure you check out Howl at the Moon, Lil Sister, Platinum Nightclub, and Broadbeach Tavern.
- 6 Northbridge, Perth
Rumor has it that Perth has the best live music scene in Australia. Okay, who are we to argue? We're Yanks! But, for the best local nightlife we hear to troll over to Northbridge and check out The Brass Monkey, The Shed, The Deen and The Mustang Bar.
- 7 Surfers Paradise
A must on any party list, Surfers' offers endless options. We say check out Drink Nightclub, Back To The Clock, and Shooters.
- 8 Cairns, Queensland
A surprise entry to our list but we hear the place is rowdy. Test your limits by throwing them back at Shenanigans, Gilligans, and PJ O'Briens.
- 9 Airlie Beach
If you are backpacking your way through Australia then Airlie Beach is already on your list. And from what we hear it is a backpacker's party paradise. Favorite drinking spots include Morocco's, Mama Africa's Nightclub, and Beaches.
- 10 Fitzroy
So a friend of a friend told us about this party scene with a grungy feel to it. Then we thought we heard about it on the radio but then we realized the place he told

PULL TAB UP TO READ

Where are you originally from?

I am from Melbourne, Australia.

What US city would you compare it to?

It's really unlike anywhere in the USA that I have been to, although I have heard that it is similar to Chicago. Melbourne has tram cars like San Francisco ... so I felt at home there!

What has been your best experience so far since coming to the US?

I have had so many amazing experiences so far that I can't even count, and it's just the beginning! Everything from going to Lakers and Chargers games, hanging out on Super Bowl Sunday, seeing the Statue of Liberty, road trip to the Grand Canyon. There are so many amazing experiences to be had in the USA! Then there are the work experiences such as working with Snoop Dogg, front row at the Jay-Z / Kanye West concert, a campaign for NAVEN which has a huge celebrity following, and meeting Hugh Hefner and Pamela Anderson at the Playboy mansion.

There are so many crazy experiences I have had here! I have met a ton of celebrities through work which is fun, but standard when you live in LA. Outside of work, I have met a few people in America who have changed my life and those are the people who make my experiences here unforgettable. There are too many experiences to pick one that has been the best, but the best people know who they are.

When friends visit from Australia, where is the one place they want to go?

Everyone wants to go to Disneyland, because it's the happiest place on Earth! We don't have a Disneyland in Australia so everyone gets to fulfill their childhood dreams when they first go to Disneyland. I love getting to be the one to take my friends for their first time, because I know they will never forget it.

What is the Aussie view of America (leave our dumb politicians out of it)?

A lot of mainstream television dramas are exported from USA to the rest of the world so a common misconception is that it is like what you see in the movies. There are certainly times where I think to myself "this is just like the movies" but, in all honesty, it is so much more.

Do you have the acting bug?

I enjoy acting as a break from print modeling. I have appeared in a number of TV commercials and music videos. As far as theatre or feature films go, I'm not sure I have the patience or passion for acting enough that I could dedicate a year of my life to a project like a feature film. I have so much respect for actors who truly love their craft and are passionate enough to work hard at it. It's a tough industry to break into.

“ ... strength of character, ethics, morals & conviction is far sexier to me.

How did you get your start in modeling?

I started modeling about 4 years ago just on a whim. I thought to myself that I would love to be on the cover of a magazine so I did some research as to who were the best people to shoot with in Australia. Luckily, when I contacted them, they took me on and that shoot sold as my first cover. My great aunt was 1956 Australian model of the year and was discovered by Helmut Newton, so the idea of being a pin up had always appealed to me. I want my grandkids to look at my photos when I am old and say, "Wow! Grandma was hot!" Just like I did with my great aunt.

“... I think to myself this is just like the movies” but, in all honesty, it is so much more.”

How many covers have you been on in Australia?

I have had 14 covers in Australia so far, with more upcoming.

What was your most unusual photo shoot ever?

I did a shoot for ZOO WEEKLY AUSTRALIA where we recreated famous sporting moments in history. The scene we recreated was of a famous rugby match where the players were soaked in mud. I had to stand in the middle of the studio while makeup artists emptied an entire bucket of cold mud on my head. It was horrible but the pictures looked great so it was worth it!

So, we could not help but notice that you have a few tattoos. What are they and any special meaning?

Yes, I have a few small discreet tattoos which all have personal significance to me. The most noticeable one is the Alice in Wonderland illustration on my wrist. The illustration is from my favorite chapter in the book and is a reference to a passage in that chapter which is of great significance to me.

Alice had some wild travels. Where is your favorite place in the world?

Paris, Barcelona and Japan during cherry blossom season.

Where is the one place in the world that you want to visit?

There are so many places I want to see. The more you travel, the more you realize what you haven't seen! I still need to get to India, Greece, Italy and Brazil!

Where would you say are the nicest people in the world?

Australian people are honestly the nicest people in the world. I may be biased but I love being Aussie and am proud to come from a nation of people who always back the underdog and always look out for their mates in a genuine, down to earth and practical way.

Australia is known for its surfing. Do you surf?

I used to surf when I was younger but it has been a long time so I am sure I am a little rusty. I love being in LA because there is still that surf culture that I grew up with in Australia. ... I will have to go down to Malibu and take some refresher lessons!

Let's mix it up a bit. Who would you say can drink more: Aussie women or American men?

I'd have to say American men, only because the drinks are a lot stronger here. Also, I am a lady so I don't like to get too messy when I am out. I can have a few drinks and let my hair down, but you won't ever see me walking barefoot and carrying my heels, got to keep it classy!

Is beer served warm or cold in Australia?

In Australia, the weather is hot and the beers are cold.

American's love their fast food and pizza. What do Aussie's love?

Aussies love meat pies, it's football food. We have Australian Rules football which is very different to American football. At the stadium we eat pies that are filled with mince meat, it might sound gross but every American I have met who has tried one loved it! We also love Vegemite sandwiches and Tim Tams, which are an amazing chocolate cookie.

What is the #1 sport in Australia?

Australian Rules football and cricket are the biggest, and rugby and soccer are also popular.

Do Aussie's enjoy American sports such as football and baseball?

Aussies are sports fanatics and can usually get into any sports; out of all the American sports, I'd say that basketball is the most popular. American football is very hard for Australians to follow because of the constant stopping and starting in the game. It makes it hard to follow because Australian Rules football is continuous. Also, Aussie footballers don't wear any safety equipment, just shorts and a tank top, and the game is full contact! The players punch each other on the field!

So, are you saying Aussie men are tougher than American men?

This is really difficult to answer, because they are both so different. I would have to say Australian men are tougher on the exterior because it's not really in Australian culture to complain or express feelings. However, sometimes the strongest thing you can do is tell someone how you feel so it's a matter of perspective as to who is "tougher." I'd definitely say that American men tend to take a more traditional role in relationships with women here. Australian men seem to look at relationships from a more equal perspective; there are pros and cons to both.

Care to elaborate on dating differences?

American men are a lot more forward when they are pursuing a woman. Aussie men don't really have "game", they are more down to earth in that respect and dating over there is a lot more casual. It is nice to be wined and dined but I think Australian men might not have all the fancy dinners laid out to catch you. But, in Australia, your word means everything so you can count on an Australian man's word, it's his reputation!

But, in Australia, your word means everything so you can count on an Australian man's word, it's his reputation!

What qualities do you personally look for in a guy?

In men, I am attracted to strength, it may be physical strength which is nice but these days strength of character, ethics, morals and conviction is far sexier to me.

How is dating in LA different than back home?

Dating here is a lot more formal, and in Australia I feel it is a lot more genuine. There is too much wining, dining and shopping involved here-to where it is hard to establish a connection that exists outside the fantasy land and works in reality. I prefer to get along with someone who I am comfortable being myself with than to play the part in fancy dates and bottle service.

What's your best first date ever?

The best first dates involve good conversation and should naturally flow from the connection between you and your date in the first place.

Worse date ever?

The ultimate turn off on a date is when men are rude to wait staff. It's embarrassing and reveals a lot about a man's insecurities if he has to pick on wait staff to make himself feel important. A real man should aim to make everyone in the room feel good about themselves, and then his date will feel good about herself for getting to be the one on a date with him!

“...be comfortable in your own skin and accept who you are.”

“... the best kiss I have ever had was between an American man and an Australian woman ...”

When a guy approaches a beautiful woman such as you, what is the one thing he should notice before he opens his mouth?

That I am a person.

How would you compare Aussie women and American women?

Australian women are very easy going and not as competitive. It's hard to answer questions like these without getting too deep but I think that part of being Australian is to be comfortable in your own skin and accept who you are. American women are very driven which is a great thing, however the byproduct of that can be a lot of unhealthy comparisons and competing. When we compare ourselves to others we only stress ourselves out because we are aiming for an unattainable benchmark.

I think it's best when you are your own yardstick and measure your success in terms of your own goals and pace. Materialistic goals and achievements are nice, but don't fulfill us in the long run. I think Australian women are comfortable in their own skin and not afraid to stand up for themselves ... we are just a little more laid back.

Okay, fair enough. Settle this inner office bet between a couple interns then. Who are better kissers, American men or Aussie women?

In my experience, the best kiss I have ever had was between an American man and an Australian woman, so I will leave it at that!

A U S S I E B A N D S / S I N G E R S

OF ALL THE TOP 10 LISTS WE COMPILED THIS WAS THE MOST DIFFICULT TO WHITTLE DOWN TO 10 AND THEN RANK THEM. THERE ARE MANY DESERVING ARTISTS ON THIS PAGE. WE BELIEVE THIS LIST IS A GOOD MIX OF MUSIC INFLUENCES, POP HITS, AND LOCAL FAVORITES.

1. AC/DC

Genre: Heavy Rock
Worldwide Album Sales:
200,000,000
Top Selling Album:
Back in Black (1980)
Website: www.acdc.com

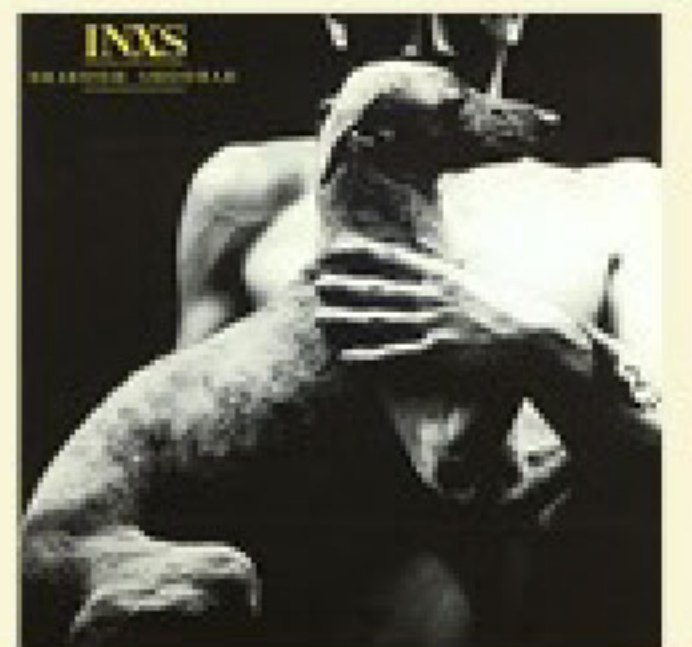

No disputing the greatest rock and roll band to ever come out of Australia that formed way back in 1973. Back in Black (1980) is the number two all-time selling album with 49 million units sold. Only Michael Jackson's Thriller (1982) has sold more copies. AC / DC was inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame on March 10th, 2003.

2. INXS

Genre: Rock
Worldwide Album Sales:
30,000,000
Top Selling Album:
KICK (1987)
Website: www.inxs.com

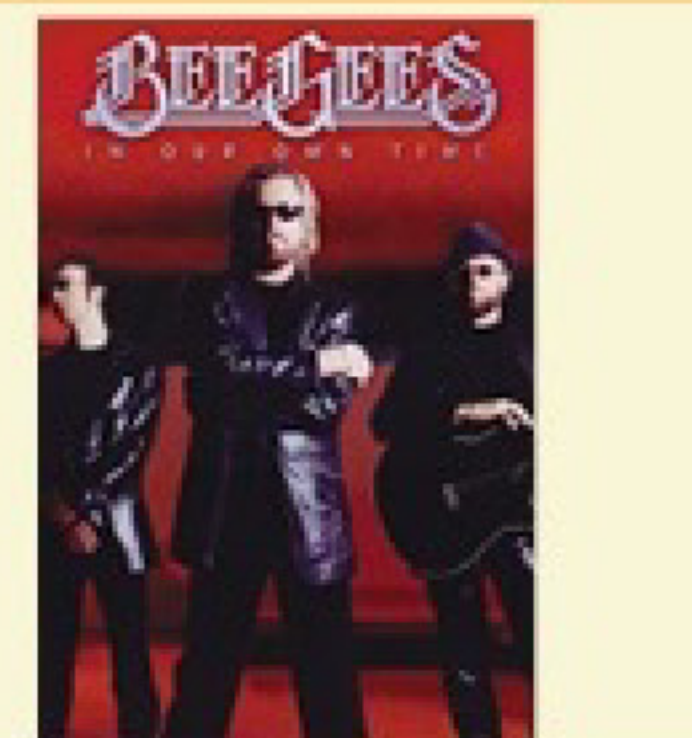

A distant second, possibly third, depending on whose list, INXS string of hit albums is second to none in Australian rock history – Shabooh Shoobah, The Swing, Listen Like Thieves, KICK, X, Welcome to Wherever You Are, and Elegantly Wasted.

3. Bee Gees

Genre: Pop
Worldwide Album Sales: Est.
220,000,000
Top Selling Album: Saturday Night
Fever Soundtrack (1977) / Spirits
Having Flown (1979)
Website: www.beegees.com

The Brothers Gibbs (Robin, Maurice and Barry) are now the Brother Gibb with the recent passing of Robin but their music had a tremendous influence on US nightlife in the 70's. They are forever linked with a decade defining movie and soundtrack, Saturday Night Fever. They were inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame in 1997.

4. Keith Urban

Genre: Country
#1 Singles in US: 14
Top Selling Album: Be Here
Twitter @keithurban

The lone country singer on our list he has racked up an impressive list of chart top-pers, along the way snaring the ultra talented Nicole Kidman.

5. Silverchair

Genre: Alternative
 Origin: Newcastle, New South Wales
 Top Selling Album: Frogstomp
 Website: www.chairpage.com

The band has won a record 21 ARIA Music Awards and sold in excess of 6 million albums. In Australia, the band had five consecutive albums debut at number one, surpassing two of the country's other biggest acts, Midnight Oil and INXS.

6. Powderfinger

Genre:
 Rock / Alternative Rock
 Origin: Brisbane
 Top Selling Album:
 Odyssey Number Five
 Website: www.powderfinger.com

They are the second most decorated Australian band behind Silverchair, with 18 ARIA Music Awards and nearly 2 million album sales. It is a shame this band never found a US audience. Their music is very captivating. Give it a listen. You won't regret it.

7. The Church

Genre: New Wave
 Origin: Sydney
 Top Selling Album: Starfish
 Website: www.thechurchband.com

A collegiate cult following in the early 80's in the US provided the band with its greatest US success. In 2010, they were inducted into the ARIA Hall of Fame.

8. The Vines

Genre: Alternative Rock
 Origin: Sydney
 Top Selling Album:
 Highly Evolved
 Website: www.thevines.com

This Nirvana cover band went on to commercial success in their native homeland; British media hailed them as the second coming of Nirvana after the release of their debut album, Highly Evolved.

9. Hoodoo Gu-

Origin: Sydney
 Genre: New Wave
 Top Selling Album:
 Electric Soup
 Website: www.hoodoogurus.net

Iconic Australian rock legends, the band was inducted into the ARIA Hall of Fame in 2007. Their fame peaked in the US in the mid 80's on the US college rock circuit.

10. Gotye

Genre: Pop
 Single: Somebody I Use To Know has sold 4 million copies and counting
 Top Selling Album: Making Mirrors
 Twitter @gotye

Six consecutive weeks at number one on the US Billboard pop charts will land you on a top 10 list. For a full review of Gotye pick up issue 4 of Kandy magazine.

Kandy Girl Recipe

Name: Rebecca Witchard

Hometown: Gunnedah, New South Wales
(Koala Capital of the World)

Resides: San Diego, CA

Measurements: 34C-24-35

Height: 5'4" Weight: 110 LBS

Hair: Blonde Eyes: Brown

Rebecca's Kandy Ingredients

She has a twin.

She has a pre-law degree, seems to be a trend with Kandy girls – models with law degrees.

She's a vegetarian.

If you want to know what it really is like in the Australian outback, ask Rebecca. She was born and raised in the outback.

Growing up, Kangaroos and koalas often roamed around her school and town.

A koala knocked itself unconscious in her backyard after it tried to run through the glass door of her home.

She enjoyed the Bohemian lifestyle during her years in Byron Bay.

Where you've seen her – Zoo Weekly, Ironman Magazine, Ralph, Australian Surfing Life, Inside Sport

Where you'll see her next – hopefully in a future twins issue of Kandy with her twin Lara.

I absolutely love Hip Hop, Rap and R&B music and anything to shake my ass too! I have booty shaking moves that would put Shakira out of business! I am definitely a party animal and always down to have a good time rain, sleet or snow!
