20 QUESTIONS

Get To Know Your Cover Model

Crystal Mantecón, a native of Dallas, Texas attended High School for the Performing and Visual Arts as a Vocal Major. There she won awards at Jazz festivals across the country, and performed locally in plays, including the internally complex lead role in the acclaimed play Why We Have a Body written by Claire Chafee. A strong command of her craft coupled with a unique beauty that comes from her Mexican and Cuban ancestry got a local talent agent's attention. Her talent and diverse look gifted her opportunities to work with many Oscar Nominated actors, with projects in the works her star is rising at a fast pace with no signs of letting up.

1. What's your Ethnicity?

2. What's your sign?

Capricorn Sun, Libra Rising

3. Where are you from?

Dallas, TX

4. What did you like most about growing up in Houston?

It's home. It has all the best aspects of being a big city, but in some ways it feels like a small town. People are neighborly and friendly. Plus, everything IS bigger in Texas. I jest. ;-)

5. What kind of mischief did you do while growing up?

Mischief? Ha Ha! Wouldn't you like to know?!

6. What's the craziest thing you've ever done?

I'm just crazy. Nuff said.

7. What brought you to LA?

I can try to explain what prompted me to move to Los Angeles, but the truth is that it just happened when the time was right. Doors were opening in my career as an actress, and I walked through.

8. What's your favorite hobby and why?

I have many hobbies, and keep picking up more as I go. I'm a crafts junkie, I think. I always keep going back to jewelry making though so maybe that's my favorite. I'm very fond of my jewelry pieces. I get lost in creating something tangible... something to contribute both functionally and aesthetically.

9. What's your guilty pleasure?

Dark chocolate.

10. Who do you admire?

Meryl Streep & Paul Newman

11. What's one of your personal goals?

To buy my mother a house.

12. What do guys compliment you on the most?

My smile. ;-D

13. What's your favorite body part on yourself?

Clavical.

The interior of the Reventón is like no other. Its suede and leather seats are designed for the utmost comfort with all your major electronics within arms reach. It's also equipped with a push button start for those times when fumbling for your keys is not an option. You'll be glued to the seat and amazed by the performance of this rare beast.

EXTERIOR:

With a total of only 20 produced worldwide it shouldn't be hard to pick this one out of a line-up. Designed to resemble the likes of a fighter jet with choppy lines, smooth curves and new paint created specifically for the Reventón, a mid opaque green/gray without its usual shine, commands attention. Lets just hope the attention doesn't come equipped with flashing red and blue lights.

ENGINE:

It's named after a famous fighting bull with a reputation of killing the famed bullfighter Felix Guzman in 1943.

The Binges Rock Hard With Self-Titled Debut Album.

“You wanna help me? You wanna heal me? You wanna kill me? Get me out of this place,” shrieks Dylan Squatcho on the desperate “Motorcycle Song,” track 2 of the debut album by The Binges. He doesn’t reveal his whereabouts (no motorcycles are explicitly mentioned) but you’re compelled to want to help the guy out. The lead singer of the Los Angeles-based hard-rock quartet shouts-sings in a way that is simultaneously discomfoting and uniquely persuasive. A vicious yet tuneful ten-song assault, the self-titled debut of The Binges (Label of the Beast) deftly showcases the straightforward, no-nonsense rhythm section of diminutive Japanese sisters Tsuzumi Okai (bass) and Mayuko Okai (guitar), who perform with all the testosterone of a half-crazed hockey team. Aided by drummer Travis “Skanky” Smith, this unlikely duo delivers crunchy, energetic grunge-punk that just happens to be relentlessly catchy. As produced by John Fields, the songs are utterly uncluttered by anything beyond drums/guitar/bass, with Squatcho’s frequently screaming vocals and Mayuko’s searing guitar solos deftly placed front and center. The real magic behind the debut is the impressive array of tightly constructed, immaculately conceived riffs that inhabit rockers like “Wake Up the Devil” and the brilliant album opener, “Hear Me Out,” a heart-pounding fist-pumper that demands your attention in both the literal and lyrical senses.

“Rock Show,” the disc’s closer, is a simple but flawlessly performed love letter to the band’s own music—it’s one that surely must be even more thrilling to hear performed live. If that doesn’t wake the devil, brother, nothing will. RM
