And, finally, what made you want join the GUYS family?

The photographer approached me.

Tell me a bit about you, who's Charlie beneath all the publicity?

I'm a kind loving soul, and I love to care for those who can't care for themselves. I really like helping old people and disabled children because it warms my heart to see that I made a difference in their lives.

There's something really sexy about a woman who's nurturing. How did you realize you loved helping people?

I think it was after I had my daughter, when I realized that as a baby she's helpless without me and she needs me until she grows into her own independent woman. I then realized that there's kids out there that were not born like most other kids out there, but are severely limited with disabilities! So it'd be my dream to be able to help all the kids and people who can't help themselves.

Fair enough! You like helping people. Do you ever like to be helped, yourself?

I love it when a guy takes control and sweeps me off my feet. It's great to be in someone else's hands, but only if I trust them.

ESSENTIAL ITEMS maintaining YOUR WARDROBE!

Hang'em High!

At Bachelor Haus, we know that hangers are an important part of your wardrobe. Here's why. As you advance in your career, you simply need better quality shirts, including collared shirts. Sportcoats, sweaters, and jackets will be added to your wardrobe as well. These quality clothes can be expensive, but if you maintain them, they'll last you a long time, so think of your new quality clothes as an investment. Just like the great furniture sets at www.bachelorhaus.com. Women can easily see the quality in clothes you wear, and the quality of furniture you own, and you want to look your best. These tips will ensure your clothes will always look great on you!

How to Shorten the Life-span of Your Shirts. Don't Do It!

Those hangers from the dry cleaners, although free, are not helping to keep the shape of your shirts but are hurting them. Think about it; your shirts are on hangers for days! Putting them on a cheap hanger will shorten the lifespan of your shirts.

The Modeling Principle—NOT Supermodels!

The modeling principle is this: If you do what someone else does, you will get a similar result. When he was very young, Jack Nicklaus practiced by hitting 200 golf balls a day. That is one of the many reasons why he was so successful. If you hit 200 golf balls a day, you would become pretty good at golf. This is how the modeling principle works. You can model what other people or organizations do to maintain clothes, and you will get the same result.

The most overlooked aspect is properly hanging your shirt. Invest in hangers that department stores use for hanging clothes because they have broad arms, a swivel neck that makes hanging easy, and a trouser bar for hanging your pants. Model how fine department stores hang their clothes and model that. It works for them, so it will work for you. There are even hangers for your belts and ties. If you have several of them, consider investing in a hanger for your belts and ties. Hangers are bachelor pad essentials to ensure your clothes look great on you!

Organization and Attention to Detail

Valet Box: A valet box is an item that is often overlooked by many men; however, it can truly be one of the most important items you can own. That's why it is a bachelor pad must have item every guy needs to own. This is a place to keep your cufflinks, your watch, ring, bracelet, or necklace, and other important items. When you are organized, you can find everything quickly and save time. And when you are organized, it makes a good impression, especially on a female guest. If your stuff is everywhere, that will not impress a woman.

Do the Shoes Make the Man?

As long as men have been wearing shoes, there has been a debate about whether "the shoes make the man." Regardless of where you are in this debate, one thing is certain. Women do recognize what shoes you are wearing and the quality of them.

Shoe trees: You need more than one pair of shoes for work; however, now that you are on your own, you can buy whatever style fits your budget. No matter whether you have a Blue Collar or White Collar job, you will notice that the people higher up in the organization rarely wear the same pair of shoes to work more than a few times a week. This is to allow shoes or boots to breathe and dry out.

Shoe trees, These are a must have item for any bachelor pad for the following reasons. Having shoe trees can extend the life of your shoes 2 – 5 years, depending upon how often you wear them, so they are an investment, but so are a $200 pair of designer shoes. Cedar shoe trees, are a great way to keep the shape of your shoes, absorb sweat, and eliminate foot odor Bachelor Haus recommends Cedar shoe trees to protect your shoe investment.

What Causes Smelly Shoes?

Smelly shoes and boots are caused by bacteria, and they live in warm moist areas. If you don't allow your shoes to dry out, not only will they be smelly but the bacteria living in them will breakdown your shoes more quickly.

There you have it. All of the information you need to make sure the investment you make in your quality clothes and shoes lasts for years! Visit www.bachelorhaus.com to find these essentials for your wardrobe! Our furniture doesn't smell like Swedish meatballs!

And, finally, what made you want join the GUYS family?

I had been following for a long time and always wanted to be apart...I finally inquired about being a For Guys Girl.

My name is Brittney Cosentino. I've lived in Canada my whole life. I'm a country girl at heart, growing up in the countryside with home-made ice rinks and farm animals. I've always sought after the big city and that lifestyle. I'd like to say I've had the best of both worlds. I live just outside Toronto and I am active in the city scene, but retreat to my quiet suburb at the end of the day. I've been in the industry now for the past 10 years and have experienced a lot. I started young and I'm older than most active models now so I've been fortunate to have worked with top brands, designers, photographers and models over the years. The journey hasn't been easy. You learn quickly to hold your own, and if you can't keep up the industry will swallow you alive. That being said, I am forever grateful for the support from my family and friends, because without them I wouldn't have made it to where I am now. A lot of people ask what my background is, and I'm actually Dutch. I come from a large traditional Dutch family, and am the oldest of 5 girls and all my sisters are gorgeous. I'm the only one who decided to take the path of a model. I just enjoy it. When I shoot I feel naturally in my element. I can't imagine my life any differently, the life of a model is a short lived career, so I plan on making the best of every minute of it now while I have the opportunity.

That's hot. What kind of qualities do you look for in the guy you just described?

He's charming and has a great sense of humor. He doesn't take my shit, and he definitely doesn't take no for an answer. And boys, I don't mean a real no, I mean he's persistent when it's obvious I'm interested in him. I tend to forget about guys who aren't persistent. And another thing: life's too short to be taken seriously all the time. Since I don't really have a "type", his looks don't really matter so long as he's well groomed and hygienic. It's all about personality with me!

You mentioned well-groomed. What does that mean to Charlie Riina?

Well, the basics: I like a man who's got enough fashion sense to not wear sweats to a nightclub, but by no means do I expect a guy straight out of GQ magazine. He's also attentive to little details like his hair, facial hair, etc.

Lastly, if I was a single guy at a bar looking to pick you up, what might I say to you?

Well, first of all you won't likely catch me at a bar anytime soon since I don't like to drink. But I suppose if we were at a café, you might simply walk up to me and compliment me on my hair or something I'm wearing (a girl loves a compliment about her hair).

V methanol, fuel, checkered flags, red lights, pile ups, roll overs, do I have your attention? Good! I also have my attention! There's nothing many guys love and live for than motorsports and playing under the hood and if you've continued looking and reading past the photographs and headings, you're one of them. When it comes to Mars and Venus (or men and women) many of us ladies would also agree that motor sports are the bomb!

8S, NASCAR'S, SPRINT CARS, THE SMELL OF GAS,

I've seen so many men driving around in their chick magnets strutting their stuff & picking up tail, good tail, premium quality tail. By tail I obviously mean arse, female arse. I say quality because a quality car to some women means everything. Chances are, if she's blown away by your car, she'll be your best mate when it comes to high powered race cars, motor bikes and any event associated with them. If you fit into the grease monkey, fuel sniffing, car loving category and manage to find yourself (or have yourself) one of these women, your life is obviously set. Permission is granted to attend every possible motorsport event on the planet by your broad & I may be biased but if you're an Aussie guy or planning a trip to Australia there's plenty of events that will have you frothing at the mouth that you can go to and also take that special lass on a date to (we will just call it a date from hereon in for the benefit of women who would be offended if it wasn't, wink wink!).

All year round on Aussie turf I am killing to hit the track. One of my most favoured days of the year is when Bathurst in New South Wales closes their streets and roads and stops the nation with the V8 supercar race of races. This race has always been an event where Holden (go Holden!) and Ford try to take the poll position and kick each other's butts. In more recent times we've also seen the likes of Volvo and Nissan jamming their cars into the race and doing surprisingly (biased again, Ooops!) pretty good.

Bathurst is a multi day event where the tents stand tall, the men and for the greater good of these Alfa males; the women get wild and the booze flows free-

Ricciardello has won the Australian Sports Sedan Championship four times and the National Sports Sedan Series three times. ly; especially when the race is over and the champagne showers start; courtesy of the winner.

For those that would rather a car show its off on a date to the Australian Capital Territory for the Summer Nats & one hell of a wild weekend party! The summer Nats is also an annual event where car enthusiast show their chick magnets off to the country in a spectacular car of cars show! Sound systems beat, engines rev, wheels spin and burn out in all kinds of car show competitions you can think of and women go wild in their skimpy clothes or bikinis (being summer obviously a hot Aussie sun is in full swing) as they throw their choice of alcoholic beverages down their throats. The shining chrome and slick decor is what its all about in the ACT.

Also annually Australians flock to surfers paradise Queensland, again; alike Bathurst to closed off streets where they can watch nascars burn up the concrete and ash felt in the Indy 300. This spectacular race isn't the only thing going down on the beautiful Gold Coast. After a fair share of intoxication from the car fumes the nightclubs and beaches fill to the brim with excited and pumped people of all ages where getting to the finish line is on almost everyone's mind; although, I suppose that's on everyone's mind at every event! Or at least most people's. If your preference is motorcycle racing Phillip Island is the place to go. You can take your own road bike, Harley, or just yourself and there; you can bare witness to the super-bike Grand Pre. This island is South of Melbourne and shows that we've almost covered every state and / or location in Australia when it comes to fuel, rubber, women, parties, long weekend stays and a good time around some beautiful metal work!

Loving my motorsports, toying under the hoods of cars, riding dirt bikes, flying around on race tracks in cars like a lunatic and killing mountains and creeks in my four wheel drive clearly shows I could go on and on about cars and events that are a must attend in the land down under over the next four pages, at least. I won't though, I want you reading and loving my feminine touch to the articles I'm writing for you every month and to leave you begging for more next month so I will finish up with my new love: Sprint Cars & Super Sedans!

Only recently have I been introduced to sprint cars and super sedans. I'm unsure why no one ever told me these existed. These are seemingly the least popular Motorsport in Australia (excluding maybe go karts and mini bikes) if not; my family and friends have kept me sheltered to save me from more fumigation and addiction! I was introduced via the family of Kye Walters, (https:// www.facebook.com/WaltersRacing-Torquay) a junior sedan racer that's pushing the limits almost every week against friends and rivals, seemingly mostly Brock Atkins (https://www. facebook.com/AtkinsRacingTeam). Most popular in Victoria and Tasmania, the following of sprint cars and super sedans is consistent by fans in thousands and on a weekly basis, at least somewhere, some track, some place, some secluded location. These drivers sure don't drive for the prize money, that's for certain. There's simply not enough of it on Aussie turf at these events to be making a good living. That's what has sucked me in. It's all about the passion for the sprint car drivers & super sedan drivers. To them it's clearly about the hobby, the car, the rivalry, the crowd and the trophies. Well; at least that's what I've analysed. On further analysis it seems like it's such a big thing in the USA with the American sprint car series by far the largest sprint car sanctioning body in the world. It may be time for me to stop talking about Motorsport destinations and events in Australia and take my butt to the the USA to see how the masters of sprint car racing play it out over there! That would be the thrill of thrills for any Aussie guy or gal that loves the dirt and the smell of methanol I imagine!

Sprint car racing is now added to my program of yearly (ok, weekly or fortnightly) events and lucky for me I'm now living in Tasmania and just a short flight to Victoria so I can get as much as I can in the most popular States for this awesome Motorsport. I guess I can only sit and hope, watch and wait and beg and plead that more people get involved in this brilliance. Australia flying sprint car wings high on the world map with a large annual event equivalent to Bathurst, Indy 300 and the Summer Nats sure would tickle my fancy, the fancy of your ladies checkered flag loving bottom and likely tickle yours if you ever get the chance to motor it or rev your engines Down Under!
