July 2014

Well July is finally in the books, it's been a struggle with distractions, vacations, and what not, but here it is. We feature two lovely models from Arizona, where bikinis are a just about a year round staple... Liz Helyn, our gorgeous cover model and the delightful Nicole Sue, both shot by Scottsdale Images. We also have another submission from down under.. the lovely Jade, submitted by Fab Models. California is represented by Venus Adams, and Texas model Alexiss Kellar rounds out our model features.

We also sent our staff photographer to the Vintage Bar and Grill on the infamous Mill Ave, Arizona State University's drinking street, two Fridays in a row to cover events... he survived but needed much rest after those excursions.... He covered Romantic Rock Designs fashion and bikini show, and a fellow magazine's Bikini Cover model contest.. Dear Arabella Magazine.

September's issue marks our One Year Anniversary; this will be a special edition, with extra models and features. We have a cover model selected and she has an image in this issue.. but you're going to have to wait to see who it is. This year has been fun, exhilarating, and at times trying, but we made... Total views of all the issues has crossed 500,000 and we just keep going..

Bikini Model

Alexiss Kellar

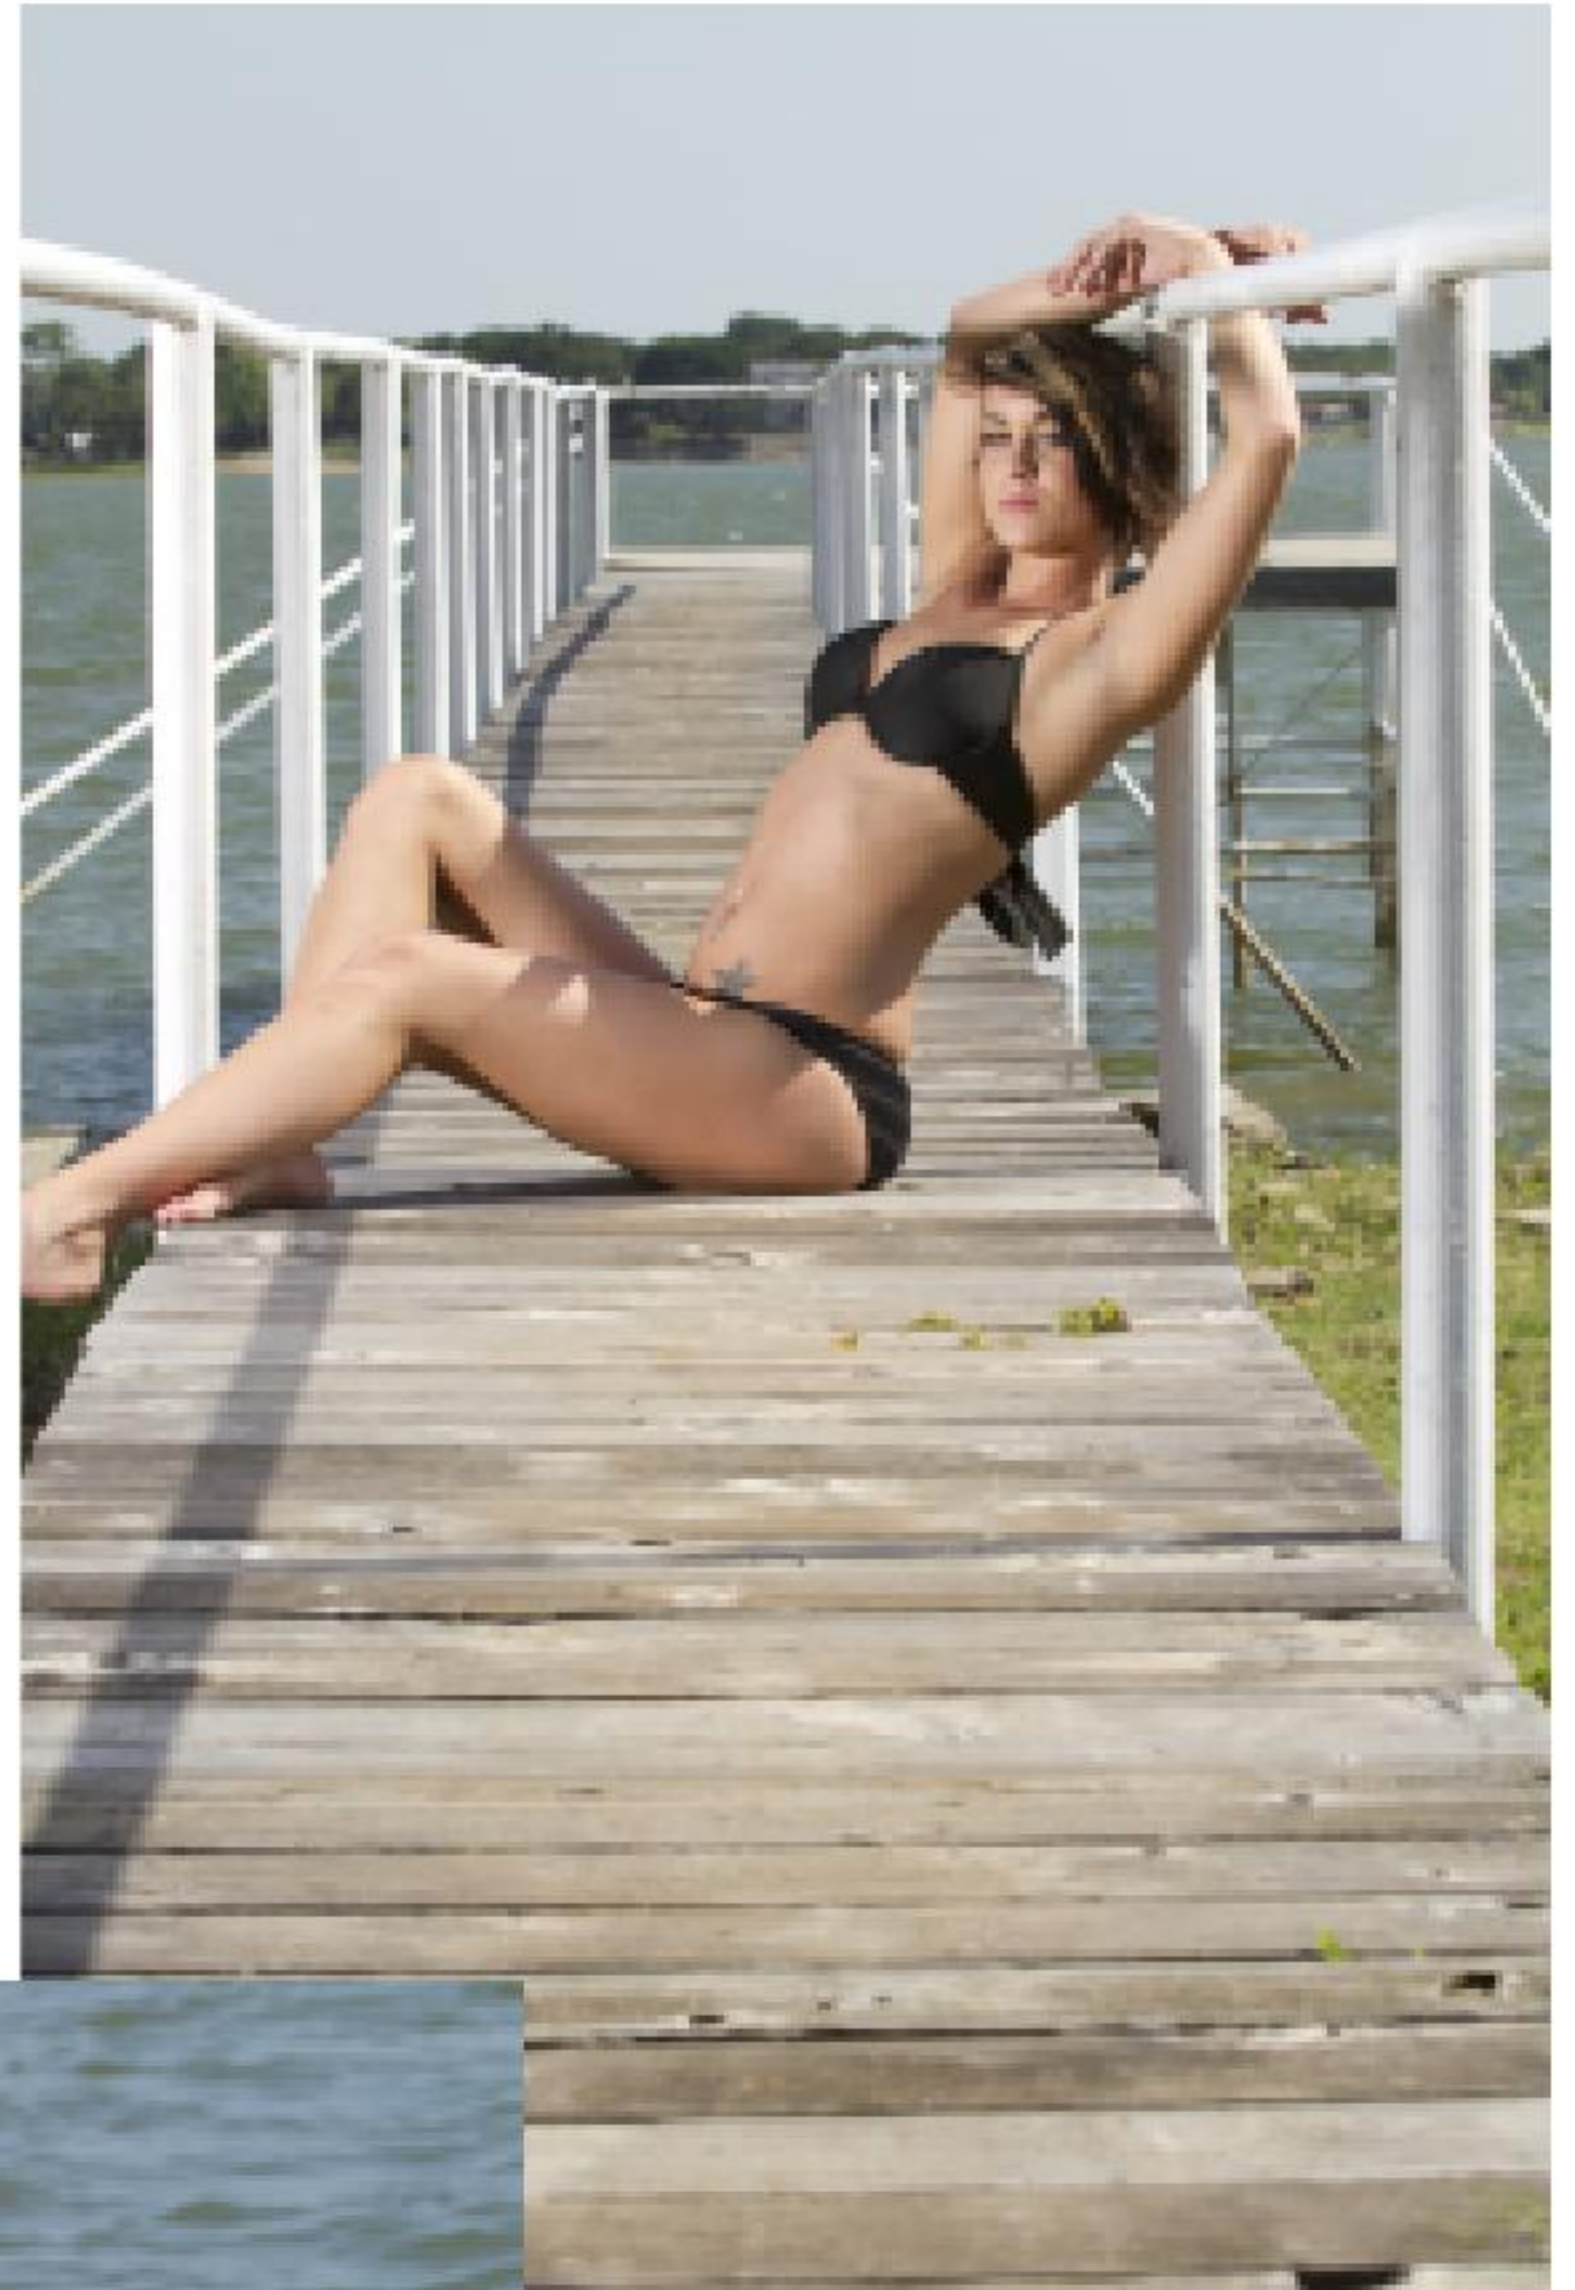

Alexiss Kellar is a vibrant aspiring 19-year-old Freelance model. She recently began her career in this past spring, and discovered she had a natural talent. Born in a little town in Texas called Eastland, her family realized her dreams were too big to keep her there. She spent most of her childhood life in Azle, Texas, and recently graduated from Azle high school.

Here she got her first taste of being in the spotlight when she was nine years old. She had an opportunity to be a runway model for summer clothes at her local Wal-Mart. This of course was a dream come true for little Alexiss. Even though this was a one-day event it made her curious about her future opportunities at a young age. Little at the time did she know then she would grow into a gorgeous, even more curious lady, and aspiring model. The world will one day be taken by storm by this fiery brown-eyed beauty with her talents, and drive I cannot wait to see what she accomplishes in her life.

She is currently assisting back in her hometown, in a local hair salon (Flying Scissors). Being a part time receptionist and assistant is just a small stop in her career. Because she is currently applying and making plans to attend one of the local medical schools were she would like to pursue a career as a Sonogram tech, or as a Radiology tech.

Don't get the wrong idea though she is not all work and no play.

When she gets a little free time she enjoys letting loose on her days off, and being near friends and family. Some of her favorite hobbies are swimming, boating, dancing, and barbequing. No matter where she is, or what she is doing she is always the life of the party, and lights up a room when she enters it.

Along with her career oriented personality she is fixing up her house. And she doesn't mind getting a little dirty. Alexiss believes in working hard for what she wants in life. Always taking time for others, and paying it forward. Often by something as simple as encouraging them, and other times by just being her bubbly self. The one thing she is missing in her life is a great guy to share her experiences with. She is currently single, and hopes to one day meet someone that can be as romantic as Gatsby in the movie (The Great Gatsby). She knows that one day she will find her Gatsby.

Venus Adams

Retoucher - Edward Wright
Photographer - Kammeron Michelle
Photographer - La Vaughn Fields

Venus Adam's family migrated from South East Asia to California when she was eleven years old. Being so young it only took her a few years to learn the language and adapt to the American way of life. Not to say that she didn't face challenges growing up but her family are very grateful they are here. Venus appreciates growing up in a small town with friendly neighbors and living close to the beaches around San Francisco Bay is a plus. Even though the beaches here aren't really warm enough to swim in they are still nice. She enjoys fishing with her siblings at the piers and she especially loves the warmth of the sun in the summer and has always enjoyed the outdoors. Liking to sun bathe and walk along the beach any chance she gets. Where Venus came from there were only lakes and rivers. Being from a tropical climate she's not used to really cold weather. Winter here especially was tough on her because she's not used to bundling up. If it was possible, she'd be in a sundress all the time. Even as a teenage girl she's always been fashion conscious especially how lingerie and swimwear looked on her.

Venus bought her first two piece bikini from a fitness catalog when she was 16. Then her interest for sewing grew from making dolls clothes to making her own clothes, she started sewing all through high school. One summer she worked hard and bought a sewing machine which is still use today.

Not having a career path in mind it was suggested she attend the Fashion Institute in San Francisco. They thought Venus had a great sense of fashion and style. Receiving a full scholarship that's where she attended for two years while working part time doing retail sales at department stores. Having graduated from the institute with a degree in fashion design, she could have furthered her education but wanted to work right away.

Immediately after graduation Venus a got a job working for a small fitness/sportswear company as the head designer. The short time she was there, she got to experience the fast pace and constant demand of the fashion industry. Being a designer takes hard work, dedication and is a high stress job which made it difficult for Venus as a young and newly graduate designer to keep up. So she went on to pursue other careers in high tech and real estate. It was however rewarding to have seen a couple of her designs in store front window displays. During this time she also started pursuing modeling which had always been a passion. Venus says she always loved being in front of a camera. "While posing I can transform and become the character in which I'm trying to project or take on the look I want others to see." To Venus it's both the body and the mind in tune at the same time. Modeling has also brought back the designer/stylist in her which she has not thought of in years. Having regular photo shoots help her create looks and concepts that she would otherwise not have thought of. Having been chosen to be featured in Bikini Magazine is such an amazing opportunity for her to show off her creative and sexy side.

Jade Elisabeth Drayton, a 23 year old mother, was born in Sydney, Australia before moving to Laurieton on the Mid north Coast at 10 years old. She only began modeling last year when she was asked to join modeling agency Fab Models. Although she hasn't been modeling long she has featured in several project photo shoots attracting critical acclaim.

She believes that modeling has given her a huge self confidence boost and brought her out of her shell! When not working at her local gym, Adrenalin Fitness, she spends her time with her beautiful 3 year old daughter Sara, scuba diving, netball and Pole dance classes. Jade has always had a passion for the environment particularly the ocean. She was one of the founding members of PURG (Port Macquarie underwater research group) which involved scuba diving to take photos of and identifying the marine life found in her local area. She is currently studying a Bachelor degree of Marine Science and Management and hopes to one day be working on the Great Barrier Reef with Marine Parks Authority or educating others about the importance of the Marine environment through Eco-tourism.
