It's so nice to be back in Glam Jam. Sexy glamour is what I like to shoot and Glam Jam likes its Glamour to be SEXY. This past year I've changed my mind set and worked harder than I ever have before. I've really wanted each and every picture to be something special. I've been thinking a lot about what makes me tick as a woman a great deal. While it was hard to not get all worked up while I pondered all these sexual fantasies and scandals I realized I've already crossed off a lot on my "sex" bucket list. I still have this desire for a threesome with two women, or a woman and a man, but I'm the main focus. There's something so sexy about the thought of have all that stimulation just for my pleasure. I can only imagine the orgasms! On that note, I had a hard night at work and just like every morning I'm going to play with myself today I'm just even more eager to get home and unwind.

On the professional side, I really hate being stuck in trends and try very hard to re-invent myself as often as possible. If I could describe my style in one word it would be confident. I don't follow really follow what others do or stick to one "image" I just know my body and wear what complements my figure and makes me feel most confident. Trust me "insecurity shows".

It seems that men, and sometimes women all want to know how I can be wooed. What would be my perfect date? Something "I" don't have to plan! In fact, the more spontaneous and exotically interesting it can be the better. It doesn't have to be anything fancy but it would be nice to know someone spent their time thinking of me and surprising me. I'm always trying to better myself by setting new goals. This year it is to continue to work with reputable photographers, increase my publications, and keep growing as an experienced model. My ultimate dream would be to model full-time. I have been doing some fun promotional modeling which can also pay well and be a blast. I am always looking for ways to be more of a serious professional model and to distance myself from the "Facebook Models".

I want to make sure I give a special thanks to a few people because without them I wouldn't be here. Thanks to my fiancé and my friends and family. Most importantly I want to thank all of my fans. The majority of you are complete strangers and you have more heart than most people I know. Thank you to Rick Trotter for all of your wisdom and guidance. I want to say thank you to my friends and family for always being there, and lastly thank you Glam Jam for this amazing feature.

*Love
Megan
