I'm usually pretty nice, but I can be naughty when needed

Confidence, not cockiness, but confidence turns me on. As well as humor.

I love photography - I can thank my father and grandfather for that. They gave me my first twin-lens reflex camera at 7 years old, my first Kodak Instamatic at 10, and my first 8mm cine-camera at 15. The first thing I bought with my student grant at 18 was a Fuji STX-1 SLR, I was hooked...

At the end of the film era, I was busy shooting pro-studio glamour on a pair of EOS 5's, and paying for my new L lens addiction. I shot a stable of models every month for 3 years, all on film. It really honed the skill-set to 'get it right in camera' because, even then, film was expensive!

I transitioned to pro motor-sports photography as the digital world dawned - quickly adopting a pair of Canon EOS D30s, then the EOS 1D and EOS 1D MKII.

I rode the wave of technology, with Apple providing my digital darkrooms, all the way into the 21st Century.

I picked up on glamour photography again after emigrating out to California from the UK.

The new wave of mirror-less camera technology provided an amazing platform to explore complex natural light photography, and I quickly gravitated away from Canon, and back to Fuji, with the X100, X-Pro1, and more recently the X-T1.

So here we are - Fuji X-T1, dusty Canon 5D MKII, MacBook Pro darkroom - the future is just a click away...

A woman is lying on her side on a large, dark, textured rock. She is wearing a white top and a black and white striped bikini bottom. Her legs are extended, and her feet are visible.
