A Note From The Editor...

Black Men Magazine proudly presents the third annual 40 on 40 special issue.

Models across the country competed on www.blackmendigital.com within the "Black Book" section to be considered to be in the leading Urban Men's magazine on newsstands. Thousands of hopeful new talent uploaded their profiles to the site and CC'd their links via www.twitter.com and www.facebook.com to their fans while attaching @blackmeneditor, and @blackmendigital.

We proudly announce 40 truly amazing women who are proud of their voluptuous curves lead by the top cover models in the industry: Maliah Michel, Keyshia Dior, Charm killings, Kimbella, New Comer Portia Jenkins and of course our BLACK MEN

DIGITAL 40 ON 40 MODEL OF THE YEAR WINNER Amber Priddy.

This season we teamed up with www.10pmodels.net who chose Kristal Sols as their MODEL OF THE MONTH for this issue.

Have an amazing time with this issue of Black Men.

Q. Why should you be a Black Men's model?

I should be a Black Men Model because I'm a Black woman with curves.

Q. Did you market yourself to fans on www.Blackmendigital.com?

Yes.

Q. Were you always amazingly curvy?

I always was amazingly curvy. I inherited it.

Q. What disadvantage do you feel you have as an urban model?

Honestly, as an urban model I don't believe I have any disadvantages as I take everything in stride, I believe what God has planned is for me and only me.

Q. Do you think that having size 40 or more hips inhibits most models?

I don't believe it inhibits models. I believe it also gives them their own lane.

Q. Where do you train if you are acting?

Right now I'm seeking more acting opportunities and I'm scouting for the best ones.

Q. Do you have a commercial head shot?

Yes.

Q. Do you understand that without these things on your resume that your career if any, might be short?

My career is not predicated on what others may think, however I'm always open to criticism. It makes me reevaluate my focus on things.

Q. Favorite drink?

Kool-aid.

MORE
YAMI DOLL

Q. Favorite food?

Chicken.

Q. Mood music?

I love to listen to love songs.

Q. Favorite vacation spot?

My favorite vacation is with family; it does not really have to be a special place, but I love enjoying family moments.

Q. Favorite place to be kissed?

My favorite place to be kissed is my stomach.

Q. Favorite body part on your man?

My favorite body part on my man is his neck.

Q. Favorite place to kiss him?

My favorite place to kiss him is his lips.

Q. How often do you measure yourself?

I measure myself once a month.

Q. Are you proud of your curves?

Yes.

Q. What curvaceous celebrity do you identify with as a role model for success?

I honestly love actress Angela Bassett's body and her curves. She seems to be very fit.

Q. Have you invested money into your career?

Yes.

Q. Do you or would you work a 9 to 5 until your career took off?

Right now I'm in school and I believe in education solely. Education open up doors for careers.

Q. If you had an agent, would you refer all assignments to them as in your agreement, or do you feel you should take some work without informing them?

I believe the agent has its role as an agent and I also have a responsibility as the talent. However, I can trust my agent, and I speak with her about anything regarding my career. We both have the same focus at hand. My agent is Sparkle Callahan and my team is Plentykashflow Entertainment. We work together to make things happen.

Q. Were you always this amazingly curvy?

Yes, it runs in my family. Being that I am full Cuban, we come with special assets in the deal.

Q. What disadvantages do you feel you have as an urban model?

I feel as I have no disadvantages. I speak three languages, and I can be versatile separates me from most.

Q. Where do you train if you are pursuing acting?

I recently made the move to LA where I'll be coached by the great Aaron Speiser who is also Will Smith's personal acting coach.

Q. Do you have a commercial head shot?

Of course.

Q. Favorite drink?

Mango Mojitos.

Q. Favorite food?

I'm a big fan of sushi.

Q. Mood Music?

Soft R&B.

Q. Favorite vacation spot?

London, UK

Q. Favorite place to be kissed?

Neck and back.

Q. Favorite body part on your man?

Abs, chest.

Q. Favorite place to kiss him?

Lips.

Q. How often do you measure yourself?

At least once a week.

Q. Are you proud of your curves?

Yes, I love them. It's the part of my body that makes me feel sexier as a woman.

Q. What curvaceous celebrity do you identify as a role model for success?

I look at someone like Jennifer Lopez to compare myself to, being that we come from similar backgrounds and her career has blossomed like no other. She makes all curvaceous women a hot trend.

Q. Have you invested money into your career?

Yes, a lot of it! I think it's important for everyone's beginning. I started with investing into my own website—www.TammyTorresOnline.com

Q. How do you feel about magazines like Elle and Vogue, do you think they should feature more curvaceous women?

It's always nice to pick up a magazine and see beautiful, curvy women. Yes, it would be nice.

Q. How do you plan to change the game?

As the CEO of a company, TCapital of South Florida, I plan to further my career with my charity work, acting and modeling as well as continuing on with my real estate. I plan to open the door for other aspiring models and to create a different perception of women in this industry. ■

BLACKMEN 15

Q. Why do you think you should be a Black Men Model?

Well, I am what Black Men love. I'm British, curvy, educated and I can cook. I think people in the States have a very inaccurate picture of British people. We aren't all pale, tea-drinking people with bad teeth, and I want to represent for all the ladies back in the UK. I love that Black Men's Magazine is sexy but classy, and it's definitely a great opportunity for me to reach a bigger audience and for more people to get to know me as I'm starting this exciting career of mine.

Q. Did you market yourself to fans on www.Blackmen digital.com?

Yes, I did! Thank you to all of my followers on Twitter and Facebook and everyone who voted and support me.

Q. Were you always this amazingly curvy?

No, I got hips out of nowhere the summer before 10th grade. I had gone back home to London and when I came back all my homeboys were like, "damn, you thick." When I was modeling in the commercial/fashion side of the industry I worked out all the time to stay within acceptable measurements for my agency which is a lot smaller than 40 inches.

Q. What disadvantages do you feel you have as an urban model?

I don't think I have any disadvantages honestly. This isn't the end or the complete goal for me, but I do see it as a great opportunity to build a foundation for all of the other entertainment and business ventures I am passionate about. I am a newcomer to this side of the industry, so I do have to build my fan base and myself as a personality, but I don't see it as a disadvantage. I just see it as a step that I will inevitably conquer.

Q. Do you think that having size 40 or more hips inhibits most models?

Q. Why do you think you should be a Black Men Model?

I feel that girls that look like me haven't been represented and I would like to add to that flavor.

Q. Did you market yourself to fans on www.Blackmendigital.com?

Yes.

Q. Were you always this amazingly curvy?

No, not until I got in college.

Q. What disadvantages do you feel you have as an urban model?

I think we are stereotyped and type casted.

Q. Do you think that having size 40 or more hips inhibit most models?

Yes, because sometimes they are stuck being a "booty" model.

Q. Do you have a commercial head shot?

Yes.

Q. Favorite drink?

Sweet tea

Q. Favorite food?

Crab Legs.

Q. Why do you think you should be a Black Men Model?

I'm right for this issue.

Q. Did you market yourself to fans on www.Blackmendigital.com?

Yes, I did.

Q. Were you always this amazingly curvy?

When I was younger I used to be more petite, but I've always had curves.

Q. What disadvantages do you feel you have as an urban model?

None.

Q. Do you think that having size 40 or more hips inhibits most models?

Not at all, your career is determined by the drive you have for your career.

Q. Do you have a commercial head shot?

Yes I have a commercial headshot.

Q. So you understand that without these things on your resume that you career, if any, might be short?

Yes.

Q. Favorite drink?

I love Italian dessert wines.

Q. Favorite food?

I like all kinds of foods. I'm very fond of Jamaican cuisine.

Q. Mood music?

My kind of mood music is R&B, I still groove with R. Kelly, Silk and Blackstreet, to name a few back in the day artists.

Photographer: Tiffany Jackson for VXN Studios

Wardrobe Styling: Model's Own

Hair/Makeup Artist: Steven Tabimba

Agency: TSD Agency / tsdagency@gmail.com

Q. Favorite vacation spot?

My favorite vacation spot is Hawaii. Luv it.

Q. Favorite place to be kissed?

My neck.

Q. Favorite body part on your man?

There are a few things, but to name one the chest.

Q. Favorite place to kiss him?

Slowly and passionately on the side of his lips.

Q. How often do you measure yourself?

My trainer measures me once a month.

Q. Are you proud of your curves?

Yes I love me some me. I love every curve I own.

Q. What curvaceous celebrity do you identify as role model for success?

Kerry Washington and Halle Berry.

Q. Have you invested money into your career?

Every day I invest money into my career, from my trainer to the hottest pair of pumps at that time. This career is about looking good and maintaining that.

Q. Do or would you work a 9 to 5 until your career took off?

Yes, I do work a 9 to 5. There is nothing wrong with working hard to get where you want to be in life.

Q. If you had an agent, would you refer all assignments to them as in your agreement, or do you feel you should take some work without informing them?

I make sure my agent is very much engaged in every career opportunity that comes my way. An agent's job is to market and get the best end result possible and that something an agent is skilled in. I'm the talent, and that's my focus. Being the best that I can be at what I'm doing.*

Q. How do you feel about magazines like Elle and Vogue, do you think they should feature more curvaceous women?

I think they should display a more realistic body type instead of "stick figures". But then again that's why there's so many magazines, for all types of models and looks that cater to a particular crowd.

Q. How do you plan to change the game?

By becoming successful with what I am doing.■

Q. Why do you think you should be a Black Men's model?

I should be a Black Men's model because not only do I have the look, but I can work the camera and make men melt with my eyes.

Q. Did you market yourself to fans on www.Blackmendigital.com?

I'm now starting to market myself on Blackmendigital.com, and I feel that I will benefit from it.

Q. Were you always this amazingly curvy?

I have been curvy since I was a child, it's sad to say. I've always been thick.

Q. What disadvantages do you feel you have as an urban model?

The disadvantages of being an urban model are that the industry doesn't always take you as seriously or they feel that you're representing porn. I love being sexy without being fully nude and if Marilyn Monroe can do it, then so can I.

Q. Do you think having a size 40 or more hips inhibits most models?

Having a size 40 hips is a blessing in my eyes, and it helps me in this industry. By the way, it's all natural!

Q. Where do you train if you are acting?

I've trained here in Houston at the Jecaryious Johnson School. I also plan on training in L.A.

Q. Do you have a commercial head shot?

I do have a commercial head shot. You have to update them all of the time, though.

Q. Do you understand that without these things on your resume that your career if any, may be short?

Yes, without a head shot you won't be able to try out for many mainstream modeling jobs, so it's very important.

Q. Your favorite drink?

My favorite drinks are Peach tea and alcohol or Ciroc Red Berry and Sprite.

Q. Favorite Food?

My favorite food is Italian.

Q. Mood Music?

I love all types of music, but to get me in the mood I like old school R & B.

Q. Favorite vacation spot?

My favorite vacation spot is Las Vegas because I love the pool parties and the exclusive shopping.

Q. Favorite place to be kissed?

I love to be kissed on my bottom and neck.

Q. Favorite body part on your man?

Q. Why do you think you should be a Black Men Model?

I think I have an edgy uniqueness that can appeal to many viewers.

I'm nothing like the average.

Q. Did you market yourself to fans on www.Blackmendigital.com?

Yes, of course, I do it every day.

Q. Were you always this amazingly curvy?

Actually no I wasn't. I used to be a Chubby Checker and I lost so much weight. I grew into a nicely proportioned young woman.

Q. What disadvantages do you feel you have as an urban model?

I don't have big ol' thick legs or a large butt like most urban models.

Q. Do you think that having size 40 or more hips inhibits most models?

It all depends on the demographic a model is leaning towards! If she wants to be on a cover showing the beauty of her booty and not her body, then YES!

Q. Where do you train, if you are acting?

I'm not training at the moment.

Q. Do you have a commercial head shot?

Yes, as a matter of fact I do.

Q. Do you understand that without these things on your resume that your career if any, might be short?

Oh of course, it's all about marketing yourself and building your brand! You can't do so without the necessary tools.

Q. Favorite drink?

Coco Loxo (coconut circa and pineapple juice).

Q. Favorite food?

Curry shrimp! Crab legs.

Q. Mood Music?

Any old mixtape Drake, Trey Songz, J. Cole, I like mixtape music.

It's when the artist shows the real skill of their craft.

Q. Favorite vacation spot?

Miami aaaaaaammmmmiiii

Q. Favorite place to be kissed?

My neck of course, and all over my tattoos!

Q. Favorite body part on your man?

I love those "Ken doll" dimples at the hip! This is true for women as well.

Q. Favorite place to kiss him?

I like to bite his neck! I'm a vampire! :)

Q. How often do you measure yourself?

I never do.

Q. Are you proud of your curves?

Oh, yes, I embrace every inch of my body, more than often.

Q. What curvaceous celebrity do you identify as a role model for success?

Rosa Acosta! She's amazing and her resume is so extensive that she's an inspiration. Luv Rostal!

Q. Have you invested money into your career?

Oh yes of course, I always say you can't expect anyone to invest in you without investing in yourself first.

Q. Do or would you work a 9 to 5 until your career took off?

Yes I would, but I don't.

Q. If you had an agent, would you refer all assignments to them as in your agreement, or do you feel you should take some work without informing them?

I would hand over everything it's their job, not mine. I don't want that responsibility.

Q. How do you feel about magazines like Elle and Vogue, do you think they should feature more curvaceous women?

Honestly, I love those magazines and I don't think they should feature curvy models unless they have that distinct high fashion look.

Q. How do you plan to change the game?

I just want to show that you can be "different" and still be sexy and beautiful in your own skin, no plastic surgery needed. ■

BLACKMEN 35

Q. Why do you think you should be a Black Men Model?

Because I have the 3 B's: brains, beauty and booty.

Q. Did you market yourself to fans on www.Blackmendigital.com?

Yes I did, it was fun to see what my stats would be.

Q. Were you always this amazingly curvy?

No, actually I was like 120 pounds until I was 21. So you see why I appreciate my size.

Q. What disadvantages do you feel you have as an urban model?

I have a lot of other things going on like school, so it can get very busy for me. At times I can't just focus on modeling.

Q. Do you think that having size 40 or more hips inhibits most models?

Yes in some cases. I notice the new look is thin. There is so many different preferences; it all depends on how you market yourself.

Q. Where do you train if you are acting?

I haven't taken any training yet, but I've rehearsed for a few parts and landed a role. I did very well, if I do say so myself.

Q. Do you have a commercial head shot?

Yes, I do.

Q. Do you understand that without these things on your resume that your career if any, might be short?

Yes I definitely understand that. I would like urban modeling to help me venture on to being a VJ.

Q. Favorite drink?

Patron

Q. Favorite food?

Seafood

Q. Mood Music?

I'm very versatile when it come to music

Q. Favorite vacation spot?

Las Vegas

Q. Favorite place to be kissed

Right there (wink)

Q. Favorite body part on your man?

Q. Why do you think you should be a Black Men Model?

Have you seen me lately? I could say so much about being a role model and blah blah blah but we all know modeling is about looking the part.

Q. Did you market yourself to fans on www.Blackmendigital.com?

No, but I'm about to right now.

Q. Were you always this amazingly curvy?

I used to be curvier. I am a fitness freak, so I still have curves, they are just tighter.

Q. What disadvantages do you feel you have as an urban model?

You get placed in a box to the point where it becomes difficult to be taken seriously in the commercial field. You have to be careful how you brand yourself if you have aspirations beyond urban modeling.

Q. Do you think that having size 40 or more hips inhibits most models?

It all depends on your career goals. If urban modeling is your thing, you're good to go. But if you have aspirations to do other work in a less forgiving field it's going to be very difficult, almost impossible, unless you lose weight.

Q. Where do you train if you are acting?

The Actors Studio.

Q. Do you have a commercial head shot?

Absolutely.

Q. Do you understand that without these things on your resume that your career if any, might be short?

I'm two steps ahead of you Marcus!

Q. Favorite drink?

Shinz

Q. Favorite food?

My dad's gumbo.

Q. Mood Music?

Usher, Janet Jackson and Beyoncé.

Q. Favorite vacation spot?

It's hard to say. I love Paris but it's so cold...Dubai was amazing but so hot...I've been to many places, but the world's so big. I have a lot more traveling to do. But if I had to choose, I would say the Dominican Republic. It's gorgeous. The weather is amazing, the water is so blue and the food is so good!

Q. Favorite place to be kissed?

I have this birth mark located on the back of my neck...for some reason it's super sensitive. I guess x marks the spot.

Q. Favorite body part on your man?

Chest, if he's in shape.

Q. Favorite place to kiss him?

Lips

Q. How often do you measure yourself?

Maybe every few months...or when my clothes get too loose or too tight.

Q. Are you proud of your curves?

Absolutely! I love them! I've worked hard for them! There's a big difference between thick and fat and it's often confused. I work out 4-5 times a week and take care of my body. I'm curvy but I don't come to a shoot waiting on photo shop to knock off the extra tummy bulge!

TV/Videos: "Inkredible" Trae ft Rick Ross and Lil Wayne, "Im Not a Star" Rick Ross

Q. Why do you think you should be a Black Men Model?

Because Black Men is one of the biggest urban modeling magazines in the US and all of the models are classy and gorgeous. They have quality models in their magazines that I would love to be a part of and it would also help me market myself.

Q. Did you market yourself to fans on www.Blackmendigital.com?

Not yet, but I will.

Q. Were you always this amazingly curvy?

I've always been curvy, ever since I was young, I was just a little bit skinnier.

Q. What disadvantages do you feel you have as an urban model?

Height and also the fact that I'm curvy can be a disadvantage when it comes to other types of modeling. Like runway for example.

Q. Do you think that having size 40 or more hips inhibits most models?

Definitely not in the urban industry but in other industries of modeling, yes.

Q. Where do you train if you are acting?

N/A

Q. Do you have a commercial head shot?

No

Q. Do you understand that without these things on your resume that you career, if any, might be short?

Yes, I'm working on it.

Q. Favorite drink?

Q. Favorite food?

Pettucini chicken alfredo

Q. Mood Music?

R&B

Q. Favorite vacation spot

Hawaii

Q. Favorite place to be kissed?

Q. Favorite body part on your man?

A. Abs

Q. Favorite place to kiss him?

Abs as well.

Q. How often do you measure yourself?

Every 6 months.

Q. Are you proud of your curves?

Yes

Q. What curvaceous celebrity do you identify as a role model for success?

Jennifer Lopez

Q. Have you invested money into your career?

Yes, not only in my modeling career but in my fashion career as well.

Q. Do you or would you work a 9 to 5 until your career took off?

Yes, of course.

Q. If you had an agent, would you refer all assignments to them as in your agreement, or do you feel you should take some work without informing them?

If I have an agreement I would follow those rules.

Q. How do you feel about magazines like Elle and Vogue, do you think they should feature more curvaceous women?

Yes, I think they should feature more curvaceous women, especially since most women in the U.S. are not tall and skinny.

Q. How do you plan to change the game?

I plan on changing the game by showing people out there that models are more than just a big butt and a pretty face. Like any other person we have goals and we want to accomplish different things in life, by doing it with respect and dignity. ■

Q. Why do you think you should be a Black Men Model?

I should be a Black Men's model because I'm different and unique and I've got what it takes.

Q. Did you market yourself to fans on www.Blackmendigital.com?

Yes, I did.

Q. Were you always this amazingly curvy?

Yes, since I was 10 years old.

Q. What disadvantages do you feel you have as an urban model?

The disadvantage that I have as an urban model is that I'm a shortie.

Q. Do you think that having size 40 or more hips inhibits most models?

It might inhibit most models because a few may not want that look.

Q. Do you have a commercial head shot?

Yes.

Q. Do you understand that without these things on your resume that your career if any might be short?

I guess.

Q. Favorite drink?

My favorite drink is orange juice.

Q. Favorite food?

I measure myself when needed.

Q. Are you proud of your curves?

Yes, I'm very proud of my curves. I fit my clothes perfectly.

Q. What curvaceous celebrity do you identify with as a role model for success?

The only role model I have would be my moms. Aside from her, Kim Kardashian would be the only curvaceous celebrity that I know of.

Q. Have you invested money into your career?

I invest all the time.

Do you or would you work a 9 to 5 until your career took off?

I already work a 9 to 5.

Q. If you had an agent, would you refer all assignments to them as in your agreement, or do you feel you should take some work without informing them?

That would be the agent's job.

Q. How do you feel about magazines like Elle and Vogue, do you think they should feature more curvaceous women?

Yes, I think they should feature more curvaceous women for a change.

Everyone has different talents.

Q. How do you plan to change the game?

I plan to change the game by taking chances and going towards the best in life. Also, setting the right example is important. ■

Q. Why do you think you should be a Black Men Model?

I'm a total package... (intelligent, beautiful and determined)

Q. Did you market yourself to fans on www.

Blackmen digital.com?

Yes

Q. Were you always this amazingly curvy?

The older I became the more my body became more womanly.

Q. What disadvantages do you feel you have as an urban model?

I don't want for anyone to believe that this is it for me, because some models become trapped in this game. Its very easy to become labelled and overlooked.

Q. Do you think that having size 40 or more hips inhibit most models?

No, its all about how you carry it, and what's your plans for your career. Nothing is easy.

Q. Do you have a commercial head shot?

Yes, I do.

Q. Do you understand that without these things on your resume that you career, if any, might be short?

Yes, I do understand. I also have to have the drive and mind set to think outside the box.

Q. Favorite drink?

Homemade sweet tea or lemonade.

Q. Favorite food?

I love so many different types of foods, but if I had to choose it would be stewed chicken with rice and peas.

Q. Mood Music?

Neo soul and R&B (Erykah Badu, Jill Scott, Musiq Soulchild... etc).

Q. Favorite Vacation Spot?

Jamaica.

Q. Favorite place to be kissed?

On my neck.

Q. Favorite body part on your man?

Shoulders and back.

Q. Favorite place to kiss him?

Neck and/or back.

Q. How often do you measure yourself?

Every blue moon unless I'm trying to accomplish a certain size by a particular time.

Q. Are you proud of your curves?

Definitely.

Q. What curvaceous celebrity do you identify as role model for success?

Kerry Washington and Tyra Banks.

Q. Have you invested money into your career?

Yes..Nothing comes free...

Q. Do or would you work a 9 to 5 until your career took off?

Of course, I still have to live.

Q. If you had an agent, would you refer all assignments to them as in your agreement, or do you feel you should take some work without informing them?

I feel that there should be trust and communication between you and a agent. Nothing should be one sided and both should be bringing something to the table.

Q. Why do you think you should be a Black Men Model?

I love feeling sexy and embracing my natural curves. Luckily, the men who read Black Men's Magazine love to embrace those things, too.

Q. Did you market yourself to fans on www.Blackmendigital.com?

I tweeted about it and posted the link to my FB for my supporters to check out the site.

Q. Were you always this amazingly curvy?

Honestly, yes. I have been this height and fluctuated between a size 12 and 6 since 8th grade. I always had a little meat on me, sometimes a little more than others. I think I'm happy at a size 8.

Q. What disadvantages do you feel you have as an urban model?

I don't necessarily consider myself to be an "urban model". I would say my look is more versatile, and to put any label on your talent is to put yourself at a disadvantage.

Q. Do you think that having size 40 or more hips inhibits most models?

Well, if you're a runway model then, probably so. Even then it depends on who you are walking for. Obviously if you get picked up by a client like Ashley Stewart, then the requirement may be that you need to have 40+ hips. Limitations and restrictions go only as far as you allow them to. There are far too many types and divisions of modeling for anybody to use their body as an excuse. Yes, that means you.

Q. Where do you train if you are acting?

I am currently working with a personal coach I met through the Directing Actors workshop in NYC.

Q. Do you have a commercial head shot?

I sure do.

BLACKMEN 59

Q. Why do you think you should be a Black Men Model?

Black Men is THE premiere magazine in the urban community. I'm a young, fun-loving, energetic person. It would be a great opportunity if I could project that through the pages of BM Magazine.

Q. Did you market yourself to fans on www.Blackmendigital.com?

Yes, I did.

Q. Were you always this amazingly curvy?

This is a funny question. I remember in my younger years being a rail, but once I hit middle school, my body started to fill out. It was something that embarrassed me for a while, but as I got older, I started to embrace it. Now, I'm proud of my curves.

Q. What disadvantages do you feel you have as an urban model?

I think the disadvantages are just that being an urban model as opposed to just being a model.

Q. Do you think that having size 40 or more hips inhibits most models?

Yes, I do, very much. That is why I think having a magazine such as Black Men Magazine that can showcase the beauty of curvy women is great.

Q. Where do you train if you are acting?

I do private sessions with and acting coach by the name of Esther April. She's wonderful.

Q. Do you have a commercial head shot?

I do, but not an up-to-date one.

Q. Do you understand that without these things on your resume that your career if any, might be short?

However short it may be, I plan to enjoy and make the best of it.

Q. Favorite drink?

Water. I'm a health nut; I do not drink alcohol or soda.

Q. Favorite food?

Sushi is one of my favorite foods.

Q. Mood Music?

R&B/Soft listening.

Q. Favorite vacation spot

Costa Rica. The rainforest is beautiful.

Q. Favorite place to be kissed?

The back of my neck.

Q. Favorite body part on your man?

I love a man with nice abs.

Q. Favorite place to kiss him?

Softly on the lips.

Q. How often do you measure yourself?

Not often because if the numbers up, I get upset.

Q. Are you proud of your curves?

Yes, I am proud of my curves, I wasn't always, but I've learned to embrace them.

Q. What curvaceous celebrity do you identify with as a role model for success?

Marilyn Monroe. What people don't know is that Marilyn Monroe was a size 10 and a bombshell. I love her.

Q. Have you invested money into your career?

I invest in myself and my career regularly. It costs to be beautiful.

Q. Do you or would you work a 9 to 5 until your career took off?

I certainly would work a 9 to 5 if I needed to. Working is a fact of life.

Q. If you had an agent, would you refer all assignments to them as in your agreement, or do you feel you should take some work without informing them?

I consider myself a woman of my word; therefore, I would never compromise my integrity by breaking my agreements.

Q. How do you feel about magazines like Elle and Vogue, do you think they should feature more curvaceous women?

I happen to read Elle and Vogue magazines regularly. I enjoy both very much, however, it would be refreshing to see them mix it up and add curvy women to what they already feature. I think that would be fun.

Q. How do you plan to change the game?

I want to change the game by making great effort to transition from urban to mainstream by, hopefully, bringing curvaceous models to the forefront of the modeling industry. ■

Q. Why do you think you should be a Black Men Model?

I'm an extremely passionate and hard working model who is willing to work hard to accomplish my goals. I also have a different look, and not many Creole women from New Orleans are working, successful models. I want to do this for my city. I want to prove to all my local New Orleans supporters and haters that hard work and dedication in this industry does pay off even if you're not from the ATL, LA, NY, Houston, DC, etc. There are beautiful hard working models like myself here in New Orleans.

Q. Did you market yourself to fans on www.Blackmendigital.com?

Yes, via my facebook, twitter, email and text blast.

Q. Were you always this amazingly curvy?

Yes, even when I was really skinny I've always had curves. My shape has never changed; I just gained weight in all the right places over the years.

Q. What disadvantages do you feel you have as an urban model?

It is more difficult for me getting bookings as a model who lives in New Orleans. I can go to LA, Houston, ATL, DC, NY and get booked for all types of gigs, but out here in New Orleans they don't really look out for models.

Q. Do you think that having size 40 or more hips inhibits most models?

Not in my opinion. I think hips are one of the sexiest parts of a woman's body.

Q. Where do you train if you are acting?

I've been taking a few acting classes here in Louisiana, but I really need to branch out if I'm really going to take my acting to the next level.

Q. Why do you think you should be a Black Men Model?

First of all, I like this magazine better than any other, and even though I take modeling as a hobby, I enjoy it a lot. Plus, I've got what Black Men Magazine fans like: 40-inch hips with some double d's. You give them what they like; curvy models for them are like kids in a candy store.

Q. Did you market yourself to fans on www.Blackmendigital.com?

Yes, it's one of my favorite sites.

Q. Were you always this amazingly curvy?

Not when I was 10-years old.

Q. Do you think that having size 40 or more hips inhibits most models?

Not if they're an urban model.

Q. Where do you train if you are acting?

70 BLACKMEN

Q. Why do you think you should be a Black Men Model?

I really worked hard to get to this point. In the few years I have been doing urban modeling, I made sure that I always produced quality images. I'm committed to modeling. I study and research from walking the runway to striking a pose. I always handle myself in a professional manner and stay humble at all times. Modeling has always been a passion of mine and one of my dreams was to be able to shoot for BlackMen Magazine. Now it's finally coming true and I'm truly thankful and blessed to have this opportunity.

Q. Did you market yourself to fans on www.Blackmendigital.com?

Yes, I made sure the information was posted on my site www.truthis007.com, myspace, facebook and twitter sites

Q. Were you always this amazingly curvy?

Never. I was very slim size 0-4.

Q. What disadvantages do you feel you have as an urban model?

That because of my curves, I'm considered too ethnic which is a disadvantage when you're trying to go mainstream.

Q. Do you think that having size 40 or more hips inhibits most models?

Yes, because you are categorized as being a plus size. In the fashion world being a little curvy can stop you from getting certain work.

Q. Where do you train if you are acting?

That's one of my next projects, attending an acting class or two. I definitely want to do television.

Q. Do you have a commercial head shot?

Yes, I do.

Q. Do you understand that without these things on your resume that you career if any might be short?

Yes I do.

Q. Favorite drink?

Blueberry Martinis

Q. Favorite food?

Thai food

Q. Mood Music?

80's music.

Q. Why do you think you should be a Blackmen model?
I know I have what it takes to be a part of the team and I know with my promoting skills and personality, I will definitely sell copies. I also have the proper ASSETS.

Q. Did you market yourself on www.blackmendigital.com?

Yes, I used this as my opportunity to make it into the magazine. I was late signing up and uploading my pictures, but I came in and took over the votes. I made sure that all my fans logged on and repped me.

Q. Were you always amazingly curvy?

Yes, as a matter of fact, I've been curvy since high school and I've always had a bubble butt.

Q. What disadvantages do you have being an urban model?

Well, since I've been in the game I feel like sometimes it's hard to get a white girl booked on a video shoot or magazine. Sometimes it's just dealing with some of the racial conflict that still exists, but lately I've been doing my thing and proving some wrong.

Q. Do you think having sizing 40 or more hips inhibits most models?

Definitely not, in urban modeling booty is definitely the key.

Q. Where do you train if you're acting?

I'm currently not training, I plan on attending the Actors Studio in Atlanta.

Q. Do you have a commercial head shot?

Yes.

Q. Do you understand that without these things on your resume that your career if any, might be short?

Yes.

Q. Favorite drink?

I don't drink but I might sip on a little Coconut Groc.

Q. Favorite food?

I love Mexican food, tacos and enchiladas, foods of that sort.

BLACKMEN 78

Q. Why should you be in Black Men's magazine?

I think I should be in Black Men's magazine because I have my own unique look and I can relate to so many readers with my diverse background.

Q. Were you always so shapely?

Yes, I have always had a good shape, but I think the booty started coming when I was in high school. That's when I started filling out.

Q. What disadvantages do you feel you have as an urban model?

I think the disadvantage in urban modeling is you can easily get typecast as someone that you're not. I prefer to focus on the positive parts of it.

Q. Do you think that having size 40 or more hips inhibits most models?

I think it can sometimes inhibit you having size 40-inch hips or more in mainstream society, but I feel if you push hard enough anything can happen. No one can hold you back except for you.

Q. Favorite drink?

My favorite drink is coconut water; I'm completely addicted to this drink.

Q. Favorite food?

My favorite food is... Hard to say. I love food, especially sweets!

Q. Mood music?

Mood music for me would have to be anything Robin Thicke. I love his voice, it's so relaxing.

Q. Where's your favorite place to be kissed?

My favorite place to be kissed would have to be my neck.

Q. Favorite body part on your man?

My favorite body part on a man is his smile. A nice smile always makes me melt.

Q. Favorite place to kiss him?

My favorite place to kiss him would have to be whatever spot he enjoys the most.

Q. How often do you measure yourself?

I measure myself about once a month, sometimes more. I've gotta know what I'm working with.

Q. What curvaceous celebrity did you identify with as a role model for success?

The curvy star I look up to is Sophia Vergara. She's extremely curvy and gorgeous. I admire how much success she's had being so curvy.

Q. Have you invested money into your career?

I've definitely invested into my career. It's very true you have to spend money to make money.

Q. Do you or would you work a 9 to 5 until your career took off?

Would I work a 9 to 5, of course, I've had a job since I was 14 and I've never been afraid of a little hard work.

Q. If you had an agent, would you refer all assignments to them as in your agreement, or do you feel you should take on some work without informing them?

I feel if I have an agent they should deal with my jobs and the other things regarding my career.

Q. How do you feel about magazines like Elle and Vogue, do you think they should feature more curvaceous women?

I feel like high fashion magazines should feature more curvy women. The images they portray are sometimes unrealistic and it encourages an unhealthy lifestyle. I see the beauty of women of all sizes. We're all beautiful in our own way.

Q. How do you plan to change the game?

I plan to change the game by turning my modeling career into so much more. I love being in the entertainment field dancing, singing, acting and modeling. I want to touch all areas, and hopefully I will be able to do that. ■

Q. Why do you think you should be a Black Men Model?

I know I should be a Black Men Model because I am one in a million. My look, style and swag are above and beyond the average Video Vixen/model. I carry myself in a way that cannot be rivaled.

Q. Did you market yourself to fans on www.Blackmen digital.com? Yes.

Q. Were you always this amazingly curvy?

Yes, I have! You can thank my mom for my curves!

Q. What disadvantages do you feel you have as an urban model?

The major disadvantage is being type cast. I have many facets and im not just an urban model. my looks and determination will allow me to be accepted in all industries.

Q. Do you think that having size 40 or more hips inhibits most models?

Only if your modeling on the catwalk in milan! I think curves are sexy and should be more widely accepted in the high fashion main stream industries.

Q. Where do you train if you are acting?

Universal Studios Acting, South Beach, FL.

Do you have a commercial head shot? Yes.

Q. Do you understand that without these things on your resume that you career, if any, might be short?

Definitely. I am a professional and I handle my business accordingly.

Q. Favorite drink?

Coconut Ciroc Straight.

Q. Favorite food?

Jamaican food, seafood.

Q. Mood Music?

Slow R&B

Q. Favorite Vacation Spot?

The beaches of Jamaica.

Q. Favorite place to be kissed?

On my nipple rings.

Q. Favorite body part on your man?

I like men with nice chest and abs and bow legs!

Q. Favorite place to kiss him?

On his hairless chest.

Q. How often do you measure yourself?

Usually twice a month.

Q. Are you proud of your curves?

I love my curves and I'm blessed to have them! Every woman should appreciate what they have and love and accept themselves.

Q. What curvaceous celebrity do you identify with as a role model for success?

Kim Kardashian. Over a short period of time, she has managed to become a mini mogul. She has perfumes, reality shows, she designed for bebe, has clothing stores, models, makes club appearances, and is very sexy and curvaceous. I see myself doing all the things she has done but in my own way, of course.

Q. Have you invested money into your career?

Of course. It takes money to make money.

Q. Do you or would you work a 9 to 5 until your career took off?

No, I have not worked a 9-5 in many years.

Q. If you had an agent, would you refer all assignments to them as in your agreement, or do you feel you should take some work without informing them?

I am honest with all the people I work with, that's what makes a good business women.

Q. How do you feel about magazines like Elle and Vogue, do you think they should feature more curvaceous women?

Yes, curvaceous women are the majority of women. Magazines like Elle and Vogue as you mentioned, only cater to tall and size zero women. Also, those magazines target a different demographic, so people read and buy what they can relate to.

Q. How do you plan to change the game?

In my opinion, I already have. It's time video models step up their game. That's why I feel I have tvery time I go out or to a magazine shoot, or music video, I see the same thing, the girls all dress the same, their hair is in a similar style. I think that I am the "breath of fresh air" that the industry has been waiting for.■

Were you always this amazingly curvy?

My whole family has curves. My big sis informed me recently that the first time we met was when I was 3 she said I jumped out the car with pink sweats on and she thought to herself "Oh Lord she has the Michel ass and thighs already" lol

What disadvantages do you feel you have as an urban model?

I am a Natural thick woman and I am tall. A lot of girls are petite and added on some ass and boobage. They r built like barbies 36D 24 waist and 45 ass. On top of that they never had a weight problem in their life (bitches) lol J/K.

I'm 5'7 and a lot of the performers and TV personality are small people. Put me next to someone short in a video and they look like my child.

Do you think that having size 40 or more hips inhibit most models?

In the last few years the hip hop culture has taken over so we have had a great run. Lately within the last year I have noticed something starting to change. I think we still will always have a market but I feel the time is coming where the 40"+ is going to die down a bit.

Where do you train if you are acting?

Lone Star Acting school.

Do you have a commercial head shot?

Yes.

Do you understand that without these things on your resume that you career, if any, might be short?

Yes.

Favorite drink?

Very.

What curvaceous celebrity do you identify with as a role model for success?

Bey!

Have you invested money into your career?

Definitely.

Do you or would you work a 9 to 5 until your career took off?

No, never been able to. I have to work for myself.

If you had an agent, would you refer all assignments to them as in your agreement, or do you feel you should take some work without informing them?

I prefer things to go through my agent.

How do you feel about magazines like Elle and Vogue, do you think they should feature more curvaceous women?

Yes.

How do you plan to change the game?

It's a secret, but stay tuned.

Q. Why do you think you should be a Black Men Model?
 I'm a natural beauty with a natural body who carries herself with class.
Q. Did you market yourself to fans on www.Blackmendidigital.com?
 Yes.
Q. Were you always this amazingly curvy?
 No, I was skinny all my life until I turned 19.
Q. What disadvantages do you feel you have as an urban model?
 Sometimes being curvy takes away from the things I could be doing main-stream-wise.
Q. Do you think that having size 40 or more hips inhibits most models?
 No.
Q. Where do you train if you are acting?
 I took theater in high school, and I attended the School of Arts.
Q. Do you have a commercial head shot?
 Yes.
Q. Do you understand that without these things on your resume that your career if any, might be short?
 Yes, I do.

Yes, I've always worked for a law firm.

Q. If you had an agent, would you refer all assignments to them as in your agreement, or do you feel you should take some work without informing them?

No, if you have an agent, you have to let them know everything that's going on. That's why you have an agent.

Q. How do you feel about magazines like Elle and Vogue, do you think they should feature more curvaceous women?

Yes, if a model has a beautiful face, her curves should not stop them from featuring her. The real woman is not a size 3, and we should show young girls it's ok to have meat on your bones. God made you beautiful and healthy.

Q. How do you plan to change the game?

I plan to stand for all naturally beautiful girls.

To show that it's ok to be you and not change anything about yourself and to be loved and accepted. ■

Q. Why do you think you should be a Black Men Model?

I'm one of the few girls who has her own natural body, without any breast or a— enhancements.

Q. Did you market yourself to fans on www.Blackmendigital.com?

No.

Q. Were you always this amazingly curvy?

Yes, I've been blessed since my early teens.

Q. What disadvantages do you feel you have as an urban model?

Actually, I like urban modeling because there are several avenues available to brand yourself.

Q. Do you think that having size 40 or more hips inhibits most models?

It depends on what the model is going for.

Q. Where do you train if you are acting?

That's something I'll be working on for 2011.

Q. Do you have a commercial head shot?

Yes.

Q. Do you understand that without these things on your resume that your career if any, might be short?

Yes.

Q. Favorite drink?

Hennessy and Apple Juice.

Q. Favorite food?

Stuffed Mirliton and Cumbo.

Q. Mood Music?

Janet Jackson "Anytime Any Place."

Q. Favorite vacation spot

I would love to go to Paris.

Q. Favorite place to be kissed?

My neck.

Q. Favorite body part on your man?

Chest and arms.

Q. Favorite place to kiss him?

Wherever he desires.

Q. How often do you measure yourself?

Every six months.

Q. Are you proud of your curves?

Definitely.

Q. What curvaceous celebrity do you identify with as a role model for success?

Jennifer Lopez!

Q. Why do you think you should be a Black Men Model?

I think I should be a Black Men Model because I am going after all my modeling goals with 100% determination. Being published in Black Men Magazine is one of them. I'm outgoing, beautiful inside and out. I have a great personality and most of all I take my modeling career seriously.

Q. Did you market yourself to fans on www.Blackmen digital.com?

Yes, daily on my facebook and twitter accounts.

Q. Were you always this amazingly curvy?

Yes, I woke up one morning and this is what I looked like...Honestly, I ran track, played volleyball in High School. I train in kick boxing as a part of my workout.

Q. What disadvantages do you feel you have as an urban model?

None. I don't just consider myself an urban model. I booked a commercial print ad campaign with PZI Jeans, worked as a runway/presentation model for Brunner Brothers, and even some acting with BET's, The Game.

Q. Do you think that having size 40 or more hips inhibits most models?

Only if you let it. We have to diversify our looks as models and again exercise and practice healthy eating habits.

Q. Where do you train if you are acting?

Different workshops throughout Birmingham and Atlanta.

Q. Do you have a commercial head shot?

Yes.

Q. Do you understand that without these things on your resume that your career, if any, might be short?

Yes, I definitely understand and plan to maximize on updating my comp card, shooting with a variety of credible photographers, and updating my images on a regular basis.

Q. Favorite drink?

Crown and Sprite.

Q. Favorite food?

Pizza.

Q. Mood Music?

Usher, Miguel, Tank, Jamie Foxx.

Q. Favorite vacation spot?

Jamaica.

Q. Favorite place to be kissed?

Under the moon...=)

Q. Favorite body part on your man?

Chest.

Q. Favorite place to kiss him?

All over

Q. How often do you measure yourself?

Once a month

Q. Are you proud of your curves?

Yes, every inch.

Q. What curvaceous celebrity do you identify with as a role model for success?

Samia Latham, and Eva Mendes.

Q. Have you invested money into your career?

Yes, I am my business. I invest in things such as professional images, traveling to castings and job bookings, maintaining my hair, nails, toes, and a lengthy wardrobe to meet every job opportunity with the look of a superstar.

Q. Do you or would you work a 9 to 5 until your career took off?

Yes, jobs in this industry come and go. A lot has changed since the recession so I work to provide for myself and my modeling income gets reinvested into my career.

Q. If you had an agent, would you refer all assignments to them as in your agreement, or do you feel you should take some work without informing them?

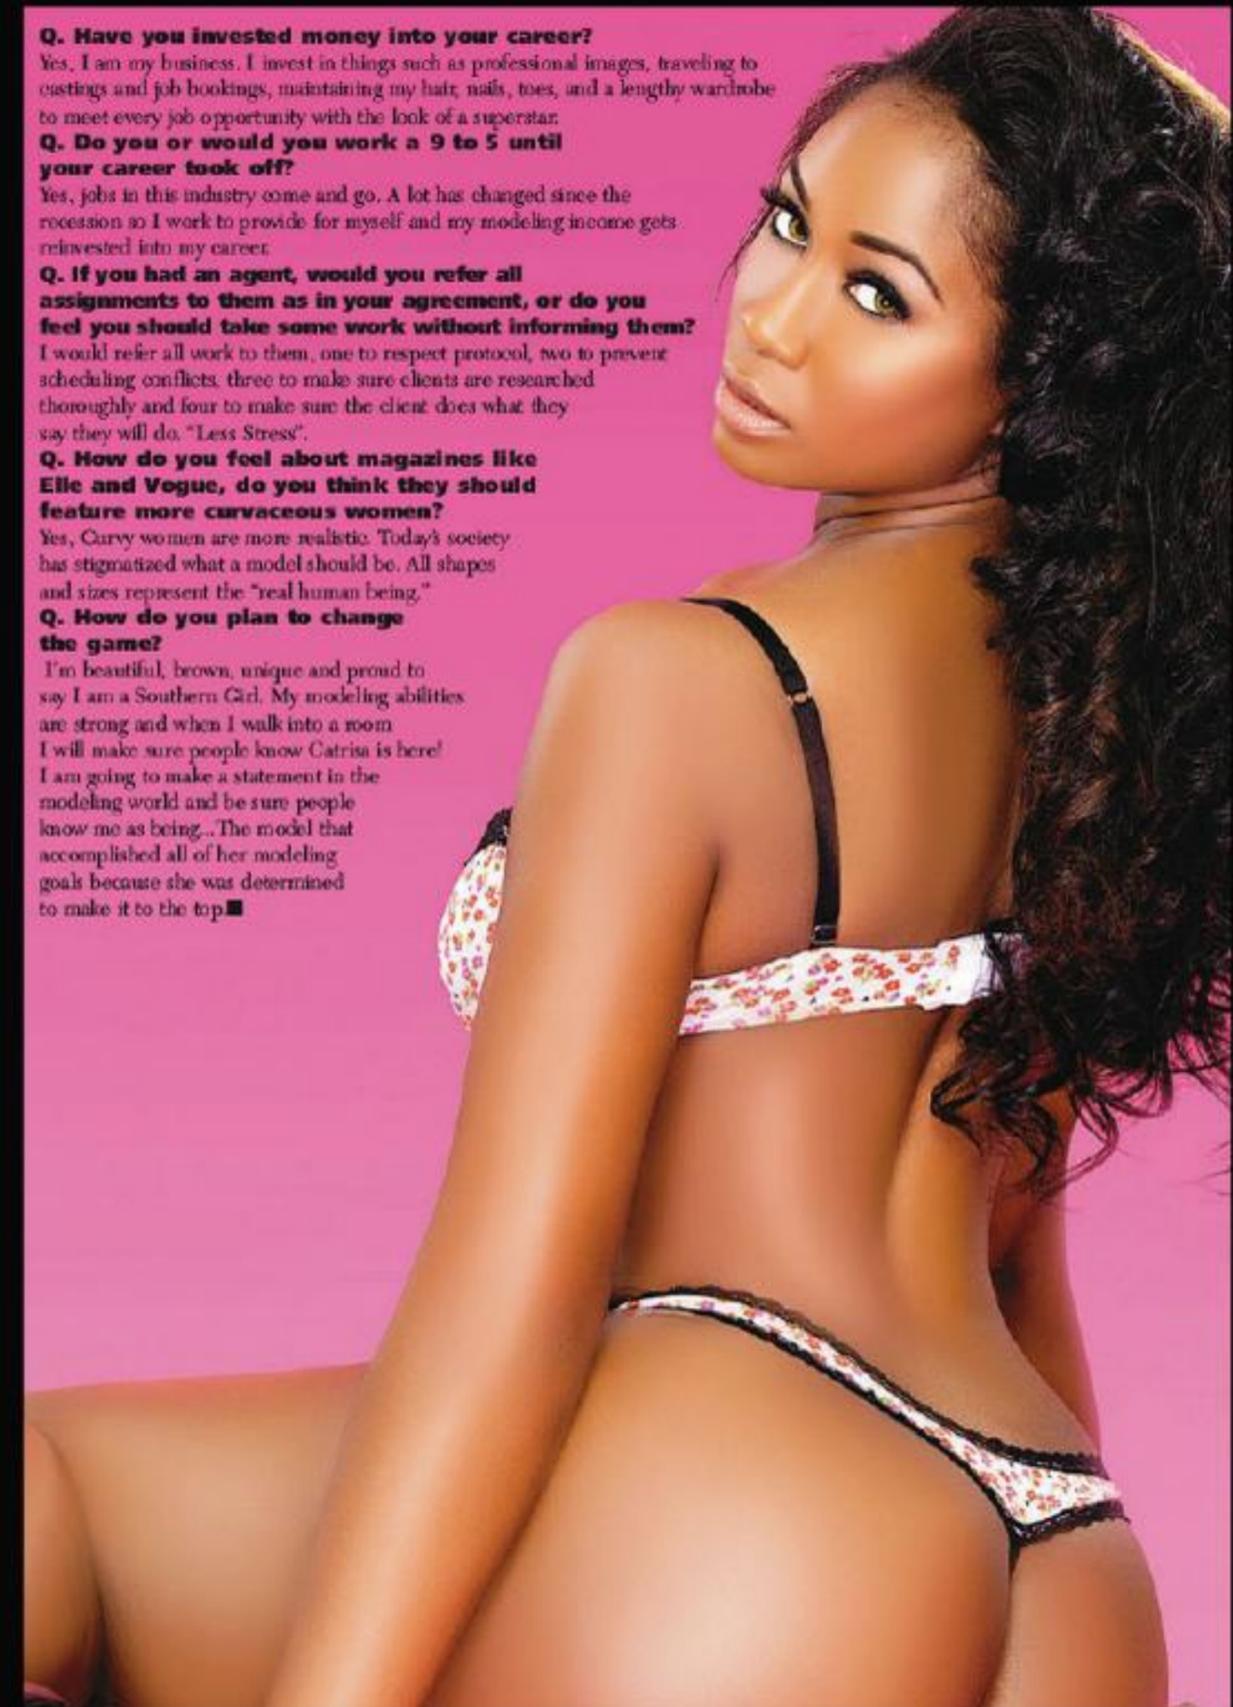

I would refer all work to them, one to respect protocol, two to prevent scheduling conflicts, three to make sure clients are researched thoroughly and four to make sure the client does what they say they will do. "Less Stress".

Q. How do you feel about magazines like Elle and Vogue, do you think they should feature more curvaceous women?

Yes, Curvy women are more realistic. Today's society has stigmatized what a model should be. All shapes and sizes represent the "real human being."

Q. How do you plan to change the game?

I'm beautiful, brown, unique and proud to say I am a Southern Girl. My modeling abilities are strong and when I walk into a room I will make sure people know Catrisa is here! I am going to make a statement in the modeling world and be sure people know me as being...The model that accomplished all of her modeling goals because she was determined to make it to the top! ■

Q. Why do you think you should be a Black Men Model?

Beautiful, passionate, and determined are just a few words used to describe me. Standing 5'3 and 34 D- 24- 44, and yes, those are my measurements! I'm a triple threat with a curvaceous body and I'm a main attraction to men, women, young, and old! You now have the total package. A beautiful woman with brains, and I must not forget a natural born hustler!

Q. Did you market yourself to fans on www.Blackmendigital.com?

Yes, I urge my fans via twitter and text vote and support not only me but Blackmendigital.com as well, multiple times daily!

Q. Were you always this amazingly curvy?

Throughout school I always had an athletic frame, but after I took a break from dance, I picked up a couple of pounds that went to all the right places!

Q. What disadvantages do you feel you have as an urban model?

I feel that my only disadvantage as an urban model is my location. I currently reside in Nashville, TN and in my opinion, this city lacks many of the incentives that are vital for a model to excel in this industry. Therefore in my case, traveling is a must and networking is always key.

Q. Do you think that having size 40 or more hips inhibits most models?

In my case, having size 44" hips benefits me. With my height, I am too short and curvaceous for runway. Therefore it's about taking what inhibits you in one place to a place where it is openly embraced and appreciated.

Q. Where do you train if you are acting?

I graduated from a middle and high school where I studied theatre and dance. Unfortunately, I am currently not training for acting, but I would like to explore all aspects of this industry including videos acting. I would like to grace the cover of many magazines so training is in my near future.

Q. Why do you think you should be a Black Men Model?

I'm just happy to see that Black Men Magazine has the 40/40 issue, so that we can show the world that it's okay to be curvy. I've been told no over and over again, but I'm never giving up until I reach the top. I'm very proud of the way my body was created naturally, and I'm not afraid to show it off. Not everyone is a size 2, 4, 6 or 8. I represent the sexy ladies in the two digit family I know I have what it takes to be a Black Men's model. I've admired all the lovely ladies shot for the magazine and I know I fit right in, if I don't stand out. Being a Black Men's model is not just being a pretty face with a banging body. You've got to have brains, too. You need to be book and street smart and I think I represent that well, because I have it all. I'm a new face, and I'm ready to show the world that I can have it all.

Q. Did you market yourself to fans on www.Blackmendigital.com?

Yes.

Q. Were you always this amazingly curvy?

Yes, it runs in the family.

Q. What disadvantages do you feel you have as an urban model?

I dislike the fact that many large size and/or curvy women shop at Victoria's Secret, but I never see them on the runway or in commercials advertising the products. That's all about to change. Curvy women need to unite and let the world know that being thick is beautiful and we can be high fashion models as well.

Q. Do you think that having size 40 or more hips inhibits most models?

I absolutely do. Having wide hips can make you look skankish, depending on the pose. That's a reason we're ignored. I love the way Black Men's Magazine is high standard with their models. Which is why I love to being a part of it.

Q. Do you have a commercial head shot?

No.

Q. Do you understand that without these things on your resume that your career, if any might be short?

Yes, and I'm working on it.

Q. Favorite drink?

Sweet Tea.

Q. Favorite food?

Spaghetti.

Q. Why do you think you should be a Black Men Model?

I should be a Black Men Model because I represent to day's total black woman, mind, body and soul.

Q. Did you market yourself to fans on www.Blackmendigital.com?

Yes.

Q. Were you always this amazingly curvy? Yes, and I use to hate it. Lol

Q. What disadvantages do you feel you have as an urban model?

I'm 5'8" which is pretty tall for a woman and extra tall for an urban model because majority of the models are 5'5" and under. I can be considered a high fashion model just because of my height.

Q. Do you think that having size 40 or more hips inhibits most models? No, because if you pose the right way you can look like you have 36 inch hips (at least I can).

Q. Where do you train if you are acting?

I train with my acting coach.

Q. Do you have a commercial head shot?

Yes.

Q. Do you understand that without these things on your resume that your career, if any, might be short?

Yes.

Q. What's your favorite drink?

Orange Juice.

Q. What's your favorite food?

Bacon.

Q. Mood Music?

R & B.

Q. Your favorite vacation spot?

A beautiful island.

Q. Favorite place to be kissed?

My neck and stomach (it's a tie).

Q. Favorite body part on your man?

Chest.

Q. Favorite place to kiss him?

Chest.

Q. How often do you measure yourself?

Maybe every 2 months.

Q. Are you proud of your curves?

Yes, I love them!!!

Q. What curvaceous celebrity did you identify with as a role model for success?

Beyonce.

Q. Have you invested money into your career?

Of course!

Q. Do you or would you work a 9 to 5 until your career took off?

Yes. I would because how else would I be able to invest in myself.

Q. If you had an agent, would you refer all assignments to them as in your agreement, or do you feel you should take on some work without informing them?

I would consult with them every time.

Q. How do you feel about magazines like Elle and Vogue, do you think they should feature more curvaceous women?

Yes. I do think they should feature more curvy women because women are beautiful in all shapes and sizes and besides, we did not ask to be born like this.

Q. How do you plan to change the game?

By getting booked for high fashion modeling gigs. ■

Q. Why do you think you should be a Black Men Model?
I should be a Black Men Model because aside from the obvious, (fresh face, gorgeous and amazing body), I appeal to more than just your physical attraction. I'm always the center of attention not only for my looks but my personality as well, very fun and outgoing! I'm everyone's favorite. Other than the above, I work hard in everything

I do and I'm smart as hell. To know me is to love me.
Q. Did you market yourself to fans on www.BlackmenDigital.com?
Yes, I did. I went HARD!
Q. Were you always this amazingly curvy?
Yes, I always had curves but like wine, I got finer with time.
Q. What disadvantages do you feel you have as an urban model?
As an urban model, you're more likely to be stereotyped as uneducated among other things. Never judge a book by its cover because you never know what's "Behind Her Shades" -Amber Rose.
Q. Do you think that having size 40 or more hips inhibits most models?
I do, I always wanted to model since high school. Seeing stick thin models makes it very hard for curvy women to believe in success when it comes to this industry. It was very discouraging looking in magazines with women whose body types matched only about 5% of their readers.
Q. Do you have a commercial head shot?
Yes.
Q. Do you understand that without these things on your resume that your career if any, might be short?
Yes I understand, but until I am able to train for acting I'll rely on my fast-paced learning abilities.
Q. Favorite drink?
Cin and Tonic.
Q. Favorite food?
Seafood, I'm an expensive date.
Q Mood Music?
Baby making music preferably R. Kelly, Trey Songz and Chris Brown.
Q. Favorite vacation spot?
Costa Rica, I fell in love with their beautiful country, strawberry wine and romantic natural hot springs.
Q. Favorite place to be kissed?
I can only pick one? In that case, the back of my neck, all the way down my back.
Q. Favorite body part on your man?
What do you think? Ha ha ha. Let's keep this clean. I'm obsessed with his juicy lips. I can learn all I need to know by the way a man kisses.
Q. Favorite place to kiss him?
His pelvis area, it's such a tease and a turn on.
Q. How often do you measure yourself?
Not too often, but when I do I'm always very pleased.

Q. Why do you think you should be a Black Men Model?

It would be an honor and more than appreciated to be a Black Men's model. One of my goals is to be featured in the magazine. I believe that with my multi-ethnic look I would appeal to many different readers and cultures. I feel I have a decent following to help promote, including my many female fans that I'm blessed to have support me. I would prove to be a great addition to your lovely roster of models.

Q. Did you market yourself to fans on www.Blackmendigital.com?

Yes, I'm asking for my five stars and I'm promoting BMD every day.

Q. Were you always this amazingly curvy?

I've looked the same size and all since seventh grade. Before that I hadn't developed yet.

Q. What disadvantages do you feel you have as an urban model?

I feel as though I can cross over and work both sides. I'm not restricted to just being an urban model, as some curvy models may be. The only disadvantage I can see are the common stereotypes that must be overcome.

Q. Do you think that having size 40 or more hips inhibits most models?

I think it may limit you, but there is a huge market for such curvy women and times are changing. Thick is in.

Q. Where do you train if you are acting?

I've trained with Larry, B. Scott and Bobby Chance.

Q. Do you have a commercial head shot?

Yes.

Q. Do you understand that without these things on your resume that your career if any, might be short?

Yes, I understand and of course, not having a updated resume as well as a current head shot will discourage someone from wanting to book you as a talent.

Q. Favorite drink?

Gatorade.

Q. Favorite food?

Cheese pizza.

Q. Mood Music?

Q. Favorite vacation spot?

Miami, I love the beach and it's close to some of my family.

Q. Favorite place to be kissed?

On my face and neck.

Q. Favorite body part on your man?

His back.

Q. Favorite place to kiss him?

His stomach.

Q. How often do you measure yourself?

Q. Why do you think you should be a Black Men Model?

Black Men is a magazine that I've always wanted to be featured in and I feel like I definitely have what it takes to be one of its best featured models. I mean, look at me!

Q. Did you market yourself to fans on www.Blackmendigital.com?

Yes I did! I got love from my Facebook & Twitter fan base.

Q. Were you always this amazingly curvy?

ALL OF MY LIFE. I was pulling high school guys when I was in the sixth grade.

Q. What disadvantages do you feel you have as an urban model?

The disadvantages of being an urban model to me is the way that I'm shaped. I have hips and thunder thighs. This hinders me from booking work in the fashion industry at times. In their eyes, I'm not a "real model" because of my curves.

Q. Do you think that having size 40+ hips inhibits most models?

Yes, the imagery society puts forth via media, etc. says that you're not supposed to have 40+ hips. It makes a lot of curvaceous women feel as if they are not good enough to be a model because of their size. Hopefully, I can be that model to let all of my 40+ women know that it's OK to have curves! Embrace them!

Q. If you are pursuing acting, where do you train?

I take 3 classes a week at The Alliance Theater of Atlanta.

Q. Do you have a commercial head shot?

Yes, I do.

Q. Why do you think you should be a Black Men Model?

I have the ever so lusted after curves known to keep Black Men's readers attention. I also represent a unique woman, whom I feel young girls are aspiring to be now, more than ever; strong, independent, and confident. Women today are forced to play Superwoman, and I embrace that role with grace. I am damn proud of my curves and sex appeal, yet I am extremely educated and have business savvy.

Absolutely.

Q. Were you always this amazingly curvy?

Yes, I remember when I was younger and began to develop before all the other girls...I actually was ashamed of my curves. It's funny to me now, because I have never felt more beautiful.

Q. What disadvantages do you feel you have as an urban model?

I think being characterized in this industry is hella easy, so I try to stay away from certain roles and gigs that will only promote me to one market.

Q. Do you think that having size 40 or more hips inhibits most models?

Not anymore! I think the media is finally shining some light on the beauty of a natural figure: a woman with nice hips and an ass.

Q. Do you have a commercial head shot?

Yes.

Q. Do you understand that without these things on your resume that you career, if any, might be short?

Yes, of course.

Q. Favorite drink?

Pinot Noir or Belvedere Madras.

Q. Favorite food?

Italian.

Q. Mood Music?

System of a Down or Metallica if im going out; something slow to grind to.

Q. Favorite Vacation Spot?

Ft. Lauderdale Beach

Q. Favorite place to be kissed?

Neck.

Q. Favorite body part on your man?

Shoulders, covered in tattoos.

Q. Why do you think you should be a Black Men Model?

I think I should be a Black Men Model because I have a true hourglass figure, a small frame with curves in all the right places. In addition to my physical assets, I have a lot going on for myself. I'm outgoing, educated, down to earth, and I have my own business, Jewel Envy.

Q. Did you market yourself to fans on www.Blackmendigital.com?

Yes.

Q. Were you always this amazingly curvy? No, I used to be thin growing up. It wasn't until I got older and my metabolism slowed down that I started gaining weight and

I started embracing my curves.

Q. What disadvantages do you feel you have as an urban model?

Right now, urban modeling is featuring more Latinas and lighter-complexion models which is somewhat of a disadvantage for me since I am caramel complexion. However, I just see it as a way for me to stand out more and represent for my beautiful brown divas!

Q. Do you think that having size 40 or more hips inhibits most models?

Yes, I do. Work is already limited as a model and being voluptuous limits it even more. You are primarily restricted to only urban modeling.

Do you have a commercial head shot?

Yes.

Q. Do you understand that without these things on your resume that your career if any, might be short?

Yes.

Q. Favorite drink?

Pomegranate Margarita,

Q. Favorite food?

Cajun food, Mexican food

Q. Mood Music?

Trey Songz, anything slow and sexy

Q. Favorite vacation spot?

Dubai. I have traveled a good amount of places and nowhere tops my experiences as my travels to Dubai. Everything is so luxurious and opulent over there. It definitely makes you want more out of life. I have been twice, and I look forward to going back again.

Q. Favorite place to be kissed?

My stomach.

Q. Favorite body part on your man?

His arms.

Q. Favorite place to kiss him?

His neck.

Q. How often do you measure yourself?

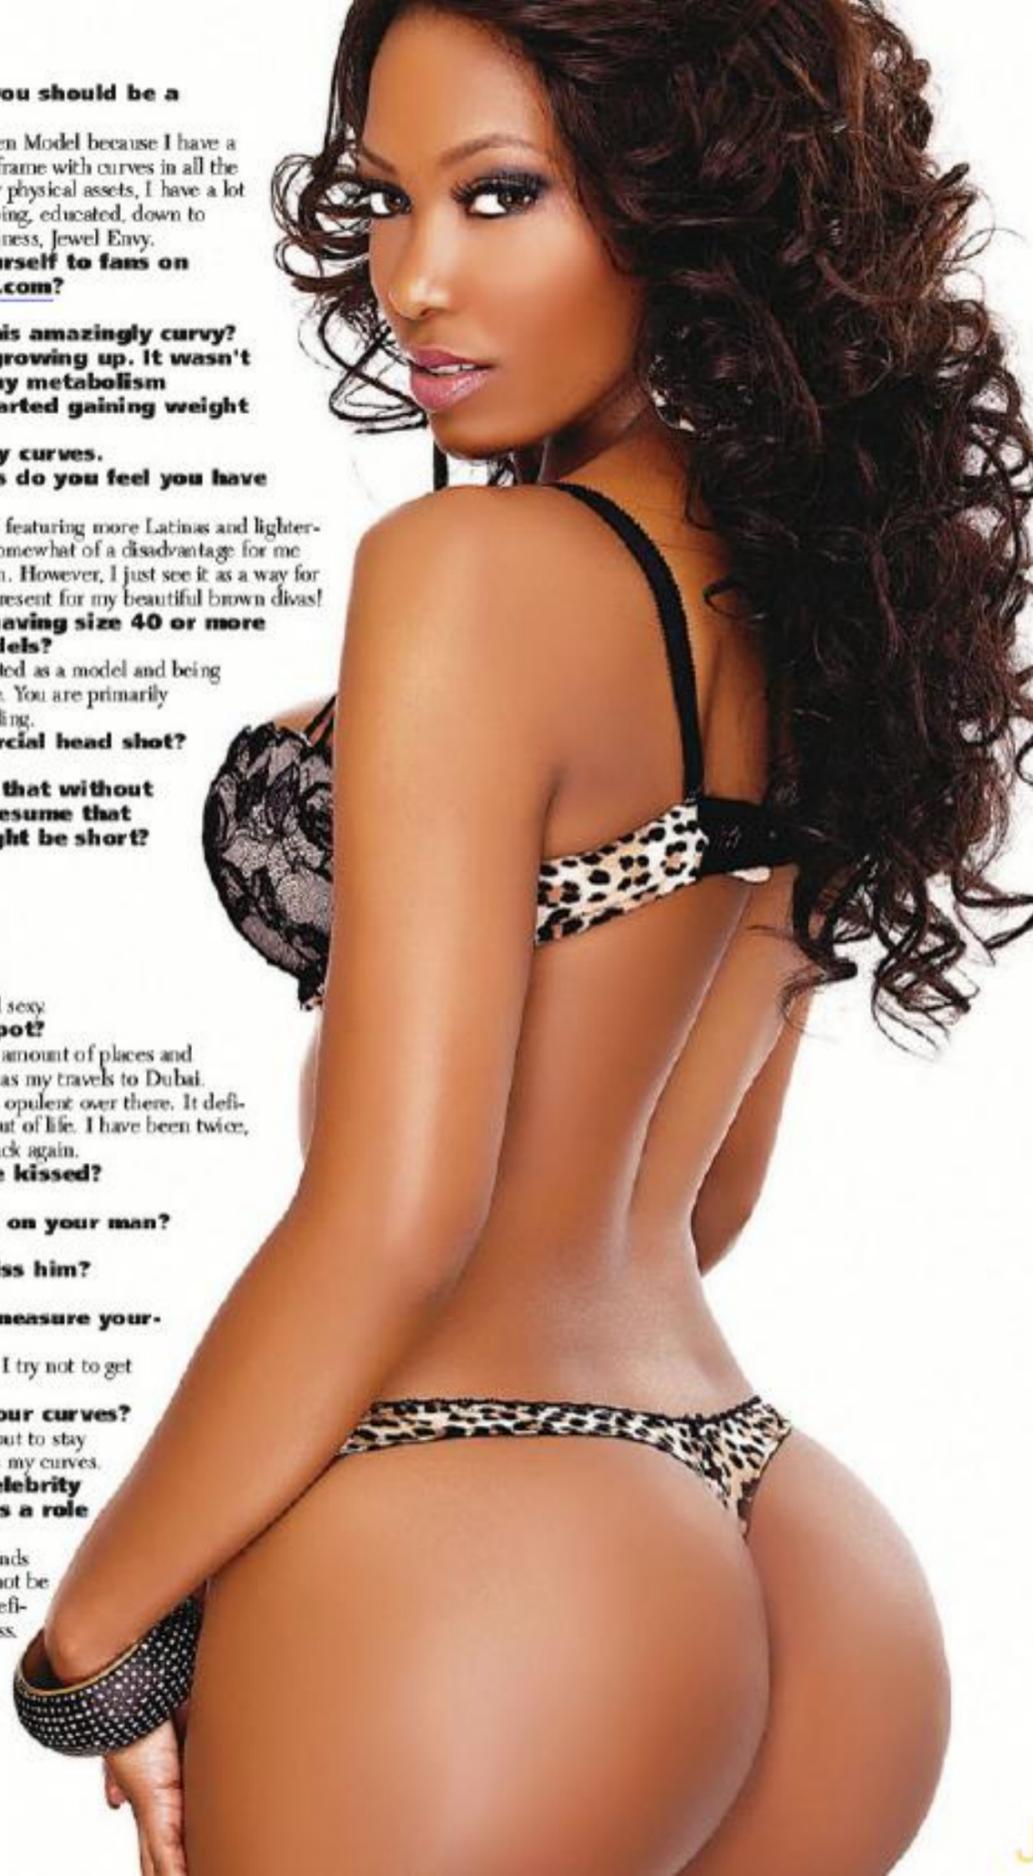

I hardly ever measure myself. I try not to get wrapped up in numbers.

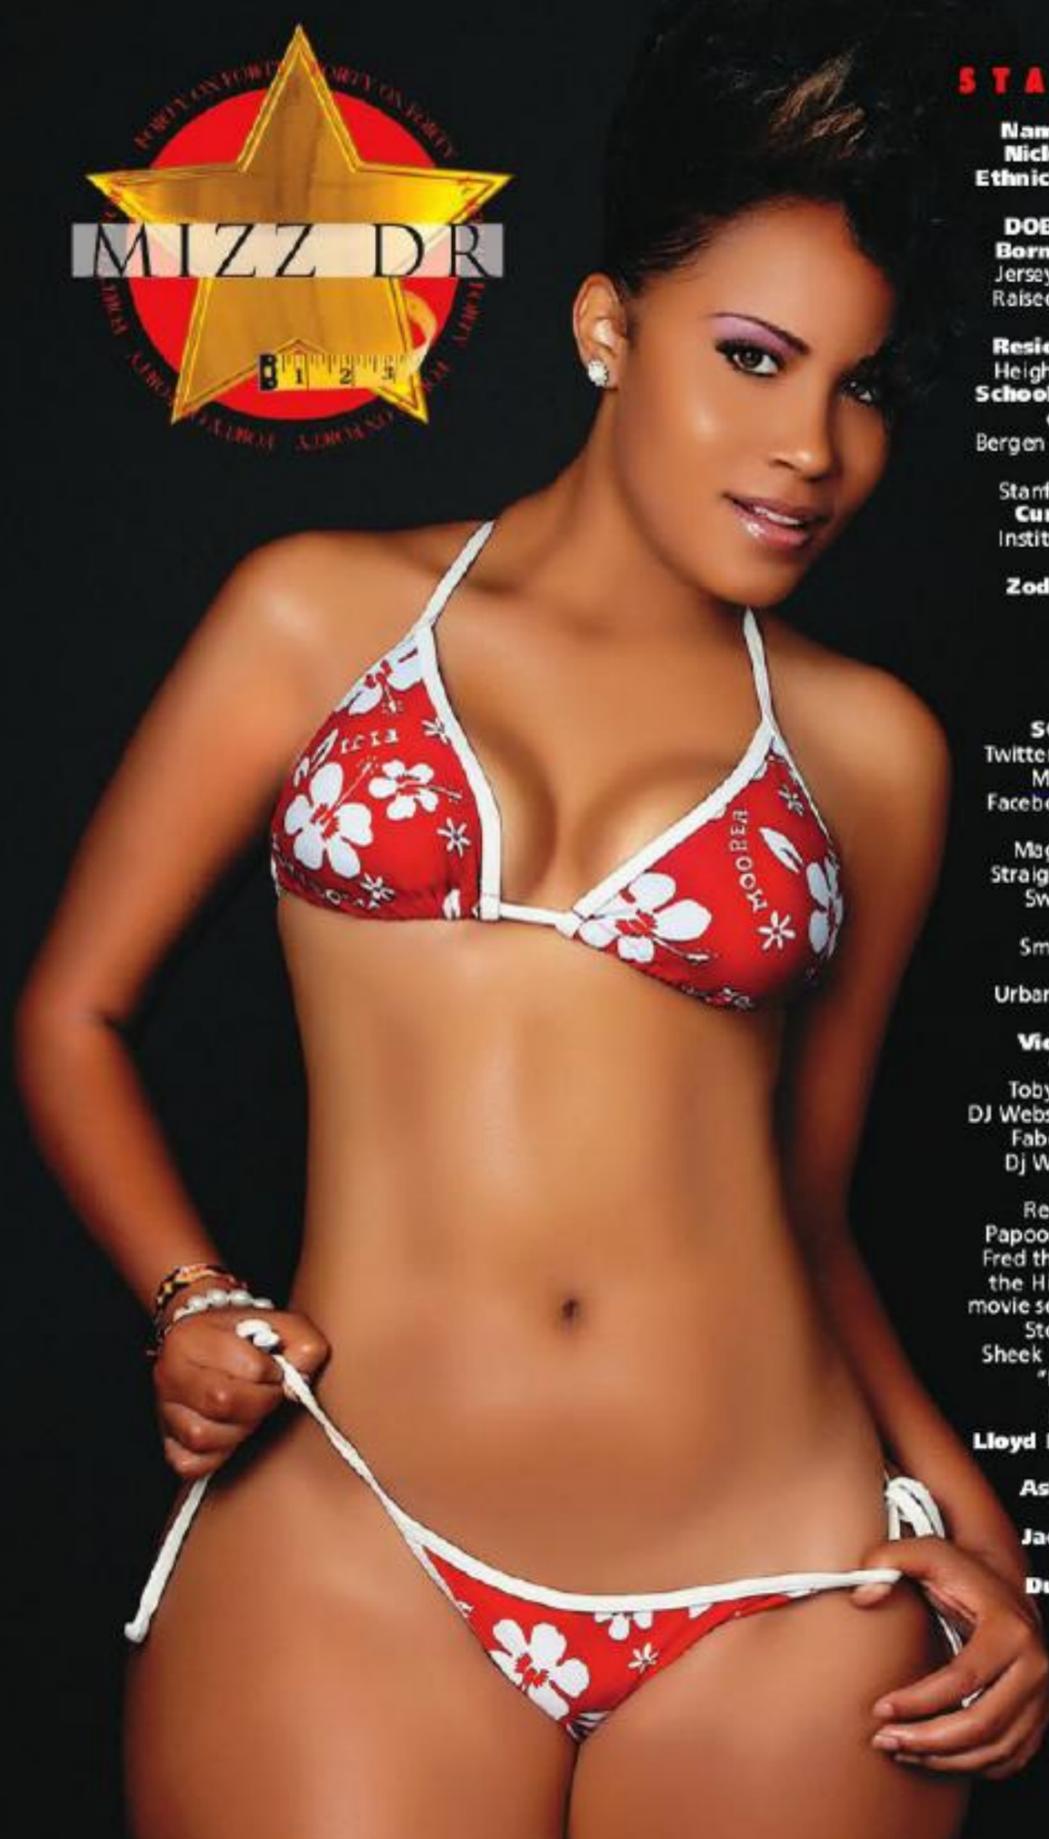

Q. Are you proud of your curves?

Yes, I love my curves. I work out to stay toned but I never want to lose my curves.

Q. What curvaceous celebrity do you identify with as a role model for success?

I would have to say Oprah, hands down. While her curves may not be in all the right places, she is definitely curvaceous, none the less. It is just so inspirational to know where she came from and where she stands today, a billionaire ranking as the second richest Black person in the world. ■

Q. Why do you think you should be a Black Men Model?

I should be a Black Men Model because aside from the obvious (fresh face, gorgeous and amazing body), I appeal to more than just your physical attraction. I'm always the center of attention, not only for my looks but my personality as well, very fun and outgoing! I'm everyone's favorite. Other than the above, I work hard in everything I do and I'm smart as hell. To know me is to love me.

Q. Did you market yourself to fans on www.Blackmigital.com?

Yes, I did.

Q. Were you always this amazingly curvy?

No, I started to develop when I was 16 in high school.

Q. What disadvantages do you feel you have as an urban model?

Relationships would be the main factor because of the environment that I work in. A lot of men tend to be against what I do because of all the stereotypes that exists in the urban modeling industry.

Q. Do you think that having size 40 or more hips inhibits most models?

No, because one of the most successful models is Tyra Banks. She became a top model and her figure was never as skinny as the models in the top magazines.

Q. Where do you train if you are acting?

I train at the Actors Gym in New York.

Q. Do you have a commercial head shot?

Yes.

Q. Do you understand that without these things on your resume that your career if any, might be short?

Yes, I understand, that is why I attend my acting classes regularly.

Q. Favorite drink?

I don't drink.

Q. Favorite food?

Rice and beans.

Q. Mood Music?

FOR MORE MIZZ DR,
 GO TO WWW.
 BLACKMENDIGITAL.COM

Baby making music preferably R. Kelly, Trey Songz and Chris Brown.

Q. Favorite vacation spot?

Dominican Republic. My beautiful country.

Q. Favorite place to be kissed?

My neck is the favorite place.

Q. Favorite body part on your man?

His lips. When I kiss him sometimes I don't want to let go.

Q. Favorite place to kiss him?

His neck and pelvic area.

Q. How often do you measure yourself?

Every six months.

Q. Are you proud of your curves?

Hell yeah. I thank God for them every day.

Q. What curvaceous celebrity do you identify with as a role model for success?

Tyra Banks.

Q. Have you invested money into your career?

Hell yeah. You have to put in a little to get out a lot.

Q. Do you or would you work a 9 to 5 until your career took off?

Yes, I work as well as going to school, I can't depend on modeling to survive; it's not a career. It's a hobby.

Q. If you had an agent, would you refer all assignments to them as in your agreement, or do you feel you should take some work without informing them?

Yes, I would refer all assignments to my agent as long as I know I'm in the right hands.

Q. How do you feel about magazines like Elle and Vogue, do you think they should feature more curvaceous women?

Definitely, because there is so many different beautiful women that come in different shape and sizes. It's not all about curves and beauty; intelligence plays a major role.

Q. How do you plan to change the game?

By staying natural, being myself and not letting the game corrupt me.

Q. Why do you think you should be a Black Men Model?

A. I am a new, fresh face placing my mark in this industry. I have a sweet, sexy and mysterious look that will keep fans wanting more. I work hard and dedicate a lot of time to my career. I'm what a Black Men model fully represents: talent, hard work and quality.

Q. Did you market yourself to fans on www.Blackmen digital.com?

Yes! I tweet it everyday.

Q. Were you always this amazingly curvy?

A. Yes. I've always had curves and a natural coke bottle shape. NO IMPLANTS REQUIRED!

Q. What disadvantages do you feel you have as an urban model?

I don't see myself as just an urban model. I believe my look and work is diverse.

Q. Are you proud of your curves?

Yes, because anyone can be skinny, but if someone has a little more weight on them it doesn't mean that it will fall in the right places and still be sexy. I can be sexy at 125 or 155. Not many models can say that.

Q. What curvaceous celebrity do you identify as role model for success?

Kim Kardashian. She has a full bust, hips and carries it well. She's respected in a market that mostly shines light on the tall and skinny girls, but she still manages to make a major impact.

Q. Have you invested money into your career?

Yes by getting quality photographs, comp cards and a gym membership.

Q. Do or would you work a 9 to 5 until your career took off?

Yes. If you don't work you don't eat.

Q. If you had an agent, would you refer all assignments to them as in your agreement, or do you feel you should take some work without informing them?

I think it's best to inform them about assignments because they can help guide you in the best direction and help you avoid making bad choices.

Q. How do you feel about magazines like Elle and Vogue? Do you think they should feature more curvaceous women?

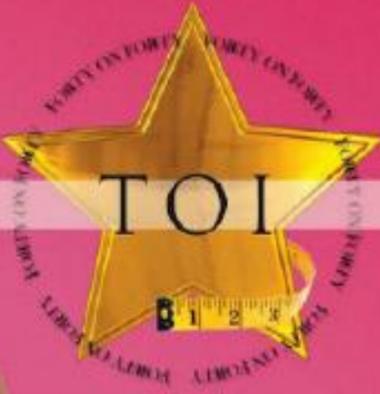

For high fashion designers, it's easier to make clothes for models that don't have any particular shape to them.

Q. How do you plan to change the game?

I plan to change the game by not being what everyone expects me to be and by doing what they think I can't.

Kim Kardashian, because she is not afraid to be curvy in stick figure dominated Hollywood, and her fans love her for it.

Q. Have you invested money into your career?

You have to spend money to make money.

Q. Do you or would you work a 9 to 5 until your career took off?

Yes, school is currently my 9 to 5, never a dull moment.

Q. If you had an agent, would you refer all assignments to them as in your agreement, or do you feel you should take some work without informing them?

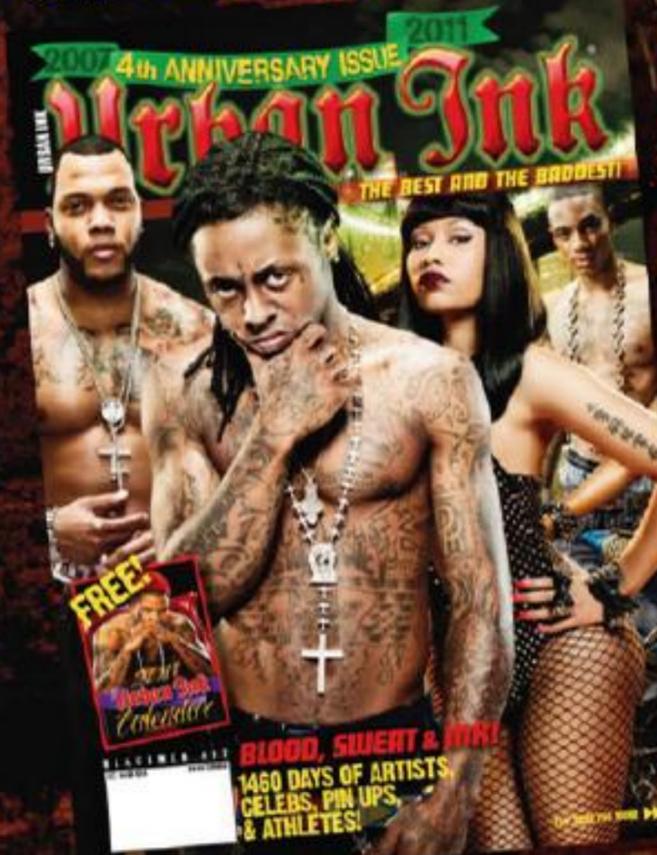

My agent, Jay Glover, handles all work for me because I trust his professional opinion and judgment.

On Career Goals

To brand my name and build an empire around Kristal Solis.

On Traveling

My favorite place is Miami. When I'm there I feel like I'm home and the view in Miami is gorgeous.

Little Known Fact

Other than me not being a drinker at all, I'm a homebody and just love being home.

What Krystal finds sexy in a man

It has to be a man's personality that can make me laugh on a daily basis and he has to have a beautiful smile.

As the RapModels.net Editor's Choice model of the month, any words for your fans?

YES! I want to thank all the voters and supporters that voted for me on RapModels.net because if you see all the votes I have on there now it's insane and I want to thank everybody for that one. I also would like to thank Marcus Blassingame and Bryan of RapModels.net for this award and continuously supporting me.

FASHION-FORWARD WEEKEND

Today's Black Woman, Hype Hair and Black Men Magazine will present the 17th Anniversary Party & Music showcase, with a special guest invited from the fashion, film and music industries. If you are a fashion-forward person and want to meet the leaders of this industry, this is the place to be. Be at the Marriott Hotel, 1 Hotel Road, Newark, NJ, 07114 on Saturday May 7, 2011. Doors will open at 9pm, showtime is 10pm, and the party continues until 2:30am. Ticket prices are $20 at the door, $15 with invite.

On Sunday May 8, 2011, Today's Black Woman, Heart & Soul, and Upscale magazines will present the New Day Associates 32nd Annual International Model of The Year Contest. Males and females will be competing for a $1,000 cash prize and a fashion layout in either Today's Black Woman or Heart & Soul magazine. Doors open at 5pm, and showtime is 6pm. Tickets will be sold in advance at $30, or sold at the door for $35. Special room rates, single or double occupancy, are $99. To make a reservation, contact the hotel at 973-623-0006, and ask for the New Day block of rooms. For more information on both events, call John Blassingame, publisher of Today's Black Woman, at 609-655-3667, or e-mail him at info@lindennewday.com. Both events will be held at the Marriott Hotel at Newark International Airport. See you there. ■

F.A.Q. About XOMAX

Q: How soon do you see results?
A: Most men see results with their first dose and the results continue to improve over 60 - 90 days.

Q: How do I gauge my results?
A: For most men, if XOMAX is taken continuously for three to four months, followed by a maintenance program, the results are outstanding.

Q: How does XOMAX compare to others brands?
A: With a 97% success rate nothing comes close to matching XOMAX results.

Q: Is XOMAX natural?
A: XOMAX is 100% natural, safe and Doctor recommended for those seeking for advanced male enhancement, plus XOMAX has no side effects.

Q: What makes XOMAX the #1 natural male enhancement formula?
A: XOMAX has a highly effective proprietary blend of concentrated nutrients. These natural compounds are amazingly stimulating to the male penis. You won't find a stronger blend of nutrients in any other male enhancement product. The reason? XOMAX contains extremely expensive imported ingredients and many manufacturers won't spend that kind of money. Instead, they pass off less expensive ingredients, such as Ginseng or low-end forms of L-Arginine.

Q: Is XOMAX guaranteed to work?
A: XOMAX is 100% GUARANTEED! If you're not completely satisfied, return the bottle(s) within three months to receive a refund. Plus now have an effective way to increase the size of their penis. Why pay for imitations that will not solve the problem? You may spend a little more on XOMAX, but the results will be worth it! You often get what you pay for, so remember that the genuine ingredients in XOMAX are GUARANTEED to work!

How do you feel about magazines like Elle and Vogue, do you think that they should feature more curvaceous women?
I believe they should feature more, however, you as the talent have to impact them so much that they will have to feature you. As talent, we have to make them say yes.
Q. How do you plan to change the game?
I plan to change the game by creating a lane that will inspire models as I believe that creating a lane can open doors for others seeking the same passion. ■

CANDY

Q. Mood Music?
Nature's music.
Q. Favorite vacation spot?
Africa.
Q. Favorite place to be kissed?
Neck.
Q. Favorite body part on your man?
Chest.
Q. Favorite place to kiss him?
Neck.
Q. How often do you measure yourself?
Once a year.
Q. Are you proud of your curves?
Very much so.
Q. What curvaceous celebrity do you identify as role model for success?
Melissa Ford.
Q. Have you invested money into your career?
Yes.
Q. How do you feel about magazines like Elle and Vogue, do you think they should feature more curvaceous women?
I love those magazines but I can't identify with them because the women don't look like me. They should feature curvy women.
Q. How do you plan to change the game?
By taking away the negative connotations behind being a dark skinned model. ■

JESSICA Z
measure myself whenever I see a tape measure lying around. I can't help myself.
Q. Are you proud of your curves?
I used to be very shy about them, but now I love my curves. I feel like a "real woman".
Q. What curvaceous celebrity do you identify with as a role model for success?
I'd have to say Kim Kardashian would be my role model. When it comes to curves, she made Hollywood appreciate them.
Q. Have you invested money in your career?
I've invested in my career. You have to. Just keeping up my looks is an investment. There's the gym pass, hair, nails, good photographers and photo editing. Sometimes you have to fly yourself out to a shoot, but it all pays off.
Q. Do you or would you work a 9 to 5 until your career took off?
I don't work and I haven't worked in years. I'm a full-time mom and I have a bathing suit line as well as my modeling. I could never work a 9-5 again.
Q. If you had an agent, would you refer all assignments to them as in your agreement or do you feel you should take some work without informing them?
Agents are supposed to find you work and take a percentage for finding it. They're not to get credit for what you find, but if you have a contract with a management company that's different.
Q. How do you feel about magazines like Elle and Vogue, do you think that they should feature more curvaceous women?
I like Elle and Vogue. I think it's okay that they use thin women because they are beautiful, too. As long as we have magazines featuring curvy women, who cares?
Q. How do you plan to change the game?
I don't plan on changing the game, but I plan on changing my own game. I want to be respected as a curvy model, a face model, and a print and fashion model, and I will ■

Q. Are you proud of your curves?
Yes, like I said I was very thin most of my life, so I'm so happy to finally fill out.

168 BLACKMEN

Q. Have you invested money into your career?
Some.
Q. How do you feel about magazines like Elle and Vogue, do you think they should feature more curvaceous women?
Being really thin for most women is not realistic. Real women have curves.
Q. How do you plan to change the game?
I just want to bring back women with pretty faces and small waists. Thank you for featuring me in this issue. I hope everyone enjoys the spread. My site is www.meshaseville.com. Check there and twitter www.twitter.com/meshaseville for updates!

MASKA
Q. What curvaceous celebrity do you identify as role model for success?
Call it cliché, but I have to go with Beyoncé.
Q. Have you invested money into your career?
Absolutely. If you don't take initiative to boost your own career, why would some one else? Everyone's heard the age old term 'you have to spend money to make money.' Invest in your portfolio, invest in your body with gym memberships or a trainer. Spend a little bit on hair care, skin care, proper clothing for castings and go ads and so on. You don't have to be rich; you can put a little bit to the side every week or each paycheck and start a "career fund".
Q. How do you feel about magazines like Elle and Vogue, do you think they should feature more curvaceous women?
I love them personally, and I think that they should have the freedom to feature whomever they want at whatever size they want. It's a free world where beauty is translated in 1,000,000 different ways. I personally think curves are amazing but if "W" magazine won't book me and my double D's, I'm not going to boycott.
Q. How do you plan to change the game?
I don't plan to change the game, I just want to add to it, and change the lives of a few people I love.

EVE
do you feel you should take some work without informing them?
I would inform my agent first.
Q. How do you feel about magazines like Elle and Vogue, do you think they should feature more curvaceous models?
I don't think they will, even if I say they should. Elle and Vogue are runway magazines. They're into 5'11", skinny, extra flat models. But sometimes they will have J. Lo in the cover.
Q. How do you plan to change the game?
I'm just going to be myself and have fun.

WAKINA
do you feel you should take some work?
Q. Favorite Vacation Spot?
Cancun.
Q. Favorite place to be kissed?
Neck and Back that's what you call my hot spot.
Q. Favorite body part on your man?
Lips.
Q. Favorite place to kiss him?
His whole body.
Q. How often do you measure yourself?
All the time since I have a high metabolism, my weight fluctuates.
Q. Are you proud of your curves?
Yes I am.
Q. If you had an agent, would you refer all assignments to them as in your agreement, or do you feel you should take some work without informing them?
I feel if you have an agent you should run the work by them first. Let your agent do his/her job that's what they got paid for especially if there's a signed contract. You should never break the trust between you and your agent, that's bad business. Who will put you on the road to failure, the plan here is to succeed, not FAIL. Now if you have something you don't agree with that's when you communicate to resolve any issues.

Q. How do you feel about magazines like Elle and Vogue, do you think they should feature more curvaceous women?
Yes, especially since the world is steady evolving with fashion and models. Everyone deserves a chance to shine especially if they have the potential.
Q. How do you plan to change the game?

By helping others get started. I notice that when a lot of models make their big breaks you have other women that look up to them and want to get where they are. Upcoming models will tend to reach out to established models and get the cold shoulder "like chick, make your own way because I'm not helping" or you get silence, which means no response. That happened to me when I reached out to established models. Only one model, Sultry Simone, gave me advice and I will never forget that to this day because she didn't see me as a threat but as someone that she inspired. ■

Q. Are you proud of your curves?
My curves are to die for, who wouldn't be proud? Every day I wake up and feel like the sexiest woman.
Q. What curvaceous celebrity do you identify with as a role model for success?
Kim Kardashian. She has an amazing body and she isn't afraid to show it off. Even with her sex tape coming to light, her image has never faltered. She remains a role model for many females.
Q. Have you invested money into your career?
Hell yeah! You don't get anywhere without investing a little something first.
Q. Do you or would you work a 9 to 5 until your career took off?
I presently work a 9-5 to support my goals and aspirations.

Q. If you had an agent, would you refer all assignments to them as in your agreement, or do you feel you should take some work without informing them?
Once I agree to the terms and conditions of an agreement, I abide by them. A major part of any business is RESPECT. It goes both ways; in order to receive you have to give.
Q. How do you feel about magazines like Elle and Vogue, do you think they should feature more curvaceous women?
Definitely. There are too many girls falling victim to eating disorders because they see the women in these magazines are so thin. They think they need to be that skinny to fit the same clothes. People only see the picture in the ad, and they fail to realize clothes come in ALL shapes and sizes. Love and appreciate your shape, curves and body type.
Q. How do you plan to change the game?
By just being me, the real me. I think it's cool that people are able to enhance their confidence by getting plastic surgery, but now the focus isn't on natural beauty anymore. Just like history repeats itself, hopefully one day we can go back to just how beautiful natural beauty truly is.

DANKA
Q. Favorite place to kiss him?
Everywhere...neck, back, lips, pelvic bone...if I am in love, you are my king.
Q. How often do you measure yourself?
Every few months.
Q. Are you proud of your curves?
Hell yeah!
Q. What curvaceous celebrity do you identify with as a role model for success?
Ok, don't judge me...besides the instant success from the sex tape, Kim K is quite the entrepreneur.
Q. Have you invested money into your career?
Yes.
Q. Do you or would you work a 9 to 5 until your career took off?
I have always been a hustler and a business woman...not much of a 9-5er.
Q. If you had an agent, would you refer all assignments to them as in your agreement, or do you feel you should take some work without informing them?
If I had an agreement, I would absolutely abide by it.

Q. How do you feel about magazines like Elle and Vogue, do you think they should feature more curvaceous women?
Honestly, given the readers and market for high fashion, they select their models appropriately. However, it is unfair for young women to be brain-washed with the idea that their curves are not sexy.
Q. How do you plan to change the game?
I am changing the game one shoot at a time by being wicked sexy and having a bad ass attitude. I cannot identify with the girl next door whatsoever, and I embrace my unique beauty! I think men like the edginess I bring to the table, all while still being a sex kitten...best of both worlds. ■

Q. Mood music?

Definitely Jodeci.

Q. Favorite vacation spot?

Cancun

Q. Favorite place to be kissed?

The inside of my thighs.

Q. Favorite place to kiss him?

Whatever makes him happy.

Q. How often do you measure yourself?

Every couple of months.

Q. Are you proud of your curves?

HELL, YES! Most white girls don't have curves like these.

Q. What curvaceous celebrity do you identify with as a role model for success?

I love Coco.

Q. Have you invested money into your career?

Yes, I feel that you have to spend money to make money. You always need to market yourself.

Q. How do you feel about magazines like Elle and Vogue, do you think they should feature more curvaceous women?

Yes, I do.

Q. How do you plan to change the game?

I plan to be humble and pay attention to everything around me and wait on my blessing and calling to come. ■

Q. Do you have a commercial head shot?

Yes, I have a commercial headshot.

Q. Do you understand that without these things on your resume that your career if any, might be short?

Yes, in this industry you have to be well-rounded and market yourself to different audiences in every way possible.

Q. Favorite drink?

Washington Apple.

Q. Favorite food?

My favorite food is Sushi.

Q. Mood Music?

Lauryn Hill and the Neo Soul sound.

Q. Favorite vacation spot?

Any place with a beach and sunny weather.

Q. Favorite place to be kissed?

There's nothing like kisses on the neck.

Q. Favorite body part on your man?

His stomach.

Q. Favorite place to kiss him?

There are too many to name.

Q. How often do you measure yourself?

I measure myself weekly.

Q. Are you proud of your curves?

I am very proud of my curves, and I hope you love them just as much as I do!

Q. If you had an agent, would you refer all assignments to them as in your agreement, or do you feel you should take some work without informing them?

As a professional, nothing would be done without informing my agent.

Q. How do you feel about magazines like Elle and Vogue, do you think they should feature more curvaceous women?

Because not every woman that reads those magazines is a size 2, not every woman that is featured in it should be a size 2.

Q. How do you plan to change the game?

I would like to be so much more than a beautiful face and nice body in this industry. The more you educate yourself in the field you're in, the less room there is for error, so I plan to learn every aspect of this industry, from the business aspect to being behind the camera. I am a "jack of all trades," and my ultimate goal has always been to be successful in anything I pursue in life. I am never satisfied with mediocrity, only greatness, and I'm prepared to take the entertainment industry by storm at maximum speed...With that said, are you ready for Dreamy? ■

Q. Do you think that having size 40 or more hips inhibits most models?

It shouldn't. Women come in all shapes and sizes, and those women with both beautiful faces and bodies should get the same opportunities as models that are slimmer and just as beautiful.

Q. Favorite food?

Pizza.

Q. Mood Music?

I can listen to Sade all day.

Q. Favorite Vacation Spot?

Anywhere in the Caribbean

Q. Favorite place to be kissed?

My neck and lips.

Q. Favorite body part on your man?

His arms.

Q. Favorite place to be kissed?

Wherever he wants to be kissed.

Q. How often do you measure yourself?

Every month or so.

Q. Are you proud of your curves?

Yes I am...very "amiles."

Q. What curvaceous celebrity do you identify with as a role model for success?

I would say the obvious, Kim Kardashian, because we have similar body types and she has come a long way from reality TV to fashion icon to business woman.

Q. How do you feel about magazines like Elle and Vogue, do you think they should feature more curvaceous women?

Definitely, like I said, beauty comes in all shapes and sizes.

Q. How do you plan to change the game?

By continuing to work hard with the right people. I strive for what I want and won't stop until it's mine; I believe that's the mentality you have to have in this industry. ■

KEARA

Q. Favorite place to be kissed?

My stomach.

Q. Favorite body part on your man?

Stomach and abs.

Q. Favorite place to kiss him?

Chest and back.

Q. How often do you measure yourself?

Once a month.

Q. What curvaceous celebrity do you identify with as a role model for success?

Nicki Minaj is the one I admire.

Q. Have you invested money into your career?

Yes, with my website that's coming soon and I take trips to market myself.

Q. If you had an agent, would you refer all assignments to them as in your agreement, or do you feel you should take some work without informing them?

I would go through them and if I get work without them I would still let them know.

Q. How do you feel about magazines like Elle and Vogue, do you think they should feature more curvaceous women?

Yes, because they have customers of all shapes and sizes and curvy woman should be featured too.

Q. How do you plan to change the game?

I plan to change the game because I'm bringing a real southern Dirty South to the world. All natural curves and the look that's needed. ■

Monthly, my measurements always change.

Q. Are you proud of your curves?

Yes, I am.

Q. What curvaceous celebrity do you identify with as a role model for success?

Vanessa Vesley. I love her and where her care or is at the present moment.

Q. If you had an agent, would you refer all assignments to them as in your agreement, or do you feel you should take some work without informing them?

If I was signed to an agent then yes, I would refer all clients to them, but being that I'm not under contract with anyone, I feel like I should be able to book jobs on my own without sending them to my agent because an agent's job is to find me jobs. If I'm booking the job on my own, why should I pay someone an agent fee when they are not getting me the bookings? Now, I will inform my agent of the work I'm doing, but until I'm under a signed agreement I'm a free agent.

Q. How do you feel about magazines like Elle and Vogue, do you think they should feature more curvaceous women?

Yes, I would love to see the collaboration.

Q. How do you plan to change the game?

I plan to change the game by being myself. I will bring Bianca Evil.

TONYA

Q. Mood Music?

Early 90's R&B.

Q. Favorite vacation spot?

Punta Cana, Dominican Republic

Q. Favorite place to be kissed?

On the forehead.

Q. Favorite body part on your man?

Hands and nice traps.

Q. Favorite place to kiss him?

In the shower.

Q. How often do you measure yourself?

All of the time, especially at the gym.

Q. Are you proud of your curves?

Yes, yes, yes!!! What would I do without them?

Q. How do you feel about magazines like Elle and Vogue, do you think they should feature more curvaceous women?

Honestly, I don't read those magazines as much. I enjoy reading magazines about people of my culture, so I really don't have an opinion of their magazines. Plus, I never see a curvy woman on the cover. No offense and I love them, but J. Lo and Kim K. are not the definition of curvy.

Q. How do you plan to change the game?

I'm a fresh face to the game. I think I have that spark that will draw a lot of people to me. Not only am I beautiful on the outside, but I'm more beautiful on the inside. I'm very smart and a true go-getter. I have two degrees and a few trades under my belt. So the broke and busted models that you see and hear about won't be me, ever! Once you get to the top you've got to be smart and remain relevant, and that's what's going to take place for me once I get this opportunity.

Q. Are you proud of your curves?

Yes.

Q. What curvaceous celebrity do you identify with as a role model for success?

Lala Vaquez.

Q. Have you invested money into your career?

Yes.

Q. Do you or would you work a 9 to 5 until your career took off?

Yes, I currently work a 5am-1:30pm shift 5 days a week.

Q. If you had an agent, would you refer all assignments to them as in your agreement, or do you feel you should take some work without informing them?

Yes, if they are my agents, I would inform them, of course.

Q. How do you feel about magazines like Elle and Vogue, do you think they should feature more curvaceous women?

Yes, they absolutely should feature my curvaceous model! We have so much talent as well.

Q. How do you plan to change the game?

I will by whatever I feel I want to do in life. I will continue to work hard at a professional level and continue to grow as a woman. ■

celebrity do you identify with as a role model for success?

Queen Latifah, she's an incredibly talented entertainer and she's comfortable in her own skin.

Q. Have you invested money into your career?

Yes you have to invest in yourself to get anywhere in life.

Q. Do you or would you work a 9 to 5 until your career took off?

Yes, I've worked since I was 11th teen years old. Perri's Pizza, Aeropostle, Hollister, etc I was a manager of a T-Mobile store at the age of 18. I've been bartending the last three years while modeling.

Q. If you had an agent, would you refer all assignments to them as in your agreement, or do you feel you should take some work without informing them?

If I'm signed to an exclusive contract then all work would go through that agency. As I'm non-exclusive with my agency I sometimes get work that's not through my agency. I always make sure to get their opinion and approval of anyone I'm working with so that they are aware of my bookings.

Q. How do you feel about magazines like Elle and Vogue, do you think they should feature more curvaceous women?

They absolutely should! As I said earlier, thick is in! I believe if they featured more curvaceous women that their readership would expand. We all like fashion and we want to be able to view images of models that we can relate to.

Q. How do you plan to change the game?

This information is to be shown not told. With my personality, drive and determination I plan to accomplish my goals as well as becoming a role model and inspiring people with the obstacles I've had to overcome. I've been blessed with amazing family, friends and supporters to encourage me, while I'm just a player in the game until I'm successful and winning. ■

Everyday! Gotta make sure those curves don't go anywhere!

Q. Are you proud of your curves?

Very proud I lose it when I lose ONE pound.

Q. What curvaceous celebrity do you identify with as a role model for success?

Nicki Minaj.

Q. Have you invested money into your career?

Most definitely! Duh!

Q. Do you or would you work a 9 to 5 until your career took off?

I'm a full time Hooters Girl. Ain't no shame in my game!

Q. If you had an agent, would you refer all assignments to them as in your agreement, or do you feel you should take some work without informing them?

I inform him of everything. I've never been a shady person.

Q. How do you feel about magazines like Elle and Vogue? Do you think they should feature more curvaceous women?

Yes, they should feature us! We would sell the clothes and provide a more common, realistic perspective for the common, everyday beautiful women that walk the earth daily. Many of us are more beautiful than high fashion models.

Q. How do you plan to change the game?

I plan on changing people's perception on curvaceous models. We're categorized as urban celebrity models or video vixens and that's it. I want to show people that we can be more than just that. We can do everything that a size 0-4 model can do if given the opportunity. ■

Yes because their readers are women with natural curves and they would definitely relate to them better.

Q. How do you plan to change the game?

I want to show everyone how professional and successful a young urban model can be: competing in every genre of the modeling industry, proving that we have the whole package—beauty and brand! ■

LONDON

I think it might inhibit a model that is misguided and/or hasn't found where she fits within the industry. I definitely think it's key to know what direction you want your career to go in, where your starting point is in relation to the industry, and what is going to be the best way to facilitate your road to success. If you can adapt and be realistic then 40-inch hips should not make you feel like you can't model, or inhibit your dreams whatsoever.

Q. Favorite drink?

Gin & Tonic.

Q. Favorite food?

I'd probably have to say its a tie between traditional English Fish & Chips, and Brown Stew Chicken, Rice n' peas, and cabbage.

Q. Mood Music?

Anything with a chill beat and freestyle lyrics. Chris Brown "Bulshit" is like THE MOOD track right now for me, but honestly if I'm in the mood we could be listening to Boosie...It's Going Down!!!

Q. Favorite vacation spot?

Los Angeles, California. I want to retire and move to Malibu. It's so beautiful out there, you have everything you could want, beautiful beach, beautiful people, mountains and still a hot party scene. I always enjoy my trips to L.A.

Q. Favorite place to be kissed?

My lips...and not the ones I'm speaking with.

Q. Favorite body part on your man?

I don't have a man right now, but all of my ex's have had serious abs. I can't spend nights wrapped up on the couch touching on a gut...so if you ain't right in that area we're just going to...

Q. Favorite place to kiss him?

Every person is different so if I am going to be kissing on you I want to know what part of your body makes you feel the best. I like to give and I like to explore my partner and when I find that spot I make sure to never forget it.

Q. How often do you measure yourself?

Every other week pretty much, but my measurements don't go up and down as much as they used to.

Q. Are you proud of your curves?

Yes, I love my body when I was younger I did contemplate getting my boobs done, but I am very content with being an all natural curvy woman.

Q. What curvaceous celebrity do you identify with as a role model for success?

I'd have to say Beyonce is the role model that encompasses every aspect of the word curvy and the word success. There's no refusing what she has accomplished, and the obstacles that face any woman regardless of shape that she's overcome...

Q. If you had an agent, would you refer all assignments to them as in your agreement, or do you feel you should take some work without informing them?

I feel that if I want my agent to be loyal to me and I am trusting them to push my career above any other model that they do not represent, then I should be loyal to them as well. People in the business are not going to respect you or want to work with you if you show no loyalty to your own team. Being stingy and trying to block your agent from getting commission off one job only hurts you, because they work for you.

Q. How do you feel about magazines like Elle and Vogue, do you think they should feature more curvaceous women?

No, honestly I don't. I think if you want to be in Vogue or Elle, you should represent their image or be relevant enough to be featured in their magazine despite being curvier than the typical Vogue model. People need to realize this is a business, it's not about feelings, or being fair, Vogue and Elle are fashion magazines; not everyone is built for fashion, and people should accept that. Readers don't pick up Black Men's Magazine to see a size 00 model modeling the latest in couture, and I know that when I pick up Vogue I don't even pick it up to see the models period. Fashion models are there to showcase the product and most samples look best on skinny fashion models. Excel in your own lane, whatever that is.

Q. How do you plan to change the game?

I'm not here to change the game, I think the urban modeling industry has its pros and cons like any industry you might work in, but I am here to execute my plan for my career precisely and accurately so that I can expand past being a model. I sing, I host, I write, I cook, I am a multifaceted person. What I like about this side of the industry is all about making yourself the brand, and that's why the models that have personality can succeed. The game, as it is set up, already gives any upcoming model a continuously expanding audience, visibility that you don't get as a print/commercial mainstream model. It's all about how you position yourself. I'm here not to change how the urban industry is, but to take my career within this industry that much further than the next model out there. ■

Watch 2 Hot Girls Show You How To Give A Woman 3, 4, 5... Even 10 Toe-Curling Orgasms Every Single Time You Make Love... Guaranteed!

In the 2 Girls Teach Sex DVD series beautiful bi-sexual women show you - by demonstrating on each other - how to give your girl the most incredible, heart-pounding sexual experiences of her life... regardless of your size, stamina, or experience...

DVD #1: Multiple Orgasm Methods

Discover these amazing secrets to making your woman scream with pleasure:

- A special trick to use in missionary position that makes her feel you're at least 2 full inches longer and thicker inside of her
- A secret "hidden spot" inside of a woman that - when stimulated like this (see demonstration in DVD) - makes any woman cum in under a minute (Forget the "g-spot"... when you want to be absolutely CERTAIN you give her a mind blowing orgasm, this is the method to use)
- The 3 "Orgasmic Triggers" - Touch these spots before sex to get her begging to have you inside of her, then during to give her quivering multiple orgasms
- How to keep sex EXCITING long after the initial "thrill" has past (Do just these 3 little things and SHE'LL start initiating sex with you... even if you've always been the one to have to get things started before)
- A secret technique lesbians use to give a woman multiple orgasms that works even better when done by a man

DVD #2: Her Best Lover Ever

Discover the mental and emotional tricks that make your woman sexually addicted to you. You'll learn:

- A deadly mistake 77% of men make in bed that causes their woman to imagine themselves with SOMEONE ELSE - even if the guy does everything else right
- The specific order of positions you should use to give her MULTIPLE orgasms (Even if you do everything else wrong, she is guaranteed to have at least one orgasm when you use this trick)
- The rejection-free way to introduce kinky stuff like anal play, spanking, and toys

DVD #3: Advanced Sex Positions For Guaranteed Orgasms

See demonstrations of the wild new sex positions - unknown to 99% of men - that make you penetrate her deeper and hit all of the right spots. You'll learn:

- A special trick to spice up "missionary" that TRIPLES the intensity (Warning: She'll be clawing at your back and begging you for more when you use this one)
- 5 positions that force you to hit her "hot spots" at the angle that is proven to make her orgasm
- The "secret" position male adult film stars use in their private lives when they want to be sure to blow a woman's mind

Discover the exact spots you must touch on a woman's body to get her to squirt... the order to go in... and the types of ways to touch these spots that make her squirt and squirt with pleasure (All women have the ability to have squirting orgasms... now you'll be the one to give it to her!) Quantity limited to first 500 callers - use Bonus Code BM60

What Guys Are Saying About 2 Girls Teach Sex...

"I got your dvds and tried out the 1-finger orgasm technique and a few others, well let's just say I've never seen my girl scream like that before, not ever! Now we are having sex a LOT more and I love the way it's now her who's the one always hounding me for sex!" - C.W., San Antonio, TX

"I made her orgasm 6 times in one night! Man, I was more shocked than she was. I had no idea this was possible..." - J.L., Charlotte, NC
