Senorita bonita... Margarita!

There are literally dozens of fun stories about the origin of the margarita. And why not? Everyone loves to take credit for a winner and the Margarita has been the #1 selling cocktail in restaurants and bars here in the U.S. for decades. Reading them all, it's hard to discern which may actually be true and which are just tequila fueled fables dreamed up in late night cantinas. One thing for certain is that the name, as referenced to a drink, first appeared in print in an advertisement in 1945 so the first 'rita was likely shaken around 1940.

My personal favorite is the legend of Carlos Herrera, who owned a Tijuana area bar in the late 30's. It seems there was a famous dancer named Marjorie King who frequented and performed at his bar and claims to have been allergic to all types of alcohol except tequila. Oh, the horror! Being the gentleman and bar craftsman that he was, Carlos created a perfectly balanced cocktail of tequila, orange liqueur and lime juice in her honor.... Possible? Sure! Bartenders, to this day, will do all sorts of crazy things to get into the pants of hot, high maintenance strippers. OR ... sip on this; there was a popular pre-prohibition drink called the Daisy that called for Brandy, orange liqueur and lemon juice (sound familiar?). During prohibition, smuggling booze over the border from Mexico became big business. Predominant booze in Mexico? Tequila... Spanish word for Daisy? Margarita.... Not trying to be a buzz kill, I'm just sayin'!

Anyways, speaking of "buzz", let's get to it! In a way, The Margarita is like the Bloody Mary; everyone has their own special ingredient. There are also several pre-made mixes on the market for bulk and/or time saving applications (if you choose to go this route, check the labels for the ones with the highest juice content). But for the classic mixture, think 2:1:1 – 2 parts tequila, 1 part orange liqueur, and 1 part lime juice.

The Margarita

- 2 oz quality tequila (original recipes call for a blanco but you can certainly use a reposado, if you prefer)
- 1 oz orange liqueur (I like to use Cointreau)
- 1 oz fresh squeezed lime juice (if you don't have a hand citrus squeezer, go buy one. They work the best and every respectable home bar needs one)
- Shake all hard over ice and strain into a chilled cocktail coupe with half salted rim. Garnish with a lime wheel.

I mentioned that everyone has their own secret ingredient. If you like your drink a little sweet, add a half ounce of orange juice or bar syrup. For an authentic sweetener, use a half ounce of agave nectar. This is the plant that tequila is made from so it blends well and adds a nice earthy sweetness to the drink.

Now, one of my favorite taste combinations is sweet heat. The citric acid of lime juice cuts and blends nicely with the spiciness of so much Mexican food and it also works great here in my kicked up version of this classic:

Innocent Marga-HEAT-ah!

The recipe remains the same for this version – you just need to add 1 slice of jalapeno chili and a half ounce of the aforementioned agave nectar into your shaker before you shake. Make sure you shake it good and hard. The ice in the shaker should break up the jalapeno enough to bring out the oils and heat. And you need the additional sweetness of the agave in this version to balance the heat that will come from the chili. Also, float a fresh jalapeno slice in the drink for a cool presentation.

Now, just a few quick notes on the use of jalapeno: 1) the heat level of jalapenos can vary pretty dramatically from chili to chili so use caution. 2) If you like it spicier, leave the seeds in – that's where the heat is, cowboy. 3) If you like it really spicy, leave the seeds in and muddle the slice in the agave nectar before you add the other ingredients and shake. And finally, don't rub your eyes or pick your nose after handling jalapenos, when making this drink. In fact, if you are doing either of those while making any drink, I'll just have a beer, please.... No, no, I'll get it!

Cheers!

How long have you been a photographer?

How long have you worked with models?

I've been doing photography for almost 5 years now. I started in November of 2010. When I first started it was any and all type of photography, weddings, engagements, babies, families, senior portraits, etc... It wasn't until about March of 2011 that I started shooting models and by 2012, it was exclusively and only models.

What do you enjoy most about being a photographer?

Honestly, the thing that drives me is the final product, and how the final product is received by my clients/models. When they are going through the "Beans SEXI Experience" on shoot day, they are usually very excited about how the pictures will look when they are completed. But nothing compares to how most react to seeing the finished and final photos completed. Of course meeting amazing ladies and great people in the industry always is a highlight in this area of work, but at the end of the day, taking an idea from my head and seeing it all the way through to a final edit is the best feeling for me.

At what point did you realize that you wanted to pursue photography as more than a hobby?

I guess for me it had to be during my 3rd year of doing it. Things picked up for me and I was literally booked almost too much. Ladies were spreading my name and work around by word of mouth at a very rapid pace. I didn't do any advertising and all of my business was coming from friends of friends and through social media. To rise so quickly was a humbling experience since I didn't think it would take off so fast but I received so much good feedback it was obviously something I had to adjust my mindset and priorities to work with.

What kind of personality do you have?

How would your friends describe you?

Hahaha, well I'm really easy going and also outgoing! I love to laugh and live. There isn't any situation I don't feel like I can fit in with. I can talk to men or women, 8 to 80 years old, all races and backgrounds. I was raised very diverse and it shows in my personality. Most of my ladies show up to shoot as "first timers" and all are usually pretty nervous, but I've never had a lady complain about my personality or about not feeling comfortable around me after being around me. My friends would probably tell you, I'm a goofball and that I'm silly. I joke around a lot and just love to have fun and laugh. Ladies laugh at me throughout my shoots because of the phrases I say and seeing me do the poses for them is usually very, very funny and telling point about my personality. I will say it's probably hilarious to see!

What are some of your other interests or hobbies?

I absolutely LOVE art and creatives! Before photography, my first love was drawing. I loved to sketch and draw people. I have a very strong appreciation for all things that are creative and artistic. My next biggest interest would have to be computers and technology. I'm a self proclaimed nerd with a cool card. Most people would never guess that I'm a nerd from looking at me, but I can and will geek out with the best of them. As for my hobbies, when I'm not in front of a computer or behind a camera, you can usually catch me on a basketball court or in a swimming pool. I've played ball through high school and college and still love to play. I'll play until I need a wheelchair.

What surprises people about you, after they get to know you?

I think, one of the biggest surprises about me, is that I'm so silly. I'm not one of those drill sergeant photographers, and I love to cut up. I think when ladies come to shoot, they don't know what to expect, but they definitely don't expect someone that so in tune to what they want, how they feel, making sure they are having a good time and making sure they love the finished product just as much as I do.

Tell us about your first muse. How did she inspire you?

When I first started doing a lot of SEXI (my version of sexy), I shot a young lady who was really confident in herself and really wanted to create some super-hot images. Everything she did and all the ideas she had at the time were all pretty new to me (and her also because she was a newbie when she came to me), but she kept wanting to push and do more. It wasn't her work that inspired me, but it was more her want and desire and drive, to keep wanting to do more, do better, do hotter! I admire hard work and drive. It didn't hurt that she was extremely sexy and had a back arch that could raise the dead!

If you could photograph any model (living or dead), who would it be? Why?

This is easy for me... if actresses are included, hands down Kate Beckinsale. She's my definition of perfection. I have always adored her and she takes amazing photos. Now, if you're talking strictly model, then it would have to be Candice Swanepoel! I would retire my camera tomorrow if I shot her today! LOL. Candice has a look that speaks my work exactly. I love the SOFT but SEXY look in my photos and she always looks very soft and pretty in photos, but there also is never any shortage of sexy in her. For my style, she is my perfect model.

Tell us about your most memorable photo shoot.

Oh my, this is a hard question. I would probably say it was my first “real” shoot with one of the ladies that helped me get started during year one. It was special for me since it was my first time shooting her (I had my eye on working with her for a long time before that), it was my first on location shoot with a dedicated set. It was my first car shoot and it was an awesome car. A friend of mine had let me use his Bentley sports coupe for the day... but it wasn't all GREAT because I learned a lot that day. It was BLISTERINGLY hot, the sun was not playing nice with my lighting, and the wind kept blowing everything over and it was a mess. All in all, it was great day and I learned a lot while also starting a great model/photographer relationship and friendship with that particular lady!

Besides your camera body, what piece of equipment that you own do you find indispensable?

Well, other than my camera my most prized piece of equipment would have to be my Wacom graphic editing monitor/screen/tablet. I have the Cintiq 24HD Touch and I love it. Every day I sit down to use it like it's the first day. It's by far one of the best investments I've made when it comes to equipment that makes my life and workflow easier and better. Since it's a true pad, it also allows me to feel like I'm drawing (editing) directly on the photos when I work so it keeps that artistic feeling to my process. I wouldn't trade it for anything.

What photographers do you find inspirational?

Since even before I got into photography seriously, I've always been a fan of great creative work. I'm a fan of good photography even still today. I love to see what amazing work can come out of creative minds and beautiful people. The two main photographers who I influence my work directly would have to be Peter Nguyen and Sue Bryce. I absolutely adore the work they produce and constantly look to what they are doing for inspiration.

What qualities do you look for in a model?

I'm not as picky as most photographers can be when it comes to models. I don't discriminate on looks, age, gender, race, weight or any other physical trait, other than being a woman :-)... The 3 most important things to me for a model (new or experienced) to have are:

1. the want and desire to be SEXI. She has to want to WOW people. That's what my photos are all about.
2. the ability to listen, learn and share. I don't know everything, but neither does she.. So we have to work together.
3. the drive and work ethic that it takes to be successful, not just in photos but anything!

What styles of photography do you find most personally rewarding?

I love shooting glam/SEXI stuff. It's just what really interests me. I love getting the WOW or DAMN responses when I post or show my work. To be more specific, I have an ongoing series of what I call my “IDENTITY-less Series” and I love shooting for work that's for that. Most ladies who come to shoot with me come in with the want and desire to look hot. BUT most also come in with limitations, due to work, family and other situations that will not let them be as sexy as they may want or would. Well with my identity-less series, I allow them to be as sexy as they would like, since in all of those photos, tattoos are usually added or removed, hair color and length is changed and faces are never shown. So it gives them the freedom to really go for it, and photos are usually the best ones.

Tell us something funny that has happened during one of your shoots.

Oh my, she's going to kill me if she sees this... LOL. Well I was doing a project shoot and the outfit was something hand created on the model. It took us about 4 hours to get her all set and ready, most of that time she spent standing in the same stance. Her legs were spread and locked straight, arms were outstretched and straight holding on to poles that to help keep her arms up. As we were just getting ready to shoot, she tells me she needs some water and to sit down a second. On my way back from getting the water and walking towards her, she sneezes, and FAINTS immediately! She was sitting in a high chair and tumbled over completely landing face first on the floor. She awoke about 15 seconds later asking me why she was on the ground and telling me she was okay, but she had not moved an inch yet, so I was still freaking out! She eventually got up and just so happened we had video footage of the entire ordeal. She thought it was HILARIOUS then, I do now, but was terrified then.

What advice can you offer to novice or aspiring photographers?

First and foremost, KEEP SHOOTING! You'll never learn or get better if you don't shoot. Shoot friends, shoot your significant other, shoot your family; shoot anyone that is willing to give you some time and really let you work on your skills. You have to invest in yourself and not only money, but time also. Make sure that you are building good relationships with people that are helping you while you're starting. One of the biggest mistakes a lot of new (and old) photographers make is not completing the process. Going out and taking photos is just a part of the process. Learn how to edit in a timely manner and deliver your finished product on time. People won't like 100 percent of the work you produce all the time, but as long as you give them what was promised or paid for, they will always respect your work and work ethic. The skill level in shooting and editing should always be ever evolving but how you interact with the people you work with should be something that is consistent.

Red

What are some of your interests or hobbies?
I love video games, typically the classics like Mario Kart 64, and Final Fantasy 7. Apparently, a remake of FF7 has been confirmed and the official trailer was released at E3!

What is your biggest regret in life?
Fortunately I have no regrets! Maybe I have made some not-so-smart decisions, but everything I've done in life has got me to where I'm at today, and I'm pretty happy where I'm at.

What's the best job you've ever had?

The job I have currently! I work at one of the top party pools on The Strip in Las Vegas! Every day is one big party.

Video or Board Games?

Video games of course!

iPhone or Android?

Team Android all the way! iPhones break way too easily.

Heroes or Villains?

Villains! There wouldn't be heroes without them right?

How long have you been a model?

For a few years now, I started when I was 18

Tell us about your favorite photo shoot:

I think any of my shoots I have done on the beach have been some of my favorites, I love the beach but don't visit often enough. Plus I love being in a bikini! I even wear one for my job.

Do you kiss on a first date?

If he plays his cards right.

What is your favorite drink to order on a date?

Jack and water with a splash of coke. I'm not some girly girl.

What do you look for in an ideal boyfriend or partner?

Loyalty, and someone that's independent. I don't like needy boyfriends, I like to do my own thing, and he should like to do his own thing as well.

Are your boobs real?

Yes, all natural!

Do you ever go out in public without a bra?

I just did today!

What do you wear when you want to get attention?

Something that shows off my great legs and butt

What do you get complimented on the most?

I'd have to say my butt and my smile equally

What are your favorite features and body parts?

My smile. It was pretty expensive. Cost a lot of money and years wearing braces to get my teeth to where they are at.

What would you change about your body if you could?

I'm kind of on the fence about a boob job. I've gone for a consult in the past but I've just seen so many bad boob jobs lately. I'd rather not mess with anything.

What kind of personality do you have?

I'm a big introvert, although I have one of the most outgoing jobs in the world. Over time I've learned to essentially put on an 'act' at work, and appear to be super fun and outgoing. But in reality, I'd rather cuddle up with my dog and play video games.

What is the craziest place you've had sex?

On a bed of leaves out in Ruidoso.

Does size matter?

What is your personal preference?

I think it depends on the woman. Women have different sizes just like men. I think because of my size, I believe in the motion of the ocean because if a man is too big, I can't really enjoy it.

What is something that never fails to turn you on?

When a man gives me a massage. ;-)

Do you watch porn? Favorite type?

I think every girl watches porn! If they say they don't, they are lying. I like the super corny type, Doctor comes in to 'inspect' his patient kind of stuff. haha

On a scale of 1 to 10 how innocent are you?

(1 being not Innocent at all and 10 being very Innocent)

2, since I was a little girl I have always been getting into trouble. I've always been naturally very rebellious, and haven't been very good at following the rules. I don't see it as a bad thing though necessarily. I have a lot of fun ;)

Where did you attend college?

I am currently attending the University of Oregon

Where did you grow up?

What's your best memory of having grown up there?

I was born and raised in Portland. I consider myself very lucky to have been raised in such an awesome city. It is very hard to pick out one specific memory. I'd have to say the summer days I spent at the river (mostly Sauvie Island) with my friends goofing off. We often go there to swim and have some drinks. A friend of mine also has some land close by there where we would throw bonfire parties. Also, I'll always laugh looking back at participating in the naked bike races. Portland is known for its eccentric people, and I have met a few that will stick in my memory. I was riding the max one day when a lady walked on with her pet alpaca. The alpaca was taller than I was!

How would you like to be remembered?

As a free spirited, crazy girl who lived to have fun and be happy, and as someone who made a positive difference in the lives of everyone around her. I would really like to change the world for the better someday, although I am not exactly sure how just yet. I try to be the best friend and family member I can be. I am always down for an adventure, and take every opportunity I can to try new things and see the world. I would really like to be remembered for all these things.

What are some of your interests or hobbies?

My favorite hobby is scuba diving, and I wish I could do it more often. I find the ocean beautiful and amazing, I love exploring it. I also like to hike and do yoga. I like being outside and with nature. Traveling is another of my favorite things to do. I travel every chance I get. I also am happy just spending my free time with friends or going to parties.

What is your biggest regret in life?

I try not to have any regrets. I feel that I have learned from my many mistakes and have grown from each and every one. I wouldn't be the person I am today without them!

What was your most embarrassing moment?

Yikes! I've had a few. I am usually really good at public speaking and actually enjoy it. I like preforming and am comfortable on stage and in front of large groups, but for some reason one time I got up to give a speech in front of my class of 50 and totally spaced out on what to say a minute into it. I totally forgot everything I was supposed to talk about. It was only really embarrassing because I felt so stupid. I really don't get embarrassed that easily, I usually am able to just make a joke out of whatever it is and laugh it off.

If you could spend a week anywhere in the world, where would it be?

Definitely somewhere in Asia. Thailand would be awesome, or Myanmar because those countries are so different from America. I love experiencing other cultures, and Asia has so much unique, vibrant culture. It's at the top of my travel list.

If you could have any job in the world what would it be?

I would love love love to be a big time actress. Otherwise, a well-known journalist. I always thought it would be amazing to work for a company such as national geographic and get paid to travel.

What is your favorite color?

Blue and Red are tied for my favorite color.

Do you have any phobias?

Being trapped and heights. Both terrify me.

What are your top 5 favorite movies?

Pulp Fiction, Django, Kill Bill, Law Abiding Citizen and Inglorious Bastards. I love Quentin Tarantino, can you tell? :P

Who is your favorite Disney princess?

Pocahontas. She's beautiful, full of spirit, and daring.

Who is your favorite James Bond actor?

I was never into James Bond as much as anyone else. I'll go with Daniel Craig though, because I liked his acting in the James Bond movies and the other films I've seen him in.

Video or Board Games?

Video. Board games = Bored Games. They are boring...

Cash or Credit?

Cash! I try and avoid debt as best I can.

Fire or Ice?

Fire. You could survive in the wilderness without ice, but fire is a must... Plus, I love s'mores!

Love or Lust?

Love and lust. But I have to choose one, don't I? Love

Bacon or Sausage?

Sausage, although they are both soooo good.

iPhone or Droid?

iPhone. They are easy to use and can do just about anything.

Books or Movies?

Books. Although I always love a good movie.

Batman or Superman?

Batman, no doubt

How did you get started with modeling?

I always had people tell me that I was photogenic and should give it a try. Also, I love to preform and be in front of the camera so it seemed like something I'd be good at and should try. So I gave it a shot! I found some photographers and started building my portfolio.

Tell us about your favorite photo shoot:

I was working with a photographer on a big pin up project he was doing. We had a bunch of really cute outfits and awesome props and did a bunch of different shoots with them. In one of them I modeled an adorable pin up outfit with a picnic setting. We had a bubble machine as well. We played some good music and just had an awesome time. This was my favorite shoot because I had so much fun with the props and the pictures came out really good. I also especially enjoyed the shoots I have done at the river. I love modeling in the water.

What other models do you look up to, stalk or are secretly in love with?

I don't have any tattoos besides a small one on my ankle, but I absolutely love the models in Inked magazine. I just think they are all so beautiful.

What would you like to be known for?

Swimsuit and fitness modeling are the two I would be known for if I could choose. I also like doing artistic shots and fashion/ glamour type work.

What kind of personality do you have?

How would your friends describe you?

I am kind and never judgmental. I am stubborn and lively as well and quite adventurous. I am laid back and easy going, but I take my work very seriously. My friends would definitely describe me as unique and goofy, and very loyal.

What surprises people about you, after they get to know you?

That I am a total weirdo on the inside;) haha. Also that I am very spiritual.

Do you kiss on a first date?

Totally depends on how the date went! I see nothing wrong with a good smooch at the end of the night if all went well ;P

Describe your ideal date....

Where would you go? What would you do?

Something new and exciting. Sky diving would be wild! That would be an amazing date. Going scuba diving together is another good one. If I don't have the money for something like that, going to the river and jumping off the rocks is always fun.

What is your favorite drink to order on a date?

I like Bloody Marys any place, any time.

What do you look for in an ideal boyfriend or partner?

Maturity, intelligence, compassion, and liveliness. He's also got to be a bit of a bad boy

Are your boobs real?

For now ;)

If it's just a quick errand, of course! Why not?

What do you wear when you want to get attention?

I'll put on a nice, tight fitting dress with some tall high heels and my leather jacket.

What do you get complimented on the most?

My hair, eyes, and my butt.

What are your favorite features and body parts?

It feels amazing!

What is the craziest place you've had sex?

Me and my boyfriend at the time decided to do something crazy and get it on while waiting at the taco bell drive through! It was awkward and super short, but it was fun.

Do you like it rough or sensual?

I love both! Depends on what I'm in the mood for, but usually I want it rough.

Have you ever had a 3-some?

Nope, but I would be willing to

Does size matter? What is your personal preference?

Sorta. If a guy is super small then there is a problem, but I can be reasonable. My preference is 7 inches.

What are your favorite sexual positions?

Doggy style

Do you have any special talents?

I have been told multiple times that I give the best head and make the best sounds.

Do you like oral sex? Giving or Receiving?

I like giving and receiving. It turns me on to pleasure my partner and of course getting head feels incredible.

Sex on the beach and sex with a black man.

Sometimes! I am mostly straight, but the girl on girl really turns me on for some reason.

Describe your ideal date...

Great wine> great food> great conversation> great sex (assuming this is someone I've been dating)

Where would you go and what would you do?

I love adventures, great meals, and simple activities like hiking. There is not one ideal place or activity.

What is your favorite drink to order on a date?

I love red wine. I am currently ordering gin and tonics as my go-to, but before that it was a Moscow Mule. I love trying the different "specialty cocktails" at new bars and lounges.

What do you look for in an ideal boyfriend or partner?

Intelligence, consideration, chemistry

Are your boobs real?

Yes, but I wear push-up bras if I desire an extra omph.

Do you ever go out in public without a bra?

Yes

What do you wear when you want to get attention?

Red

What do you get complimented on the most?

Totally depends on the man, and my weight. I have an hourglass figure, so I'll get curves if I don't need to be a zero for the market I am in.

What are your favorite features and body parts?

I like that I have a consistently small waist. I wear wrap dresses and waist belts, frequently, to show it off.

What would you change about your body if you could?

I have a balanced body, but I love the look of girls with short torsos and long legs. I supposed I would like proportionally longer legs.

What kind of personality do you have?

According to one personality test, I'm the "investigator"! I have always wanted to "why?" about everything. I'm not shy, but I am an introvert. I have a dry sense of humor, outspoken, strong sense loyalty, and am high in sensation-seeking.

What surprises people about you, after they get to know you?

I hear that I am "unique" a lot. I am bit of a nerd and have traits and interests people unfortunately don't expect from tall blonde in our culture.

How long is your tongue?

Check my Instagram ;P

What do you like most about sex?

The endorphins?

What is the craziest place you've had sex?

When I was 17 I went with some friends and a lover to the islands in Thailand, over Thai New Year. The energy is crazy everywhere for them then. We were drinking in a beach bar where you just walk out into the sea, and Thai custom is to dump buckets of water (or drinks) on each other at this time. My lover and I went into the water and swam, past the netting for swimmers, to a boat anchored offshore we climbed on and... you get the picture.

Do you like it rough or sensual?

Not too far in either direction!

Have you ever had a 3-some?

No

Does size matter?

Case by case basis.

What are your favorite sexual positions?

Variety

Do you have any favorite toys?

I love lingerie

What is something that never fails to turn you on?

Intelligence

Do you have any special talents?

You would need to ask my partner...

Do you like oral sex?

As an addition to, not substitute for sex.

Giving or Receiving?

Both

Do you watch porn?

I've sampled it, but doesn't do much for me.

Favorite type?

I prefer reading erotica.
