MOCK DRAFT

1. Tampa Bay

Jameis Winston, QB – Florida State

Lovie Smith gets the QB to lead his team and WR's Vincent Jackson and Mike Evans have someone who can get the rock out to them.

2. San Diego via Tennessee (Projected Draft Day Trade)

Marcus Mariota, QB – Oregon

The only people mildly surprised by this trade and pick are the reporters in the Chargers press pool. San Diego gets its quarterback of the future and Rivers returns closer to his home roots.

3. Jacksonville

Leonard Williams, DE – USC

The best player in the draft. He was dominant in college and all signs show he will be just as dominant in the pros.

4. Oakland

Amari Cooper, WR – Alabama

The guy is a stud. Guaranteed future Pro-Bowler. Can't miss. Oakland would be crazy to pass over him.

5. Washington

Dante Fowler, Jr., LB – Florida

One of the most talented players in the draft. He will be a force to reckon with for years to come in the tough NFC East.

6. New York Jets

Brandon Scherff, OL – Iowa

As tempting as it may be to reunite QB Geno Smith with his fellow Mountaineer Kevin White, the Jets choose to address a different weakness. The team fixed their defensive holes in free agency and addressed one of their glaring offensive needs at WR by trading for Brandon Marshall. Now, it's time to finish the task of fixing one of the two remaining weaknesses and that is their offensive line. The other weakness at QB will have to wait till 2016.

7. Chicago

Kevin White, WR – West Virginia

With his favorite target jettisoned to the greener pastures of New York, QB Jay Cutler is awarded a new target in a WR many regard as the most talented in the draft class.

8. Minnesota Via Trade with Atlanta

Trae Waynes, CB – Michigan State

A lot of speedy and talented receivers in the NFC North and the Vikings trade up to grab the top shut down corner in this year's draft.

9. New York Giants

Arik Armstead, DL – Oregon

The Giants love defensive lineman who are agile with a wide wingspan and Arik fits the bill. ESPN draftniks Kiper and McShay go nuts saying the Giants reached.

10. St. Louis

DeVante Parker, WR – Louisville

New Rams QB Kevin Foles needs some targets to throw the rock to and head coach Fisher delivers with the wide-out from Louisville.

11. Atlanta via Trade with Minnesota

Shaq Thompson, Athlete – Washington

Taking a page out of the Seahawks draft book, with his first selection as the new head coach of the Falcons, Dan Quinn drafts an athlete, not a need. The only reason Thompson is still on the board is the debate in NFL draft rooms as to what position he would played in the NFL. Coach Quinn finds the best athlete on the board and knows the position will find him.

12. Cleveland

Danny Shelton, NT – Washington

All of a sudden the Steelers, Ravens and Bengals have found it tougher to run the ball up the middle on the Browns who find a dominant run-stuffer for their D.

13. New Orleans

Vic Beasley, LB – Clemson

A projected top 5 pick, Beasley slides out of the top 10 and the Saints snatch him. One of the quickest linebackers in the draft but body strength questions abound.

14. Miami Dolphins

Dorial Green-Beckham, WR

QB Ryan Tannehill needs someone to catch his passes in South Beach. Green-Beckham has too much upside to pass over for only a marginally safer choice in WR Perriman.

15. San Francisco

Alvin Dupree, LB – Kentucky

Draftniks have Dupree being taken all over the board. We're convinced the 49ers ownership and management don't have a clue and settle on Dupree. That is, if they turn their card in on time before the clock expires.

16. Houston

Marcus Peters, CB – Washington

The third Huskie from the defense to go in the first round. With all this talent you would have thought the Huskies would have been played in the National Championship game this past January. Oh, that's right. You need to score too. Some say Peters is more of shut down corner than Waynes. Time will tell.

17. Tennessee via San Diego (Projected Draft Day Trade)

Todd Gurley, RB - Georgia

Not only does head coach Ken Whisenhunt get the QB to lead his team, via his trade for Phillip Rivers from the Chargers, but he also finds a stud back for his running game.

18. Kansas City

Randy Gregory, LB – Nebraska

We could have had easily had the Saints or 49ers taking Gregory but recent character questions take him out of the running with those teams. Chiefs head coach Andy Reid believes he got the most talented LB in the draft.

19. Cleveland via Buffalo

Shane Ray, LB – Missouri

The draft is deep in LB's. Ray is another prospect whom draftniks have as a top 10 prospect. We see Ray as the fifth best LB in the draft.

20. Philadelphia

Kevin Johnson, CB – Wake Forest

Who really knows what Chip Kelley will do with this pick? It wouldn't surprise us if the Eagles packaged picks to trade up to take one of the stud LB's or WR's.

21. Cincinnati

Andrus Peat, OT – Stanford

QB Andy Dalton receives a little more protection upfront. Keep that franchise QB upright young man.

22. Pittsburgh

Landon Collins, S – Alabama

Of all the first round picks, this is one we are taking to the bank; unless a team trades up to grab Collins before the Steelers, saying the Patriots. The Steelers find an immediate replacement for future Hall of Famer Polamalu and head coach Tomlin's defense doesn't skip a beat.

23. Detroit

La'el Collins, OT - LSU

A position change is in order for this talented player. The Lions need to improve their line play and add an immediate starter in Collins.

24. Arizona

Cameron Erving, OL – Florida State

Not even a top 50 prospect on some draft boards Erving has tremendous upside as he is still learning the possession.

25. Carolina

Jaelen Strong, WR - Arizona State

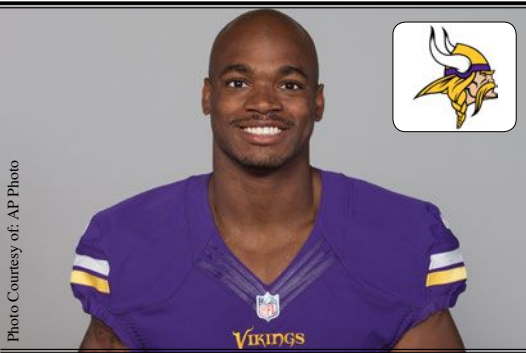

A projected second round prospect by many draftniks, the Panthers need receivers and add the best available WR on the board.

26. Baltimore

Malcom Brown, DT - Texas

The Ravens were faced with the decision of replacing RB Ray Rice or NT Haloti Ngata. In the end, the defense won out and they chose a new body to plug the middle of the line.

27. Minnesota via Trade Dallas

Melvin Gordon, RB Wisconsin

The Vikings grant RB Adrian Peterson his wish and send him off to Dallas in exchange for this pick where they gladly find AP's replacement for the next 6 to 7 years in Gordon.

28. Denver

D.J. Humphries, OT – Florida

Protect Peyton Manning. That is all that is going through the offices in Dove Valley right now. Find bodies to protect Manning.

29. Indianapolis

Breshad Perriman, WR – Central Florida

More weapons for QB Andrew Luck, why not! The rich get richer. The luxury of a stacked squad. You build depth.

30. Green Bay

Erick Kendricks, LB – UCLA\

Green Bay adds a solid player to the LB corps. Kendricks will bring the toughness and smarts necessary to play in the NFC North.

31. New Orleans from Seattle

Eddie Goldman, DT – Florida State

A top 20 prospect Goldman almost falls out of the first round. The Saints needing help on their D pick up a solid player.

32. New England

Jalen Collins, CB – LSU

The third player with the last name Collins drafted in the first round. Coach Belichick begins the process of replacing the corners he lost in free agency.

WHY WE LOVE HORSE RACING

When you think of all-stars you immediately think of sports. At least, we do. What better model to cover our all-stars edition than a woman who knows more about sports than the collective editorial team of Kandy. Gentlemen, meet your May cover model and Kandy all-star Bonnie-Jill Laflin.

Hi Bonnie-Jill. Fill us in on what's new since your last Kandy cover in October.

Sure. I covered the Super Bowl and the NBA All-Star Game, as well as hosted a party at the NFL Combine. I always have something going on – right now, I'm working on my new podcast, correspondent for Bleacher Report, and I just shot and am starring in Toby Keith's new video for his upcoming tour. I'm also working on new designs for my clothing line and two upcoming military events for my charity - Hounds and Heroes. Of course, I'm always saving animals including, most recently, a horse from slaughter.

Your SF Giants won yet another World Series title. What's your take on this year's team?

They definitely established a dynasty by winning three titles in five years. Right now I would grade them an incomplete as both Hunter Pence and Matt Cain haven't played an inning this year. Once they are back and with stellar pitching plus timely hitting, they could make the playoffs. These days it's highly unlikely to go back to back but you never give up on Bruce Bochy – the best skipper in baseball – and the boys!

The NFL draft is coming up. As a 49ers and Cowboys fan, what holes are you hoping the teams fill?

The 49ers had a very disastrous off-season, losing two cornerbacks to free agency, two devastating retirements and firing one of the best coaches in the NFL. The Niners main concerns are at cornerback, outside linebacker, and adding a young speedy receiver. As for the Cowboys, they ended the season 12-4 but will have to address multiple areas starting with the defensive line as they need to strengthen the pass rush. Other areas are cornerback, running back and linebacker.

It's been a tough season for your Lakers. What are your hopes for the team in the off-season?

A healthy and productive return for Kobe Bryant, a lottery pick that can impact the team's success right away, and hopefully signing a big free agent that can contribute right away!

As a horse racing fan give us three horses to watch as possible Triple Crown contenders.

This year shapes up as a contentious race, as the Derby is always a tough field to pick. Dortmund and American Pharaoh will be the obvious favorites but I like Dortmund better... based on his races against better competition. With the Derby being a large field it becomes a jockey's race and I like to go with a long shot in Far Right as there is no one better than Mike Smith in big races.

In your opinion, what is the most magical part of the Kentucky Derby?

This is my twelfth consecutive derby! Kentucky is the mecca of horseracing, and with this being the 141st Kentucky Derby you can see how the history of this race seems to contribute to its continued popularity. The southern hospitality, big hats and suits, and mint juleps are all part of the experience... and one hundred thousand people singing My Old Kentucky Home while the horses parade onto the dirt just gives you chills! It's the first leg of the Triple Crown and the greatest two minutes in sports! I hope one day my father and I can have a horse run for the roses.

Of the southern California horse racing venues, which is your favorite?

Del Mar is my favorite, and I am fortunate enough to cover opening day for FOX Sports.

Opening day at Del Mar is similar to the KY Derby with all the ladies in their big hats and men in their best. It's got a rich tradition and beautiful scenery. As Bing Crosby says "Where the Surf meets the Turf"...

Which SOCAL race is your favorite each season?

It used to be the Hollywood Gold Cup but since Hollywood Park closed... I would have to say the Pacific Classic at Del Mar.

How many takes of the opening video of your Kandy shoot did it take to get the horse to behave on cue?

Just one take... I've been around horses all my life so I'm basically the horse whisperer.

What's next up for Bonnie-Jill?

It seems like there is something coming up... I will be covering the NBA Finals, off-season and NBA Summer League for my venture in China, MuhoTV. Some new NFL and MLB segments for Bleacher Report, writing a children's book and as I mentioned previously I will be covering opening day again for FOX Sports at Del Mar... much more to come!

ALL-STARS

Welcome to the First Annual Kandy Girls All-Stars Squads. The squads combine a wide array of veteran talent from our early formative years with today's young, emerging Kandy discoveries. Enjoy this quick trip through Kandy's history.

How The Kandy All-Stars Squads Were Compiled

1. Kandy's editorial department nominated 70 Kandy girls to consider for the squads.
2. Individual members of Kandy's management, in a draft format, selected girls for their squads.
3. There were six rounds and thirty models assigned to five different squads.
4. The draft order shifted round to round.
5. Kandy girls nominations were based on a variety of factors:
 - a. Cover models and Krushes of the Month were automatically nominated.
 - b. Other Kandy girls eligibility was established using one or more of these factors
 - i. Being published in Kandy
 - ii. Kandy allegiance
 - iii. Kandy promotion on social media and/or at Kandy events.

The team owners weigh in on the thought process behind their selections, a few comments on why they are a Kandy All-star, and their view on the overall makeup of their team.

Team Diamond

Our team is deep with veteran talent, led by our very first Kandy girl Tiffany Selby. If you are looking for star power just take one look at this roster, top to bottom. And, I mean TOP to BOTTOM.

Team Stiletto

Team Diamond may be laden with veterans but it is Team Stiletto that brings the sparkle. The roster is a perfect mixture of ladies that give Kandy the depth our readers love.

Team Sass

Is there a more appropriate team name? I've got the wild Aussie, the Huntington Beach surfer chick, the Persian Barbie, and the Chicago temptress mixed in with two hot Krushes of the Month. Bring it on!

Team Sapphire

Without a doubt, our squad has mined the deepest Kandy girls roster. I'll take my girls any day in a throwdown, whether it is on the runway in LA or in an alley on the Chicago Southside.

Team Lace

Teams Sass and Sapphire can duke it out all they want, my girls and I are jetting off to the south of France and do what the natives do. I may be the last one to the party but I've assembled the most complete roster. Gentlemen, enjoy your brawls! The ladies and I are off to Nice. Au Revoir!

Team Diamond Captain

Tiffany Selby

Tiffany set the standard for future Kandy girls. No words can express our appreciation to Tiffany for helping us launch Kandy. This one-piece suit that Tiffany is wearing is still my favorite all-time swimsuit. Regardless of the year, she will always be my number one overall pick.

Team Diamond

Irina Voronina

Our first ever Krush of the Year and best-selling cover model in 2012, Irina belongs to a very rare Kandy club, the 3-timers club - cover models that have appeared on the cover of Kandy three times or more. Irina also rocked our 2012 World of Kandy video in her string bikini. A professional model, Irina delivers a wide array of looks, as her three Kandy covers show.

★★★★★
Team Diamond

Rachel Bernstein

One of the most beautiful women to ever grace the cover of Kandy, Rachel, professionally known as Sunset Blonde, is an all-natural beauty. Her 2013 year-end Kandy cover remains one of my all-time favorite Kandy covers.

Team Diamond

Dominica Westling

We've said it many times in the past and we'll keep saying it – all she does is sell magazines. Whether it is her striking Swedish bombshell features or her mesmerizing blue eyes or the voyeur-istic feeling you have when you look at her photos and she is looking away from the camera, whatever IT may be, fans of Kandy love Dominica.

Team Diamond

Colleen Shannon

The sweetest cover model you will ever meet. Despite all the accolades and career accomplishments, Colleen Shannon is as humble and sweet as your grade school crush. She continually reminds her fans and social media followers that she is a proud Kandy girl.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★
Team Diamond

Leanna Decker

Leanna did a tremendous job of promoting her feature in Kandy. Plus, every team needs a redhead as well.

WARNER BROS. PICTURES

Team Stiletto Captain

Emily Sears

Our first Australian cover model she spearheaded the Australian invasion of the pages of Kandy. Her social media popularity has soared in the past year as she merged the outer limits of modeling with mainstream commercial brands. Whenever Emily mentions Kandy we see a spike in Kandy traffic. No doubt in my mind she is the top pick.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★
Team Stiletto

Claudia Fijal

Claudia has been with Kandy since the beginning. We've grown up together so to speak. Claudia was one of our first Girls of the Week on our web site and then one of the very first Krushes of the Month. Last year's runner-up for Krush of the Year, and a finalist again this year, Claudia is always looking for new avenues to build the Kandy brand. Oh, and she loves Louboutins so she makes the perfect Team Stiletto member.

Team Stiletto

Elizabeth Deo

Elizabeth has been with Kandy since the beginning, first appearing in our 2012 World of Kandy video. She graced the February 2014 cover and rocked Kandy booty shorts on a LA subway that caused quite the stir. She has always been down to do whatever is necessary and is a consistent attendee at our events.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★
Team Stiletto

Brande Roderick

The first celebrity to grace the cover of Kandy Brande is a personal friend of one of the owners of Kandy. Her January 2014 Kandy jumpstarted a big year.

Team Stiletto

Sarah Hilton

The second Aussie to make my team, Sarah, although new to the Kandy family, has been a great ambassador thus far. She does a great job of promoting Kandy through her social media.

Kandy®

CLOTHING

WWW.SHOPKANDY.COM

Team Sass Captain

Laurie Young

In my opinion, a Kandy VIP. She's a fantastic brand ambassador, spokes model and the leader of our racing girls team. Wherever Laurie goes, comedy and adventure follow. Loyal to the Kandy brand and a gamer for whatever Kandy needs done. Without question, my number one pick.

Team Sass

April Rose

I mentioned Chicago temptress in my team recap. Here she is – Miss April Rose. Stunning. Striking. Legs for days! She is relevant and current, a STAR on the rise, as well-rounded & versatile as any Kandy girl. She knows what guys want – cars, sports, sex. She is the ultimate female package. Without question, an all-time top 10 Kandy girl and way overdue for another Kandy cover.

★★★★★
Team Sass

Melissa Riso

She is just Melissa, what more needs to be said. Stunning and a great face for the brand. How many Kandy girls can say they appeared in a commercial for Pepsi during the Super Bowl? One of only a handful of Kandy girls who have been on the cover of Kandy and a Krush of the Month.

Team Sass

Jessica Cribbon

Where would Kandy be without our Aussie girls? Not about to let Team Stiletto horde all the Aussie girls. Jessica is not the typical Kandy blonde or the typical Kandy girl. Her Snapchat account is wild and she definitely brings a much needed spice to Kandy. Long overdue for another Kandy cover.

Team Sass

Hope Rain

A newbie to the Kandy family, Hope has done a fantastic job of promoting Kandy in her short time with us. Looking forward to big things from Hope in the future.

Team Sass

Niki Ghazian

The OPB, Original Persian Barbie, Niki has been a tremendous Kandy ambassador since our beginnings, appearing in the very first Kandy issue and our World of Kandy video. Don't let her Persian Barbie knock out looks fool you, Niki is a practicing attorney in the state of California.

She's my number one. Always! Although Team Sass may be a more appropriate team for Alexa to belong to we will gladly have her lead Team Sapphire. Alexa lives by one rule – Alexa does what Alexa wants and I'm good with that. Confidence is the ultimate aphrodisiac.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★
Team Sapphire

Adrienn Levai

If Adrienn resided in America I don't see how she would not have been a finalist for Krush of the Year. She promotes Kandy in every post. And her body. What a bod!

★★★★★
Team Sapphire

Jessa Hinton

In a word, HOT!! Our 2013 Swimsuit issue cover model Jessa is simply hot. Have you seen her antics on Instagram?! Pure, non-stop entertainment. My only question to the Editor in Chief is when is Jessa appearing on the cover of Kandy again? I'm sure our readers want to know!

Ohmg!!! One of my fav' Kandy spreads in 2014. Her Instagram posts are the most vivid and stimulating of any I have found. Let me just say the girl has curves and knows how to use them.

Team Sapphire

Abigail Ratchford

Team Sapphire

Nina Carla

The 3rd 2013 Kandy swimsuit issue model to make my team, Nina is a fantastic Kandy ambassador. She always makes it out to our events and is a consistent promoter of Kandy on social media.

Rounding out my all-star Kandy squad is the striking Sierra. My roster may be filled with curves but Sierra balances that all out with her incredibly tone physique. I only wished all mothers of two looked this good when they hit the gym. [Editor's Note: Sierra is also a veteran of our World of Kandy video.]

In a question to my fellow team owners, how is Jessica not the #1 overall Kandy girl ever?! She brought a new standard to Kandy as our second Krush of the Year. She is a tremendous advocate of the Kandy brand and the ultimate professional. She is a class act all around.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★
Team Lace

Marissa Everhart

A newbie to the Kandy family, in short amount of time she has shown herself to be a great Kandy ambassador, earning her way as one of two 2015 Krush of the Year finalists. Marissa's September 2014 Krush of the Month pictorial stirred memories of a young Pamela Anderson for many Kandy readers.

Team Lace

Lucy Miller

A newbies of newbies. Lucy has quickly climbed the ranks of Kandy, climbing her way up from the Kandygram pages to Krush of the Month. She immediately carved out a place in the hearts of the Kandy men when she made a surprise appearance at our Heels and Horsepower red carpet gala in Las Vegas.

Team Lace

April Cheryse

April joined the Kandy roster midyear in 2014 and made an immediate splash with her July Krush of the Month pictorial. She was a big hit with the readers and in a short amount of time proved herself to be a valuable Kandy ambassador.

HEY look who is on the cover of Kandy this month for the second time. A late round steal for my team, Bonnie-Jill knows more about sports than 99% of the guys I know. She is a tireless worker who gives a lot of her time to charities. She is an invaluable addition to the Kandy family.

Team Lace

Bonnie-Jill Laflin

Team Lace

Kyndal K'yarie

Kyndal belongs to a very exclusive Kandy club; she is both a cover model and Krush of the Month. When she made her very first Kandy public appearance at last year's Sweet 60 event in Hollywood, the room filled with celebs and athletes paused and took notice.
